RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. LAYER. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 50.

In the House of Representatives, May 14, 1947.

Recently, United States Senator Edward Martin was called from the floor of the Senate to meet a delegation of Pennsylvania Communists attending that party's veterans' convention. Since they were Pennsylvanians, Senator Martin heard what they had to say.

At the same time, the Senator impressed upon this group his beliefs as to certain of their activities.

Emphatically, he stated that he would at no time discuss the welfare of American veterans with any group upholding or representing the communistic philosophy, and that he would seek advice concerning veterans' needs only from recognized veterans' organizations and patriotic unaffiliated groups.

In short, Senator Martin condemned the use of the uniform or veteran status as a cloak behind which to advance communistic ideas in the guise of aid to veterans, and inferentially pointed out the infiltration tactics used as a common weapon by communists; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania commends and congratulates Senator Edward Martin for the forthright stand he has taken on the above occasion, and at every other opportunity, against a threat to our country, every citizen, and every veteran must always counter and thrust back, regardless of the attractive form in which it is presented; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to United States Senators Edward Martin and Francis Myers, and to each member of the Pennsylvania delegation in the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. HENRY. RESOLUTION No. 51.

In the House of Representatives, May 14, 1947.

Whereas, The motives of the British Government in submitting the Palestine issue to the United Nations have been laid open to question by the public admission of British official spokesmen that Great Britain will not be bound to accept the United Nation's recommendations on Palestine; and

Whereas, By its refusal to implement the Anglo-American Committee of Inquiry's unanimous recommendation that 100,000 homeless Jews be admitted into Palestine immediately—despite the assurance of British Foreign Secretary Bevin that unanimous recommendations would be acted upon without delay—the British Government has demonstrated that it will accept the decisions of international bodies only when such decisions harmonize with Britain's present illegal policy on Palestine; and

Whereas, The British Government's action in referring the question of Palestine to the United Nations is, therefore, the latest in a long series of delaying tactics, designed to evade Great Britain's clear obligations under the terms of the Balfour Declaration and the Mandate for Palestine; and

Whereas, The British Government is today enforcing the 1939 White Paper policy, declared illegal by the Permanent Mandates Commission of the League of Nations and condemned by men of good will in every land; and

Whereas, That policy has produced indescribable suffering and hardship for the homeless Jewish victims of Nazi persecution who still wait for deliverance in the Displaced Persons' Camps of Europe, and has also converted the Jewish National Home into an armed camp where the British Administration imposes totalitarian measures of repression against the entire Jewish community; and

Whereas, The mass deportation to Cyprus of homeless Jews seeking to reach their internationally-guaranteed Homeland is a flagrant violation of every moral concept of the democratic world; and

Whereas, The Government and people of the United States of America, through the passage of Resolutions in both Houses of Congress, through planks in the platforms of both major political parties, and through declarations of the Presidents of the United States, are committed to the policy laid down by the framers of the Palestine Mandate; free Jewish immigration into Palestine so that the Jewish people may reconstitute that country as a free and democratic Jewish commonwealth; and

Whereas, The Jewish people throughout the world, together with millions of American citizens of all races and creeds, now look to the United States to demonstrate that it is resolved to uphold the Palestine policy which it has pledged to support, and thus bring justice to long-suffering and tragically persecuted people; and

Whereas, Such a stand by the United States would nullify the British Government's current attempt to employ the United Nations as a delaying device and to seek international sanction for its present illegal policy on Palestine; therefore be it

Resolved, That we respectfully call upon the President of the United States to take all necessary steps to insure that during the forthcoming special session of the General Assembly of the United Nations the delegate of the United States shall advocate the program for Palestine which our country has reaffirmed time and again; and be it further

Resolved, That we call upon the President of the United States to bring the great weight of the United States Government to bear on the Mandatory Government to the end that pending a final settlement of the Palestine issue by the United Nations, an interim policy based upon the terms of the existing Mandate for Palestine be set into motion at once—a policy providing for immediate large-scale Jewish immigration into Palestine and the removal forthwith of the discriminatory land restrictions in the Jewish National Home; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this Resolution go forward to the President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Under Secretary of State, the American Delegate to the General Assembly of the United Nations, and members of both Houses of the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. McCULLOUGH. RESOLUTION No. 52

In the House of Representatives, May 13, 1947.

Whereas, There is considerable real property located in the various political subdivisions of this Commonwealth which under the existing Constitution and laws thereof has been exempt by the General Assembly from taxation; and such exemption has resulted in a loss not only of revenue to the various political subdivisions and school districts therein, but also has created hardships and difficulties relative to the meeting by such political subdivisions and school districts of their obligations and other duties; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to study, investigate and devise ways and means of solving the problems relating to tax exempt property in general and more specifically with reference to the effect of such exemptions on revenues of the various school districts; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall report its findings and conclusions to the next regular session of the General Assembly together with such proposed legislation as it may devise to carry out its recommendations.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to survey, investigate, and consider all of the laws relating to mental health, and to revise and restate completely such mental health laws in codified form, and to report its findings and conclusions to the next regular session of the General Assembly, with a bill embodying a codification of the mental health laws to be introduced at the next regular session of the General Assembly.

L. 756) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal-mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" by further regulating barrier pillars

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section five of article three of the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 756) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal-mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" as amended by the act approved the tenth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 472) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 5 The superintendent shall not permit the mining of coal within fifty feet of any abandoned mine or a abandoned portion of any mine containing a dangerous accumulation of water until said danger has been removed by driving a passageway to tap and drain off said water as provided for in this act The superintendent shall not permit the mining of coal in any seam the entire distance to a property boundary line (not including boundaries around reservations or along crop lines) [when on the adjoining property there are mine workings in said seam within three thousand feet of said boundary line] but shall leave a barrier pillar from the operation to the property boundary line of not less than ten feet plus two feet for every foot or part of a foot of thickness of the bed measured from the roof to the floor plus five feet for each one hundred feet or part of one hundred feet of cover over the bed at the boundary line and where the coal on one side of the property boundary line shall have been mined prior to the passage of this act closer to the property boundary line than hereinbefore permitted the barrier pillar to be left in the mine approaching the boundary line shall be at least equal (when added to the already left in the adjoining mine) to that hereinbefore required on both sides of said property boundary line. Provided That if in the opinion of the district mine inspector or the superintendent of either mining property the barrier pillar as hereinbefore required is deemed insufficient then after due notice to the operator or operators of the mining property adjoining a barrier pillar of unmined coal (one-half of which shall be on each side of the property boundary line except as provided above in this section) shall be left of such thickness as in the judgment of the district mine inspector and the superintendent or owner of either mining property is deemed necessary to afford safety and protection. And provided further That if it shall be agreed by the district mine inspector and superintendents of such adjoining coal mining properties that such property boundary line is so located that there is no danger to property or lives in mining coal on either or both sides of the property boundary line up to said property boundary line then in such cases mining to the property boundary line shall be lawful if all danger from accumulated water and gas shall have first been removed by driving a passageway to tap and drain off any accumulations of water and gas as provided for in this act. Provided That if any of the parties in interest fail to agree on the carrying out of any of the provisions of this act any one of said parties may appeal to the Secretary of Mines who shall appoint three reputable and competent ining engineers who shall constitute a commission whose duty it shall be to investigate the conditions and determine the necessity for leaving barrier pillars or barrier pillar of greater thickness than is provided for in this act or the adequacy of an existing pillar to withstand a water head; the case may be and the decision of said commission by a majority of its members shall be final and conclusive and binding on all parties concerned. The members of the said commission shall be compensated for their services by the property owners in an amount to be fixed by the Secretary of Mines. Before any such appeal to the Secretary of Mines is taken notice thereof in writing shall be served personally or by registered mail on the opposite party setting forth the date when such appeal shall be taken and proof of the service of such notice shall be filed with the appeal.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. WATKINS asked and obtained permission for the Committee on State Government to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the current biennium ends in approximately fifteen days. The budget submitted to the General Assembly on March 11 of this year by the Governor was at least in part affected by collections made by the Commonwealth up to January 1st of this year. The Governor's budget was also affected by estimates of the collections to be made by the Commonwealth during the first five months of this year, the last five months of the biennium.

It is now possible, Members of the House, to compare budget estimates of receipts during the present biennium with the amounts actually collected or to be collected. What do the figures show? Have the collections exceeded the budget estimates, and if so in what amounts?

Mr. Speaker, I consider that a very important matter, in view of the financial problems that the State is facing. Have the budget estimates as to collections stood up? Have collections fallen below the estimates on which the Governor's budget this year was based, or has it been exceeded?

Obviously the excess will be, if any, in the general fund subject for use. We ought to have in addition all of the money in all of the accounts subject to reappropriation. This House cannot handle intelligently the problems that it is facing unless it has, first, the estimate of receipts during the coming biennium, and second, how much money at the end of this biennium will be available for reappropriation.

As I say, it is now possible at this period of the State's biennium to determine those figures. Now, this House was assured yesterday that the Administration would make a statement in which it would definitely outline its educational program. The statement was made initially to the press. After the gentlemen of the press had had the opportunity to peruse it and publicize it, the Members of this House were acquainted with the details as to the extent to which His Excellency the Governor had administered an executive spanking.

Now, using whatever authoritative data which he has in mind, will the Majority Leader during the coming week inform this House concerning the teachers' mandated salary schedules which the Governor favors, quoting actual figures.

I fail to find that even in the message or the statement which has been filed with this House. If the Governor doesn't like the schedule of figures covered by House Bill No. 417, what schedule of figures does he favor? If twenty-four hundred dollars is too high what is right in the opinion of His Excellency the Governor? Is it two thousand, is it eighteen, is it twenty-two, or is it fourteen? This House has a right to know what the Governor actually favors since he has gone to considerable length to inform the people of the Commonwealth that he does not favor what this House, or at least this Educational Committee seems to favor, so I say there should be either from His Excellency the Governor directly or indirectly through the Majority Leader a statement as to the Governor's figures which he is carrying as a basic part in his educational program.

According to press reports the Governor estimates that House Bill 417 will impose additional charges of approximately 36 million dollars upon the school districts of the Commonwealth. That is approximately four dollars per capita per biennium, or two dollars per year.

Now, it is understood that the Governor favors an extension of the local tax base. I am asking you Members of the House whether broadening the local tax base, giving school districts the right to run wild, to proceed wholly without any restraint is or is not likely to impose a sum in excess of 36 million dollars upon the school districts of the Commonwealth.

In my opinion if you turn over the broadened tax base that the Governor is talking about to the school districts they will hike the school burden considerably in excess of 36 million dollars. I think if His Excellency the Governor wants to save money he will find some way of collecting that 36 million dollars from the same constituency which in the end would pay it if you went into the local school districts.

Finally I would like to ask whether the administration is committed to House Bill 800 in its present form, and whether it believes it would be possible to create in orderly fashion a logical tax structure under the terms of House Bill 800 as it is now before us. Or would the enactment of that measure in its present form result in a chaotic scramble on the part of the political subdivisions to preempt tax sources for their particular uses with the result that there would be no defense against indiscriminate taxation?

Finally, will the Majority Leader or some other responsible spokesman for the administration outline during the coming week for the benefit of this House those portions of the Governor's recent statement concerning House Bill 417 which are specific in their nature as distinguished from those portions of the statement which deal with generalities?

And finally, as I have stated, will the Majority Floor Leader or some other responsible spokesman for His Excellency the Governor during the week to come, at their earliest convenience inform this House concerning the schedule of mandated salaries which the Executive believes should be written into House Bill 417?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has outlined points that I do believe every Member of this House has a right to know specifically. I want him to know that it was definitely my plan to do so.

In reply to his specific references concerning one bill on the calendar, House Bill 800, I want to say most emphatically that it is not a measure to which in its present form the administration is committed.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WOOD from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 652, entitled:

An Act terminating the existence of the Pennsylvania Nautical School.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSOR

Mr. BRUNNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to add the name of Mr. Cadwalader to a resolution he was about to present.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Messrs. BRUNNER, KRATZ and CADWALADER offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 15, 1947.

For the past eight years and more Montgomery County has been well represented among others by an amicable and efficient gentleman affectionately referred to as "Squire Boorse," whose age was long unknown to even his closest colleagues in the House of Representatives. The Pennsylvania Manual just issued, however, discloses that Mr. Boorse was born in Lansdale on May 10, 1876, be it therefore,

Resolved, That although this birth date occurred several days ago, when this House was not in session, that the House of Representatives this belatedly extend to its genial and conscientiously efficient Member its heartiest congratulations and well wishes for a continuation of his services in his home town of Lansdale and expresses its hope that he may continue as a Member of this body and as Chairman of its important Committee on Municipal Corporations for many more sessions to come, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be certified by the Chief Clerk and be transmitted to the Honorable Howard F. Boorse.

The SPEAKER. The Chair regrets that the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Boorse, is not present at this time, but is confident that it is the feeling of the Members of the House that he shall have many years of happy birthdays.

SENATE MESSAGES

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate:

Senate Bills for concurrence 551, 570, 639, 306, 505 and 528.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. McMILLEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to make an announcement to the House and call the Speaker's attention to another very important date. It involves a gentleman of this House, one of the most congenial, one of the hardest working gentlemen, and while he admits by his own work that he does not imbibe anything at night, he does buy the other fellow liquor to see them imbibe a little bit. The gentleman is commonly known among us as Governor. Governor Pickens had a birthday last Saturday.

Mr. Speaker, I suggest that the House extend its best wishes at this late date to Governor Pickens and have that speech delivered that he has had written out for the last two months.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. McMillen, for reminding the Chair and the other Members of the House that the gentleman is growing older.

The Chair was under the impression that he was trying to hide that fact, and understood that that was the reason why so few of us realized that he had another birthday. But we who have seen him in Harrisburg over a period of weeks, months, and years, seemed to feel that he was growing younger rather than older. I certainly wish him, and I am sure that all of the Members of the House join me in wishing him many more happy birthdays.

The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Clarion, Governor Pickens.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, before the gentleman speaks I would like to ask a question. I want to know whether it is true that he is wandering around town telling people that his name is Andrews?

The SPEAKER. The Chair might state that he may be telling that to people, but anyone who has ever visited the Hall of the House would know the difference.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Clarion, Governor Pickens.

Mr. PICKENS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for taking my part with the gentleman from Cambria. The trouble with the gentleman from Cambria is that a couple of people took him for me one day, and I apologized because I said I was a Republican and I thought that let me out of it, but he still insisted I was Mr. Andrews.

I want to thank the House for their congratulations—I understand they are late, but two years ago a resolution was introduced along about the last day, and I invited the House to meet me on May 30th, which happens to come on Decoration Day, downstairs, and nobody was there. It has been suggested by the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Greer, to invite you for the fourth of July—so if you are all here at that time buy your own meal. I thank you.

The SPEAKER. Thank you, Governor Pickens.

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to file a request with the Majority Leader.

I would like to file a request for the privilege of having included in his schedule of operations at least fifteen days prior to the final adjournment, a time when for purposes of the record the minority group will be privileged to present motions to discharge committees, and in connection with the motions we would be willing to accept a straight party vote, quick roll call, on such motions as we have to offer, so that it will take very little time. We would like to have that period definitely scheduled on his plan of operations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SORG asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I shall be happy to do that, and I thank the gentleman for his cooperation in that schedule.

The SPEAKER. The Chair also wishes to thank the gentleman.

From what Mr. Andrews just said I think we will all be here June 1st. I would like to know, and ask you whether we are going to be here June 1st, and if we are we may avail ourselves of this opportunity to attend.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, May 19, 1947, at 3:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. JASPAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, today we are faced with the closing of our medical schools unless immediate aid is given them. Hearings had with the deans of the University of Pennsylvania, University of Pittsburgh, University of Temple, Hahnemann and Jefferson Medical colleges disclosed that they are desperately in need of funds to continue with the training of young men and women interested in the science of healing arts. Hahnemann College has been forced to reduce its enrollment from 150 to 105 in the freshman class on account of lack of equipment and facilities, and its inability to obtain full-time professors with its limited funds. Jefferson College has been forced to borrow from endowment funds not earmarked for college purposes. Temple University Medical College has been compelled to borrow from banks on the basis of anticipated revenue. University of Pennsylvania Medical School and University of Pittsburgh also find themselves in the same position. How long they can carry on without additional funds is a matter of conjecture.

Thus far, these medical colleges have been drawing for existence from tuition fees, state subsidies and small endowments. As to tuition fees, generally $500 a year, the colleges lose about $500, as it costs them approximately $1000 a year to maintain a student. Equipment and new facilities are needed to keep pace with the development in medical science. The old equipment has to be discarded to make way for modern improvements. Full time professors with special knowledge in new and modern cures have to be employed at rather high salaries. State aid is meager, and does not even make up the loss the universities sustain on every student. Losing $500 on every student, the medical schools—take any one with an enrollment of 400 students—run up a deficit of $200,000 every year.

The deficit in every case has been growing, leaving the medical colleges practically helpless, and no one to look to excepting the state. What do we intend to do about it? The need for doctors is growing. The number of tubercular cases, heart cases, cancer, rheumatic fever, infantile paralysis, and the like, is increasing daily. Modern science has developed to a great extent. New cures have been found. New drugs, such as the sulpha drugs, penicillin, streptomycin, have been found, and the mortality of those afflicted with serious diseases have been reduced to a minimum; but nevertheless, doctors are needed to make correct diagnoses and administer proper treatments.

Dr. Parran, the Surgeon-General of the United States, stated recently at the convention of the American Medical Association School, that within ten years there will be a shortage of 40,000 doctors. To make matters worse, in case of war or emergency, the shortage would still be greater. So we must be prepared to meet every eventuality, and every contingency. The last flu epidemic, the World War No. 2, are illustrations of our short-sightedness in the direction of health.

The basis of our educational system is sound mind and healthy body. Without a healthy body, no nation can exist or survive. Our nation must at all times be strong. We therefore cannot overemphasize the need for a few additional millions of dollars for medical colleges.

Medical schools in Pennsylvania are eager to expend their facilities, obtain new equipment, inaugurate building programs, embark on extensive research, and above all, give the students proper training in the most important profession.

Medical schools are also interested in increasing their enrollment, but it can not be done without the necessary tools. Do you realize that approximately six thousand apply for admission to medical schools in Pennsylvania every year and only 600 can be accepted under the present circumstances? The answer is very simple—lack of facilities. If anything, in view of Dr. Parran's statement, there should be accommodations for at least twice the number or 1200 rather than 600. The schools are not at fault. We are to blame. Are we to sit by and trust that there may not be any need for doctors? To force any school or schools to close because of our refusal, or the Governor's refusal, to properly appropriate would simply aggravate an already serious situation. Instead of increasing the enrollment, we would be decreasing it.

Our medical colleges have the finest records in the country. We can very well be proud of them. Their graduates have distinguished themselves everywhere.

It certainly is a sad commentary on the state government to allow niggardly amounts for medical schools at a time when physicians are in demand, and further at a time when the budget for the next two years runs close to a billion dollars.

We have passed bills appropriating thousands of dollars for maintenance of graves, for the perpetuation of memorials and for the printing of state books, and today are appropriating millions for roads and bridges, but I say "What Price Health." Appropriations to train boys and girls in the interest of health apparently come last. Let us be bold enough to put health at the top of the ladder where it rightfully belongs and without hesitation pass Senator Walker's bill, Senator Kephart's bill, Senator Stiefel's bill and my bill, all calling for substantial increases over the Budget Director's estimate for the next biennium for medical schools. These bills practically double the appropriations for medical schools, and it will be money well spent. Assuming we pass them, and I am confident we will, we still have another bridge to cross—the Governor and the Budget Director. In the final analysis, the Governor has the final word with respect to appropriations. We should, however, convince the Governor of the urgent need for the money. About $1,500,000 additional is needed at the present time to take care of the immediate wants of the medical colleges. I feel that we should go on record in favor of appropriating such sums and therefore introduce the following resolution calling on the Governor of the state to comply with our request.

RESOLUTION

FAVORING INCREASES IN APPROPRIATIONS FOR MEDICAL COLLEGES

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. JASPAN offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Appropriations:

May 19, 1947.

Whereas, The medical colleges in the State of Pennsylvania are desperately in need of funds to expend their facilities, obtain new equipment, inaugurate building programs, embark on extensive research into new phases of medicine;

Whereas, The proper training of men and women in medical schools depends to a large extent on the equipment and facilities of the medical school;

Whereas, Considerable money is required to engage full time professors, and instructors with special knowledge in new and modern cures;

Whereas, The need for physicians is growing, particularly in view of the large number of serious diseases, such as tuberculosis, cancer, heart disease, infantile paralysis and meningitis;

Whereas, Because of the lack of funds there is great danger that some of our medical schools will be forced to close, thereby reducing the number of men available in the medical field;

Whereas, The basis of our educational system is sound mind and healthy body, and it is incumbent upon our nation to be strong physically in order to survive;

Whereas, The closing of medical colleges and the consequent loss of potential doctors will affect our national safety, security and educational system;

Whereas, A few million dollars are needed by our medical schools to tide them over the emergency; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania go on record in favor of substantial increases in appropriations for medical colleges for the next biennium; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania urge the Governor to approve such appropriation as adopted by the Legislature.

IN MEMORIUM, E. ARTHUR SWEENEY

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to :

Whereas, It becomes the sad duty of the Senate of Pennsylvania to take notice of the passing of a former State Official, E. Arthur Sweeney, publisher of the Greensburg Morning Review and the Daily Tribune and former State Secretary of Welfare during the administration of Governor Arthur H. James.

Mr. Sweeney was 64 years of age and has been in the newspaper business for 47 years, starting at the age of 17 as a reporter on the old Morning Review. From that time on, until the Morning Review was consolidated with the Greensburg Daily Tribune, he worked in every capacity of the newspaper field, and in 1924 became head of the new publishing firm, the Tribune Review Publishing Company.

E. Arthur Sweeney was regarded as one of the outstanding publishers of Pennsylvania, teaching Journalism at Seaton Hill College and acting in an advisory capacity at Pennsylvania State College. He also served as President of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association.

E. Arthur Sweeney was just as well known in the political field, having been a delegate to many Republican National Conventions, and in 1936 was honored by his party as nominee for State Auditor General.

He was also very active in civic affairs and was a member of Rotary, Y. M. C. A., Chamber of Commerce and many other civic and business institutions. He was a native of Westmoreland County, having been born in North Huntingdon Township and could trace his ancestry to early Colonial days through his Mother who was a direct descendant of Colonel Lawrence Muse, who was a personal friend of George Washington, and who came to Allegheny County from Virginia in 1766.

E. Arthur Sweeney will be missed by his many friends and by the community he served so well for so many years. Although he was a Republican by preference, he will be mourned by members of the Democratic party who knew him to be an honorable opponent in any phase of a political campaign, therefore be it

FINAL PASSAGE CALENDAR

Agreeably to order,

An Act lapsing all unexpended or unencumbered balances of appropriations from all funds made by the General Assembly at its session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine and prior sessions and at its regular sessions of one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and one thousand nine hundred and forty-three and the Special Sessions of one thousand nine hundred and forty and one thousand nine hundred and forty-two

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Senator Geltz, Senate Bill 498 lapses all unexpended funds and unencumbered balances of appropriations made prior to the 1947 session. Will you tell the Senate how much money will be involved in this total lapsing of funds.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, the information I received on this bill is that $2,350,000 will be lapsed.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, as I read the bill, the first section lapses all funds and then provides later on the exceptions. If I am correct in estimates that I have, there are total unexpended funds in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania today of about $133,000,000. I am wondering whether this bill, under its present terms, would not lapse the greater portion of the $133,000,000 rather than the $2,350,000 mentioned by the sponsor.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I do not know, except from information I received from the Budget Director. There appears to be lapsed by Senate Bill 498 $3,000 to the Auditor General's Department; $100,000 to the Treasury Department; $12,000, Department of Forests and Waters; $275,000 Department of Health; $60,000, Department of Internal Affairs; $357,000, Military Affairs; $25,000, Department of State; $1,500,000, Department of Welfare; or a total of $2,350,000. That is the only breakdown I have. I do not know anything more about the bill.

Mr. DENT. Thank you, Mr. Geltz.

Mr. President, every two years we put through a bill lapsing unexpended and unencumbered funds of prior bienniums. We never quite get a complete story of the fiscal picture of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I would suggest, Mr. President and members of the Senate, that before we vote for this important piece of legislation we receive from the Budget Director, in a direct communication to the Senate, the total amount of unexpended funds now held within the various departments of the Commonwealth and by the various boards and by the various bureaus and that when we get this breakdown, we compare it with the new appropriations to the same departments, and determine whether there is not a certain overlapping of new appropriations as against unexpended and unencumbered funds in those various departments.

We all recognize we are in a very serious predicament in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, because of our chaotic financial position and therefore, Mr. President, before I would vote for this particular bill that lapses certain funds, I desire to have before me a complete picture of the unexpended and unencumbered funds as they now rest in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I would suggest to the majority they could easily go along with this proposition, since it is only a matter of a few hours' work on the part of the Budget Director to submit this information to us. I have that information, but rather than place it before the Senate as authentic, I would rather have the direct information from the Budget Director, who is more responsible for the figures than I would be under the same circumstances, since the figures I have arrived at have been taken from the various budgets, and maybe I have missed some very important item and, therefore, my figure of $133,000,000 unexpended funds in Pennsylvania, raises a very serious question at this time, that is, whether we are not allowing money to rest unused in the various departments and still raising taxes in the Commonwealth to meet current expenses.

I therefore suggest, Mr. President, if the majority sees their way clear, that this bill go over in order until such time as the Budget Director can submit to the Senate a complete picture of the unexpended funds in the Commonwealth.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I feel certain the sponsor of this bill will be glad to comply with the request of the gentleman from Westmoreland, that this bill go over in its order.

Just by way of information, I should like to advise the gentleman from Westmoreland that it is altogether likely that any such information which may come before us will not adequately give the information that he desires, because I had made a similar request concerning this bill, and I learned that it would be impossible to give any accurate figures that would stand to the end of the biennium, because certain moneys between now and the end of the biennium will be committed to outside third parties; for instance, in the Department of Welfare and in other departments, where there are contracts pending but upon which commitments have not yet been made.

I have been informed by the budget office that this bill will merely make certain that the moneys which are not committed before the end of the biennium will be properly lapsed, which ordinarily in any event would be lapsed, and that this bill will merely make certain the procedure under which it is done, and will also cover prior bienniums, by reason of the matter which I have just discussed, which is the commitment of moneys to outside third party contractors of the Commonwealth.

Mr. DENT. That is satisfactory, Mr. President. Will it be possible then to have the Secretary of the Senate request for the Senate this information so that we can expedite this matter?

That is all right, Mr. President, the matter has been taken care of by the Majority Leader. Thank you.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in order that there may be an explanation of our negative vote on this side, I just want to state that on page 3 of this bill you will notice you are tearing down a little further the strength of home rule in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Prior to passage of this particular act county school boards and school directors had some say as to mergers and reorganizations of attendance areas and administrative units. However, if you will read the amendment you will find that the State Council of Education will now have complete say and shall review and approve or disapprove all plans for the merger of school districts or parts of school districts, and so forth. This deliberately takes out of the hands of the local school boards any authority whatsoever in the management of their own affairs relative to this phase of the school problem.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, the vote has been taken and it is past the time for discussion on the bill, but I do want to say it does not take out of the local districts the decision as to whether they want to consolidate or not, and it does not place that power in the hands of the State Council of Education because, whenever a county board makes a proposal for consolidation, the State Council may approve it but each school district must vote on the project, and it does not carry back to the board of directors, but direct to the people in each respective district, and if the people in any one of the districts do not approve of that plan of consolidation, they are dropped out of the picture and the matter can be considered again within the five-year period.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 534, entitled:

An Act directing the Department of Public Instruction to revise the curricula of elementary secondary and vocational schools to effectuate a more thorough understanding and appreciation of American form of government and the principles for which it stands

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STEVENSON. (Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 3, line 8, by striking out all of said line; Amend Section 1, page 3, line 9, by striking out before the figure "(4)" the word "government".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

Mr. DENT. It is very difficult, Mr. President, to follow amendments, and to find the exact change made in a bill after the amendments are accepted but from what I gather, this eliminates the possibility of comparison in the school rooms of this form of government with any other form of government now existing or ever to become existent.

I just wonder sometimes whether that is strengthening the purposes or weakening the purposes of the bill. We all, of course, approve the idea of teaching our children values and their individual responsibilities under this form of government, but I wonder if we are not stepping a little too far when we deny the right of comparison with any other form of government.

I take the position, Mr. President, that by comparison my form of government stands so far above any other existing form of government that it would be a good thing to compare it in the school rooms with any form of government now known to the human race, and I believe that this comparison in itself will further educate the children as to the value of maintaining a strong democratic form of government.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am prepared to vote, I suppose futilely so, to oppose this amendment, if that is what it does but I say I can not clearly understand the full intent of the amendment because, unless the bill is printed with the amendment in, it would be impossible to analyze the amendment properly.

I suggest, therefore, Mr. President, that the bill go over in its order, as amended, without approval of the bill as amended.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, all this amendment does is to close the door to radicals that we may have in the school teaching profession or in our public school system. The words in this bill "In comparison with economic systems in force under other forms of government" are stricken out by the amendment and that is just as this bill should be.

Mr. President, there is not one of us in this Senate who does not believe that our form of government can stand up against any type or form of government which we have in the world today, certainly by comparison, but the situation is such that we have today professors and school teachers who teach the communistic form of government and the economic principles of communism, and who do not in fact teach the principles of this government, and give as their excuse the fact that our youngsters understand our form of government and our economic system and they do not need to be taught it, but they do not understand the others. This would again open the door and give them a legal reason for teaching communism and the economic system under the communistic form of government. We feel that the door should be closed and they should be given to clearly understand, insofar as our school system is concerned, we want the lessons taught which will show them the value and the fineness of our form of government, and we are not concerned then about communism.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I, of course, wonder whether you can keep a nation in ignorance by refusing to allow the minds of the children to be opened by giving them whatever information you have about any form of government. We complain bitterly, and justly so, that the iron curtain of Russia forbids the indoctrination into its people of the knowledge that we hold so dear here in this country, of the value to the individual of the freedom such as we enjoy under our form of government. Russia does not allow its children to be taught anything except the Russian communistic form of government; they are not permitted any comparison between their type of government and that of any other nation.

Are we to take a leaf from the communistic book?

Are we to accept their type of suppression in order place upon our children the same brand of ignorance?

I say to you that I teach my children the various forms of religious belief as I know them. They go to the church that I go to, but if at any age or in any stage of their lives they decide to leave the church that I go to and go to a church of their own choosing, they shall be welcome to do so, because I believe only by giving to each individual the knowledge that we have as a group, can that individual measure up to the standards of the group that he presents himself in.

I am not afraid that this country will suffer by comparison, I am not afraid of it at all, but somebody evidently is afraid of it. I wish every person in Pennsylvania could read this bill, I wish every person in Pennsylvania could read this bill as it was originally placed in the Senate hopper, and then take the bill as it now is before the Senate. In it you will find this amendment, and you will see on Page 1, Page 2 and Page 3 of the bill—there are only three pages to the bill—that every time the word “democracy,” every time the words “American Democracy” appear, they have been stricken out—they have been stricken out—the words “American Democracy” are no longer contained in this bill, because as the bill first read it said “a thorough and complete education in the history of American democracy, its principles, ideals and advantages, the function and place of the federal, state and local government systems under American democracy” and so on and so forth.

Mr. President, as we find this bill now amended the words “American democracy” have been taken out, and we find inserted the words “the American form of government, its principles, ideals and advantages, the function and place of the federal, state and local government systems and the American form of government.”

What is the American form of government? To my mind it is a democracy. If it is not a democracy then I have been misled and the thousands upon thousands of lads who lost their lives in this war and the first world war, who thought they were fighting in a democratic army in a group of allied democrats against the Facist and the totalitarian nations of the world, they too have been misled.

I believe this to be a democracy, it is my idea and my conception of a democratic form of government, and I say to you the bill which is now presented to this Senate is a misnomer, it does not stand out to do what it originally intended to do.

I did not interrogate the gentleman who presented the bill, because the changes were not made at his instigation, they were made in committee, and I have not heard a reasonable explanation for the change. Why the words “American democracy” were taken from this bill will always be a mystery until somebody explains it.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the need for this bill becomes more apparent every day. First, may I respectfully suggest to the gentleman from Westmoreland, as I understand this bill, the purpose is to teach the American form of government in the schools in Pennsylvania and to permit the Department of Public Instruction to set up curricula that will properly do that.

With regard to his real objection to the amendment now before us, and which I think has finally crept out on the floor of the Senate, that is, the objection to the striking out of the words “American Democracy” which was done by the committee, and substituting in lieu thereof the words “the American form of government”—his objection to it as being misleading, to use the word, “misnomer,” in the striking out of those words, is perhaps in itself, further proof that we should teach in our schools the principles of the American form of government, because it is my understanding, or perhaps it is because of the fact that it was not properly taught in school when I attended, but it is my understanding of our form of government that it is a representative form of government commonly called in parlance a Republic; it has nothing to do with any of the major political parties involved. The striking out of the word “democracy” has nothing to do with the great political party represented by the gentleman from Westmoreland. He is not objecting to the striking out of the word “democracy”; he is objecting more or less to the inuendo that might be classified as a slur upon the great party he represents. That is not the purpose of the amendment at all.

The amendment now suggested, and as now before us, is simply to carefully submerge any attempt on the part of anybody so inclined to start comparing forms of government. If anybody who is a student of government desires to study the various forms of government which we have in the various nations all over the globe that can be done, but in our public schools, when the school teachers in Pennsylvania are molding the thought and crystallizing the opinions of our school children, the thing we are anxious to do is see to it the formula implanted in those juvenile minds is a clear picture of the American form of government, not to necessarily close their minds to any other form of government, but to see to it, just as when they are children and they go to church, whether they go to a Presbyterian church, whether they go to a Catholic church or whether they go to a Methodist church, the doctrines of that particular religion are implanted in Sunday School in the minds of those children, not in an attempt to close the door to any other type of religion, but in an attempt to see to it that those doctrines are explained and taught to the children, and the same thing, Mr. President, is true in the amendments now before us. The issue is very clear. It is not a question of closing the minds of the children or closing the door to their education, but it is to see to it that in our public schools, when the juvenile minds and their thoughts are being crystallized, the school teacher is given full opportunity to teach the American form of government, and that was the objective that the sponsor had in mind when the bill was introduced.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I will comment first on the last statement made by the gentleman from Allegheny—if that was the objective the sponsor had in mind when he introduced the bill, why did you not leave it in that form. The bill as originally, presented by the gentleman from Clinton, was a very fine piece of law and one that should be passed by this General Assembly, but after you are through with the amendment, I will say to you you are presenting to the people of Pennsylvania a monstrosity.

And I might say to the gentleman that suspicion is the ugliest word in the English language, and when he is suspicious, that I am a little bit afraid disparaging reference to my political party by striking out the words "American democracy," he is certainly stretching his imagination a long way, because that never entered my mind.

As to the question of motive, Mr. President, I think every man in the Senate knows that when I have something to say I usually say it, I do not usually have somebody else interpret what I intend to say and say it for me. I do not know what is in the mind of the gentleman from Allegheny, if anything. I am not a bit disturbed about what he is thinking. I am only able to criticize the remarks as they are made, not what he intended to say but entirely from what he said.

I say to you that when you take out the word "American democracy" you are destroying the original intent of the bill. I say to you this is a democracy, it is a representative democracy, it is a form of government known since the early days of civilization, and it is the only lasting or enduring democracy that has ever been created outside of probably the direct democracy known as Switzerland.

So, Mr. President, I say to the gentleman from Allegheny this is a democracy and as such should be represented in printed form in this bill. I have not heard anybody tell me why they did not stop the boys from marching forward to save a democracy that did not exist.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I was talking to an attorney in Pittsburgh last Saturday and he told me, in discussing another attorney in this Senate, that he never heard any lawyer go before a jury and confuse the jury more than a certain Senator.

I certainly agree with this other attorney, because I never heard more confusion in so few words as just spoken by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker. I think Mr. Walker wears a Legion button and was in the First World War, and I wonder if he ever heard the slogan "To make the world safe for democracy," because the boys were filled with that morning, noon and night and at retreat, it was day in and day out. In this War I have never heard anybody address the troops, either in the United States or in England before the invasion and tell them they were fighting to save a republic. We all admit we have a republic but the word democracy by usage has gotten to be impressed upon the minds of every American. Democracy means freedom, and that is what is in their minds. It is a government of the people and by the people in the truest sense of the word.

I hate to hear, Mr. President, as the gentleman from Allegheny said, that he does not have enough faith in the American way of life to compare it with what is being used in Russia today in the Soviet Republic. I want to compare our form of government in America with any other form of government. I want to compare our form of labor movement in American with that of the Soviet form of labor movement because it is freedom in our government, but not in theirs. How can you teach any form of government if you are going to put an iron curtain around America and teach only one way? I have never heard in any of the speeches made by Hitler, and I have read a lot of them, anything like that used in this Senate tonight. When they were talking about teaching the youth movement in Germany, they were allowed to teach them their way and their way only, they were not allowed to teach any other form of government, and for him to get up here and say we can teach only one form of government, that is not American, and that is not what the boys fought for. There is no reason why we should not compare it, because by comparison our government is stronger.

I think we have gone far afield. I think we should make the people more familiar with our form of government, and how much better it is than other forms of government in the world, but, to come in here and say you are going to dictate what is to be taught in the schools, as legislators, I oppose it.

For years in America the National Electric Light Association, which was proved by investigation, all Republicans I might say, before Roosevelt they had control of the school system and the school books in America, and so had the Manufacturers Association, which was proved by investigation, and I am a little bit worried about what is in the mind of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, and I do not think it was the intent of this bill. If he wants to teach his way of thinking, I am sorry. That is not America, that is not the democracy that the boys fought for, and I say to you, by the cutting out of any comparison of economic systems in other forms of government, that just puts that iron curtain we have talked so much about right in front of the Statue of Liberty in the harbor, because here was the place the people came to and could study every form of government on the face of the earth, and by living the democracy we have in America, they chose to live in America and become citizens of America. This is turning the curtain back, and I am sorry to say we are doing only one thing, adopting the system used in Russia, used by the Facists in Italy and the Nazis in Germany, of teaching the boys and girls in school only one side of the question. That is not the American way of education.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am aware of the fact that we have wandered very far from the routine rules of the Senate.

However, Mr. President, I would like to say very respectfully to the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, that in the First World War, in which he and I both had the privilege of participating, I think the slogan then was that that was the war to end all wars. We heard that repeatedly, before and after the war, and I heard the slogan "again make the world safe for democracy" and with that slogan I have no quarrel.

I listened with a great deal of interest to the complaints of some opposing attorney who was probably on the other side of the case from me, which he did not win, and he thought I confused the jury. I accept the indictment. I have never lost a case yet that I did not think the other side was unfair or that the jury was kind of stupid, and I have no objections to winning any case in any court even if the other side accuses me of confusing the jury, but when he suggests that I confuse the minority party here in the Senate he is crediting me with too much ability—you can not confuse those sharpies on the other side, they are too smart for that.

With regard to the issue before the Senate, and that is the question of teaching the American form of government in our public schools, we are not dealing with the mature minds of college students, where government might be taught, and may I again respectfully refer the gentleman to the fact that in the Catholic Church, the Presbyterian religion is not taught, and neither in the Presbyterian Church is the Catholic religion taught, they stick to their own knitting, and whether or not that meets with the approval of the Final Arbitrator, that is something we will never decide here on this earth.

In our American schools, if we decide we would like to teach the American form of government, I think that is a privilege for us to offer the children, and the issue is not whether or not the communistic form of government might be better than a representative form of government. The issue is, whether or not we will permit the State Department of Public Instruction to prepare curricular to teach the children of Pennsylvania the American form of government and that, Mr. President, is not confusing. These gentleman are not jurors, but many of them are learned in the law and they recognize the fact that is the issue before us, and there is no attempt to equivocate with either of the major political parties. The question is whether or not we will teach the American form of government in our public schools.

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I sat back there and listened with a great deal of both pleasure and discomfort at the terrible panning the teaching profession in Pennsylvania has taken here this afternoon. I want to say, as a member of the teaching profession, as well as being a member of this august body, I resent very much the inference that the teachers of this Commonwealth are not fitted and in their own minds do not know the proper way of teaching American government.

In my first year of teaching, by comparison, I tried to show the children in my school room the dangers of alcohol. I took a glass of water and a glass of whiskey and put them on my desk, and I put a fishing worm in the glass of water and it swam around. Then I took it out and put it in the whiskey glass and it died. I then asked one of my little kiddies there if he knew what that comparison showed. He said, yes, if you drink whiskey you will not have worms.

But, Mr. President, to become more serious, the implications here this afternoon are that if we permit the teachers of this Commonwealth to teach and tell about other forms of government they are not going to like our form of government.

Mr. President, through no fault of my own, I was privileged to see some thirty-four different governments in operation in this world and I, Mr. President, going back to the school room this September, have a deeper and a fuller regard for the American way of government and the American way of life than for any other. There need not be any law put on the books prohibiting me from telling anything good about any other government in the world, because there is no other government, and the average school teacher in the Commonwealth does not need any legislation on the books to tell him whether he can teach about another form of government. We can only learn by comparison. I hope we do not have to use worms, Mr. President, but I do honestly hope that we see the logic of this thing, and not tie the hands of the teachers who in this Commonwealth are doing a mighty fine job.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland.

Mr. HOLLAND. Very gladly, Mr. President.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I suppose a stupid lawyer from Philadelphia should not get into this Pittsburgh tangle. While this discussion has been going on I rather thought that Senator Walker had a little bit the better of it—but while the discussion was going on, I have been reading the bill and I would appreciate it very much if the stupid lawyer from Philadelphia could be informed as to what part of this bill prohibits the teaching of anything but the American form of government.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, in the amendment we just accepted. I am awfully glad a poor layman from Allegheny county, from the South Side of Pittsburgh, a member of the United Steel Workers of Pennsylvania, is able to give information to the learned lawyer from Philadelphia.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I just want to make one observation. There has been a lot of debate and a lot of talk about issues. I do not know what were the motives of the sponsor of the amendment, but I would like to say that the amendment does not do what has been argued about on this floor. The amendment does not prevent a comparison of different governments with that of the United States, because it still provides for a thorough and complete education in the economic system functioning under the American form of government, and the advantages thereof, and those who choose may very well include comparisons and there will be nothing in the bill which will prevent those comparisons. That is the observation I want to make.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 534, on third reading, go over in its order until the amendments are printed. There seems to be utter confusion on both sides as to what these amendments do.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 548, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" authorizing boards of school directors to enter into contracts with the Federal Government or any of its agencies for the education of veterans in the public schools and providing that such persons should not be considered in determining district teaching units as the basis for Commonwealth subsidies and excluding teachers employed to teach such veterans from the tenure provisions thereof

Section 1 Section four hundred one of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with three provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as last amended by the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 688) is hereby further amended by adding at the end thereof a new paragraph to read as follows

Section 401 * * * * *

Every board of school directors shall have authority and are hereby empowered to enter into contracts with the Federal Government or any agency thereof for the education of veterans in the public schools of the district

Section 2 Section one thousand two hundred five of said act as last amended by the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 587) is hereby further amended by adding at the end thereof a new paragraph to read as follows

Nothing in the foregoing shall be construed as requiring any board of school directors to give a professional employe contract to any teacher employed in connection with courses being conducted by such school district for veterans under the terms of a contract between such school district and the Federal Government or any agency thereof and no teacher so employed shall be regarded as having attained tenure status in the school district by reason of such employment

Section 3 The first paragraph of section one thousand two hundred forty-two of said act which section was added by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1112) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1242 Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the fiscal years 1945-1946 and 1946-1947 on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools by one thousand eight hundred dollars ($1800) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction Provided That the attendance of pupils being educated in the public schools of a district under contract with the Federal Government or any agency thereof shall not be included in determining the number of teaching units upon which such payments are based

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I wish the gentleman from Schuylkill would make clear for me the full meaning of this bill, Page 3, lines 12 to 19, which state that any teacher that is employed under the veterans program, teaching in Pennsylvania, does not have any standing under the tenure act and would not receive credit for that professional period of teaching under the tenure act. I can not understand the significance of that. Are we denying those special teachers, or teachers that come into Pennsylvania under the G. I. Bill, any of the rights under the school teacher's tenure act in Pennsylvania?

Mr. WAGNER. The purpose, Mr. President, of the bill, which is requested by the Department of Public Instruction, is that there will be cooperation by the state with the federal government in giving instruction in various fields to veterans, which could very easily involve special teachers and teachers for specific periods of time, and there is no reason why they should be included under the tenure act in Pennsylvania. It would not involve teachers who are currently employed because most of them would have to be special employes. I do not know the answer to the whole proposition, but I do know in certain districts even farmers have been taken into school districts to instruct veterans who want to be directed along agricultural lines, and if those special teachers should be in for two or three years, there is no reason why they should then become professional employes under the tenure act, and not be dismissed when the job for which they were specifically hired has been completed.

Mr. DENT. I thank the gentleman from Schuylkill.

The question that came to my mind and still remains unsolved, is if instructors are brought in under the provisions of the federal bill, they are being paid jointly by the state and by the federal government and by the very fact that their salaries come from the federal government, you deny them status under our professional rating under the tenure act, so that these special instructors, under my interpretation of the tenure act, would not come under the tenure act requirements in Pennsylvania.

However, with this section in this bill, any person who is teaching, who may have all the qualifications of a regular teacher and be teaching regular subjects, so far as that person is concerned, if he is teaching any student in the room who comes under the provisions of the federal G. I. Bill or the federal act that controls the education of veterans, that teacher would be denied professional status. I do not believe the department wishes to deny anybody this right, but it certainly does so under the terms of this bill as it is now written.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I certainly do not construe this bill to do any such sort of thing. It was written to tie in with our present school system and it does not oblige the school board to give any employe hired under such circumstances the status of a professional employe, but it does not deprive any person so qualified of that status.

Likewise, on the last page, the Senator from Westmoreland will find that this bill provides "that the attendance of pupils being educated in the public schools of a district under contract with the federal government or any agency thereof shall not be included in determining the number of teaching units upon which payments are based."

The whole thing clarifies clearly, to me at least, the status of teachers, and where they stop and start as professionals, and it does not clutter up our reimbursement system.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, that question was raised and I put it as clearly as I could to the sponsor of the bill.

However, I am satisfied that he would not introduce legislation to deprive any professional employe of his status under the tenure act. I am willing to take his interpretation of the bill, and accept it as the sponsor says.

Therefore, believing the gentleman from Schuylkill to be acting in good faith, I ask my colleagues to vote for this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, this is House Bill 1170, which was before the House on second reading last Wednesday and which underwent considerable discussion at that time as to the changes which had been made in the law, due to the fact that this was generally a codification of the law.

At that time I called to the attention of the Members of the House a number of changes appearing in the statement signed by the Assistant Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, seven in all. Since that time the amendment which was approved by this House has changed one of the amendments, amendment number five in this certification, which says that the law is changed by taking clubs out of the quota provision. You will recall, those of you who were here on last Wednesday, that the amendment was to take the clubs out of the quota provision for a period of eighteen months, to enable the service clubs or veterans' organizations to obtain licenses in about one-half of the counties of the State where they now cannot secure them because the quotas are full and the courts have held that under the law clubs are within the quota law.

At that time I said there was an intolerable situation existing in Pennsylvania, and I repeat that there are about fifty percent of the counties in which the Courts have held that clubs are not within the quota law, and there are fifty percent of the counties which have either said that the clubs are within the quota law or have neither said one way or the other. Therefore, we feel that this should be straightened out at this time to give us eighteen months of experience until the next Session of Legislature and to enable these service organizations to secure licenses under our laws.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I trust that the Members of this House will vote in favor of this measure.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1170 consists of 226 pages which I believe the Members of this House have not had an opportunity of reading.

I, therefore, move that House Bill 1170 be recommitted to the Committee on Liquor Control for further study and possible amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TURNER. I rise, Mr. Speaker, to oppose this motion. This bill was introduced by Mr. O'Neill and myself—I have forgotten the date for the moment—on April 1, 1947 and that was no April Fool's day. Prior to that date this bill had been under discussion, or rather the codification was under discussion. Since the first of April it has been referred to the Liquor Control Committee and by the Liquor Control Committee to a subcommittee. That subcommittee, I think, was one of the best working subcommittees I have ever seen in this House. It gathered together all the information submitted by all the people interested. This bill was scanned by the dry forces, it was scanned by the licensee, it was scanned by the drug organizations, it was scanned by the distillers, it was scanned by the brewers, and they submitted to the subcommittee all the recommendations or suggestions that they might have. As a result of that information the subcommittee made certain recommendations to the Committee on Liquor Control. The Committee on Liquor Control considered those recommendations and reported this bill out with amendments. This bill was reported out on May 1st and therefore, since this bill was before the House that length of time, it seems to me that it is now a poor excuse to say that the Members of the House haven't had time to study the measure. It has been studied by every one interested. I have a letter in my possession from the dries who say that it was an excellent bill up to the time the amendment was put in. I hold in my possession a letter dated April 15, 1947, signed by a number of different veterans' organizations, all of whom say that they are wholeheartedly in back of House Bill 1170.

Mr. Speaker, after last Wednesday representatives of different interests came to me and told me that they thought it was a fine bill and should be passed. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, the motion to send this bill back to committee for further study is an absurdity and if it is for the purpose of burying the bill, then I say to you that we ought to stand up here and be counted and decide this question and not duck the issue.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, last week something was said about this bill and the importance of it throughout the State in order to clarify the law on the club situation in regard to quota. I do not want to take the time of the House to rehash the item. However, I do think and I thought last week and was confident that the House was going to face this problem and either vote one way or the other so that that law might be clarified once and for all. After the vote on Mr. Turner's amendment was taken I was confident that the House was facing the issue and was facing the problem. I still have that confidence; I believe the House will vote this motion down, face the problem and decide it here and now. It is a matter for this Legislature to decide, certainly for no one else to decide, and to recommit this bill for the purpose of killing it so as not to hear about it again will leave the inequality and the confusion that exists in this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on this very question of whether or not the clubs are within or without the quota. The situation will still remain the same and we as members of the Legislature, I feel, have not done one of our many duties here in the Legislature. Therefore I submit and ask the members of this House to defeat this motion.

Mr. STUART. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STUART. Will the gentleman from Delaware please tell us what the status of the clubs would be as regards the quota at the end of the eighteen month period?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I think the status of the clubs would be exactly the same as the law is today.

Mr. STUART. Mr. Speaker, that being the case, we are not cleaning up the confusion that exists. We are creating a situation whereby club licenses might be issued in almost an unlimited way, and I submit Mr. Speaker, that by this bill we will not relieve the situation which presently exists all over the State.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state it.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, on a motion to recommit is it permissible to debate the merits of the bill?

The SPEAKER. The merits of the bill may not be debated on a motion to recommit.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I did not want to raise the question on my good friend, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stuart, but I am not going to violate the rules by asking the privilege of answering him. However, I think that the answer is perfectly clear and that the House will understand.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, if my recollection is correct, the gentleman who made this motion to recommit, Mr. Miller, made the statement on the floor of the House last week that this limitation law which we are now discussing was passed in 1939, and nothing has been done about it since. In opposing his motion to recommit I would like to point out to him as well as to the other Members of the House that we finally have a chance to do something about it. The gentleman may not remember but there was a bill introduced every session since 1939 to correct this situation.

Mr. Speaker, I do not want to reiterate what has already been said but certainly to recommit this bill now is simply to dodge the issue once again. It will leave the law in the chaotic condition in which it is today, and I don't see why we should not have the courage to stand up and be counted for or against this bill on the motion to recommit, and I ask the Members of the House, particularly the Democratic Members, to vote down this motion.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I merely arose to ask the Speaker if he would not again state the question to the House.

The SPEAKER. The question recurs on the motion to recommit. Those voting aye vote to recommit House Bill 1170, Printer's No. 629, to the Committee on Liquor Control. Those voting no vote to retain the bill on the calendar.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

All other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. McCosker.

The SPEAKER. Will the lady from Philadelphia permit herself to be interrogated?

Mrs. McCOSKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I should like to know from the lady from Philadelphia concerning this bill which repeals the act of July 1st, 1901, P. L. 601, providing for a new house of detention, whether it could not have been accomplished by amending this act rather than by repealing it?

Mrs. McCOSKER. Mr. Speaker, the bill was given to me by the Honorable Judge Frank Smith of Philadelphia, and after I had the bill Mr. Hannestad gave me a letter which I consulted with Judge Smith about. The former bill did take care of the delinquent children and dependent children, and this bill would increase the number. Under the old bill the Home took twenty-five children so Judge Smith was very anxious to have this bill passed by the Legislature so that it would protect the newly erected detention Home in Philadelphia.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I thank the lady.

I did not interrogate the lady from Philadelphia for the purpose of opposing this bill. This bill is a definite step forward for the juveniles in Philadelphia required to be detained and also it increases the age of the juveniles from 16 to 18 in Philadelphia. We had the problem of sending girls between the ages of 16 and 18 to Morals Court and we had the problem of sending boys between the ages of 16 to 18 to the County Prison. The money for this house of detention has been appropriated, the site has been fixed and it is a definite step forward in Philadelphia, which has been needed for a long time.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. FISS from the Committee on Rules reported as committed Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 122.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 7th, 1947.

May 20th, 1946 marked the passing of Major General Edward C. Shannon at his residence in Columbia, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, at the age of seventy-five years. Stricken on Christmas Eve previously with a heart ailment, General Shannon lost strength steadily until he succumbed.

General Shannon was Lieutenant-Governor and the presiding officer of this Body from 1931 to 1935 during Governor Pinchot's second term. His incumbency saw four Legislative Sessions in addition to two regular terms which lasted five months each or a total of one hundred and fifty-nine legislative days.

General Shannon sought the Republican Gubernatorial Nomination in 1934, running second to the Honorable William A. Schnader, Attorney General in Governor's Pinchot's Cabinet in a primary field of sixteen candidates.

Born in Phoenixville, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, June 24th, 1870, a son of the late Frederic Hallman and Janet Murray Shannon. He was educated in the public schools of that community. As a young man, however, he left his home community and launched upon his long illustrious career, first as a blast furnace superintendent and Chemist at Marietta in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania.

April 10th, 1889, he enlisted in the 4th Infantry, Pennsylvania National Guard as a Private. Seven years later he rose to the rank of Captain. During the Spanish-American War he led Company C, 4th Infantry, to Puerto Rico where it was engaged in active service. He was mustered out November 16, 1898.

Meanwhile General Shannon had become Manager of the Triumph Manufacturing Company.

In addition General Shannon was Treasurer and General Manager of the Lucas Manufacturing Company and shortly after his return from the first World War he was elected Prothonotary of Lancaster County. He was a staunch Republican.

Returning to Columbia he was married on April 22nd, 1899, to Miss Maude C. Lucas. There was a daughter born of the marriage, Miss Janet C. Shannon, now the wife of Wilbur C. Varian, residing with their two sons at Coatesville, Pennsylvania. Mrs. Shannon predeceased the General by approximately three years.

He served along the Mexican Border in 1916-17 as a full Colonel in command of the 4th Infantry at the beginning of World War I.

When the 7th Pennsylvania Division was reorganized into the 28th Infantry Division, he was given command of the 111th Infantry Regiment. With his Regiment he landed in France May 5th, 1918 and almost immediately went into combat action where he earned the nickname of "Two Yard Shannon" in keeping that distance ahead of his front line troops. He was cited for bravery and won the Distinguished Service Medal for "exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service" in the Champagne-Marne offensive. With his Regiment he served in five separate campaigns in France and he brought his troops back home in April 1919.

On reorganization of the Guard in Pennsylvania, he was commissioned a Brigadier General in command of the 56th Infantry Brigade. Later in 1933 he was promoted to Major General and assigned to command the 28th Infantry Division and the Pennsylvania National Guard. At that time he was serving the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as Lieutenant-Governor but after some arrangements he was permitted to hold both offices of Lieutenant-Governor and Major General, drawing only one salary. Later special legislation was passed permitting him an extra five years as Commander of the 28th Division and the National Guard. He ended his military career at Indiantown Military Reservation on June 24th, 1939, after fifty years of service.

During World War II General Shannon served on a draft board in Lancaster County.

For twenty-five years General Shannon was President of the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans School at Scotland, Pennsylvania. He was a trustee of the Valley Forge Military Academy and served as Chairman of the Valley Forge Historical Commission and also as Chairman of the State Military Reservation Commission.

General Shannon was President of the Columbia Water Company and the First National Bank of Columbia. He was a member of the Board of Directors of the Columbia Hospital. He was a Director of the Columbia Chamber of Commerce and a past President of the Columbia Rotary. He was a Director of the Columbia Red Cross Chapter, member of Zembo Shrine, Sojourners, Columbia Lodge No. 286 F. and A. M., Royal Arch Masons, Columbia Chapter 224, Knights Templar Commandry No. 34, member of the Hamilton Club at Lancaster, Pennsylvania, the Elks, the United Spanish War Veterans, the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Tall, gray and handsome, General Shannon was a colorful character. On a balmy Saturday afternoon in April 1941, during the heat of my first campaign for State Senator from the District in which we were both voters, I planned to make a dozen or more calls in Columbia and I chose to call at General Shannon's residence first. I found him at home alone with his wife, having just finished his dinner. He was in a contemplative and reminiscent state of mind and Mrs. Shannon joined us in the drawing room. I made no other call in Columbia on that Saturday afternoon. Late afternoon found me bidding adieu after a three hours' visit as interesting and soul touching as I have ever experienced. The friendship of his County of Lancaster with my County of Lebanon came in for long discussion. The loyalty of my County to him in his campaign for the Republican nomination for Governor, when other counties failed him, came in for further discussion. He discussed the result of his candidacy with no rancor but made no pretense of concealing the fact that his disappointment over his defeat was unassuaged. A typical American family Mrs. Shannon would interrupt him frequently in his reminiscences to correct him, as devoted wives are wont to do. I look back to the visit as one that was crowded to the top with human interest and it raises in me high emotion that it has fallen to my lot to eulogize him today.

In Lebanon County there has been erected and constructed a splendid Facility for the rehabilitation of Veterans of the Second World War. I can think of nothing more fitting than that this Facility should be named for this distinguished soldier who lived and died in the District in which the Facility is located. My colleagues have been very kind to me in permitting me to offer this Resolution and I now propose that it be Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) That the Director of the Veterans' Administration of the United States be requested to name and designate the new veterans' Facility and Hospital in Lebanon County as "The General Edward C. Shannon Hospital" in his honor and everlasting memory.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WORLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. SPEAKER, I desire to quote from the Hanover Evening Sun of Wednesday, May 14, 1947. This is an article entitled as follows:

"Claims Daylight Saving Time Menaces Children. Physician in Philadelphia says pupils' Health is threatened by lack of proper sleep."

The article then goes on to say:

"Daylight Saving Time is a menace to the health of school children, says Dr. John P. Turner, a member of the board of education.

"Students are getting only six or seven hours' sleep and great numbers are suffering from nervous reaction because of fast time, Dr. Turner said in asking a survey be made directly through the schools by Dr. Alexander J. Stoddard, superintendent.

"Instead of getting up at 7 o'clock, our children are getting up at six after staying up late because you just can't make a child go to bed when the sun is still up," Dr. Turner told a board meeting.

"He added he had personal knowledge students are not getting sufficient sleep because he has visited hundreds of homes as a physician and has treated the children for both physical and nervous reactions caused by lack of sleep.

"A survey would determine the extent of the harm done by a lost hour of sleep daily," he suggested.

"Joseph J. Greenberg, another member of the board, asked Dr. Turner if he thought the situation were serious enough to ask the return of Standard Time and the physician replied:

"I certainly do."

"This added hour of daylight gives me more time for golf or other outdoor activity, but I don't want it at the expense of children's health, and I know that it has had a detrimental effect on my own two grandchildren."

Now, Mr. Speaker, in the light of these facts and in the light of the interest that the farming and laboring people have in this matter throughout the Commonwealth, I cannot see any reason why the Pennsylvania Senate should not unanimously approve House Bill 771 to give the people of this Commonwealth the privilege of voting on the question of Standard or Daylight Saving Time, and to end this entire confusion throughout the State of Pennsylvania.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would just like to answer the gentleman from Adams. I would like him to look back over his big, healthy and strong Philadelphia delegation and realize what Daylight Savings has done for us. The only thing it has done which is detrimental is that the ultraviolet rays have caused us to lose our hair, but I see that it does exactly the same thing in Adams County, so, I do not think the gentleman from Adams is to blame for that.

RESOLUTION

Mr. CHUDOFF offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

RESOLUTION No. 15

Mr. LEISEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Resolution No. 15, Printer's No. 617 on page 28 of today's calendar.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 18, 1947
"Hopewell" an area in Berks and Chester Counties of 1000 acres (of which 500 acres are woodland) formerly under the jurisdiction of the Federal Government is now subject to the control and supervision of the Department of Forests and Waters since it was granted to the Commonwealth under the provisions of the act approved the 2nd day of May 1945 (P. L. 834)

This beautiful park and recreational area has been partially developed. Further development is quite feasible any time by the construction of headquarters buildings, cabins, public bathing beaches, playgrounds and certain electrical sewerage and safety equipment the breaking of trails and the maintenance thereof

There are now a dozen or more State Parks there is no such park in the southeastern part of the State within a fifty mile radius of "Hopewell" there is a population of five million. These people, hundreds of thousands of whom have visited the area in the last five years together with sportsmen who hope to see a game preserve in part of the area and service clubs and desire that "Hopewell" be made a State Park since most of them have no opportunity to visit our other State Parks therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs) That the Department of Forests and Waters continue to maintain "Hopewell" as a park and recreational area and that the Department of Forests and Waters improve and develop "Hopewell" if as and when moneys available for such purpose permit

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

INTERROGATION

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader, the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Majority Leader whether it is the intention of the Majority leadership to have House Bill 417 die on the calendar.

Mr. SORG. It is not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Might I ask, Mr. Speaker, when it is proposed to call House Bill 417 up for action?

Mr. SORG. That I cannot answer truthfully, Mr. Speaker. I had understood that House Bill 417 was to be called up for action to day. However it will be deferred until tomorrow or until further conferences might be held. I do not know whether it will be called tomorrow or not.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inform the Majority Leader that in conformity with the wishes of the majority of the Democratic caucus, if the majority does not care to call up House Bill 417 for action the minority will.

Mr. SORG. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, and there will be no objection.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. W. MURRAY YOUNG, offered the following prayer:

Great and marvelous are Thy works, O Lord God Almighty. We will extol Thee, O God, our King; and we will bless Thy name for ever and ever. Every day we bless Thee, and praise Thy name eternally. Great is our God, and greatly to be praised; and his greatness is unsearchable. We will speak of the glorious honor of Thy majesty, and of Thy wondrous works.

Give us, we pray Thee, O God, the spirit of the Psalmist of old who penned the foregoing and appropriated it to the ages. May our sense of honor, of loyalty and of respect, so arrest our spirits and thinking that we shall be enabled to contribute worthily to the great cause of the common good to, and for, all mankind.

Save us to do the highest and best of which we are capable. Make us worthy to come and go before our people of this great state as uplifting forces for goodness; saturate us with balanced understanding, pulsating with a joyous outlook for all future days.

Let Thy spirit rest upon this august company assembled here in this Senatorial chamber. Be pleased to cheer and comfort the sick and distressed of our number. Save Thy people everywhere and bless Thine inheritance; feed them also and lift them up forever. Make haste to help our troubled world and thus bring in the new day—even the day of salvation, through Him who is the Christ. Amen.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

He also presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish:

DEPARTMENT, FORESTS AND WATERS TO CONTINUE TO MAINTAIN "HOPEWELL" AS A PARK

In the House of Representatives, February 18, 1947.

"Hopewell", an area in Berks and Chester Counties of 5400 acres (of which 5,000 acres are woodland), formerly under the jurisdiction of the Federal Government, is now subject to the control and supervision of the Department of Forests and Waters since, it was granted to the Commonwealth under the provisions of the act approved the 22nd day of May, 1945, (P. L. 834).

This beautiful park and recreational area has been partially developed. Further development is quite feasible at any time by the construction of headquarters buildings, cabins, public bathing beaches, playgrounds, and certain electrical, sewerage, and safety equipment, the breaking of trails, and the maintenance thereof.

There are now a dozen or more State parks; there is no such park in the southeastern part of the State; within a fifty mile radius of "Hopewell" there is a population of five million. These people, hundreds of thousands of whom have visited the area in the last five years, together with sportsmen who hope to see a game preserve in part of the area, and service clubs, urge and desire that "Hopewell" be made a State Park, since most of them have no opportunity to visit our other State Parks; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Department of Forests and Waters continue to maintain "Hopewell" as a park and recreational area, and that the Department of Forests and Waters improve and develop "Hopewell" if, as, and when moneys available for such purpose permit.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

MEMORIAL TO THE LATE MAJOR GENERAL EDWARD C. SHANNON AND URGING THE DIRECTOR OF THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION TO NAME AND DESIGNATE THE NEW VETERANS FACILITY AND HOSPITAL IN LEBANON COUNTY AS "THE GENERAL EDWARD C. SHANNON HOSPITAL" IN HIS HONOR

In the Senate, May 7, 1947.

May 20, 1946 marked the passing of Major General Edward C. Shannon at his residence in Columbia, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, at the age of seventy-five years. Stricken on Christmas Eve previously with a heart ailment, General Shannon lost strength steadily until he succumbed.

General Shannon was Lieutenant Governor and the presiding officer of this Body from 1931 to 1935 during Governor Pinchot's second term. His incumbency saw four Legislative Sessions in addition to two regular terms which lasted five months each or a total of one hundred and fifty-nine legislative days.

General Shannon sought the Republican Gubernatorial Nomination in 1934, running second to the Honorable William A. Schnader, Attorney General in Governor Pinchot's Cabinet in a primary field of sixteen candidates.

Born in Phoenixville, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, June 24th, 1870, a son of the late Frederic Hallman and Janet Murray Shannon. He was educated in the public schools of that community. As a young man, however, he left his home community and launched upon his long and illustrious career, first as a blast furnace superintendent and Chemist at Marietta in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania.

April 10th, 1889, he enlisted in the 4th Infantry, Pennsylvania National Guard as a private. Seven years later he rose to the rank of Captain. During the Spanish-American War he led Company C, 4th Infantry, to Puerto Rico where it was engaged in active service. He was mustered out November 16, 1898.

Meanwhile General Shannon had become Manager of the Triumph Manufacturing Company.

In addition General Shannon was Treasurer and General Manager of the Lucas Manufacturing Company and shortly after his return from the first World War he was elected Prothonotary of Lancaster County. He was a staunch Republican.

Returning to Columbia he was married on April 22nd, 1899, to Miss Maude C. Lucas. There was a daughter born of the marriage, Miss Janet C. Shannon, now the wife of Wilbur C. Varian, residing with their two sons at Coatesville, Pennsylvania. Mrs. Shannon predeceased the General by approximately three years.

He served along the Mexican Border in 1916-17 as a full Colonel in command of the 4th Infantry at the beginning of World War I.

When the 7th Pennsylvania Division was reorganized into the 28th Infantry Division, he was given command of the 111th Infantry Regiment. With his Regiment he landed in France May 5th, 1918 and almost immediately went into combat action where he earned the nickname of "Two Yard Shannon" in keeping that distance ahead of his front line troops. He was cited for bravery and won the Distinguished Service Medal for "exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service" in the Champagne-Marne offensive. With his Regiment he served in five separate campaigns in France and he brought his troops back home in April 1919.

On reorganization of the Guard in Pennsylvania, he was commissioned a Brigadier General in command of the 56th Infantry Brigade. Later in 1933 he was promoted to Major General and assigned to command the 28th Infantry Division and the Pennsylvania National Guard. At that time he was serving the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as Lieutenant Governor but after some arrangements he was permitted to hold both offices of Lieutenant Governor and Major General, drawing only one salary. Later special legislation was passed permitting him an extra five years as Commander of the 28th Division and the National Guard. He ended his military career at Indiantown Military Reservation on June 24th, 1939, after fifty years of service.

During World War II General Shannon served on a draft board in Lancaster County.

For twenty-five years General Shannon was President of the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans School of Scotland, Pennsylvania. He was a trustee of the Valley Forge Military Academy and served as Chairman of the Valley Forge Historical Commission and also as Chairman of the State Military Reservation Commission.

General Shannon was President of the Columbia Water Company and the First National Bank of Columbia. He was a member of the Board of Directors of the Columbia Hospital. He was a Director of the Columbia Chamber of Commerce and a past President of the Columbia Rotary. He was a Director of the Columbia Red Cross Chapter, a member of Zembo Shrine, Sojourners, Columbia Lodge No. 286 F. and A. M., Royal Arch Masons, Columbia Chapter 224, Knights Templar Commandry No. 34, a member of the Hamilton Club at Lancaster Pennsylvania, the Elks, the United Spanish War Veterans, the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Tall, grey and handsome, General Shannon was a colorful character. On a balmy Saturday afternoon in April, in 1941, during the heat of my first campaign for State Senator from the District in which we were both voters, I planned to make a dozen or more calls in Columbia and I chose to call at General Shannon's residence first. I found him at home alone with his wife, having just finished his dinner. He was in a contemplative and reminiscent state of mind and Mrs. Shannon joined us in the drawing room. I made no other call in Columbia on that Saturday afternoon. Late afternoon found me bidding adieu after a three hours' visit as interesting and soul-touching as I have ever experienced. The friendship of his County of Lancaster with my County of Lebanon came in for long discussion. The loyalty of my County to him in his campaign for the Republican nomination for Governor, when other counties failed him, came in for further discussion. He discussed the result of his candidacy with no rancor but made no pretence of concealing the fact that his disappointment over his defeat was unassuaged. A typical American family Mrs. Shannon would interrupt him frequently in his reminiscences to correct him, as devoted wives are wont to do. I look back to the visit as one that was crowded to the top with human interest and it raises in me high emotion that it has fallen to my lot to eulogize him today.

In Lebanon County there has been erected and constructed a splendid Facility for the rehabilitation of veterans of the Second World War. I can think of nothing more fitting than that the Facility should be named after this distinguished soldier who lived and died in the District in which the Facility is located. My colleagues have been very kind to me in permitting me to offer this Resolution and I now propose that it be,

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Director of the Veterans Administration of the United States be requested to name and designate the new veterans' Facility and Hospital in Lebanon County as "The General Edward C. Shannon Hospital" in his honor and everlasting memory.

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. RAHAUSER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. RAHAUSER. Mr. President and members of the Senate, there is a bill that has been offered, Senate Bill 620, which I would like the privilege of calling to the attention of the members of the Senate, not because I believe they do not read over legislation very assiduously but because I had the honor of being a member of the Veterans Administration and am able to diagnose some of the phases of this bill which would be most helpful if it were adopted by the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President the Servicemen's Readjustment Act, as passed by the Federal Government has been most successful so far as homes are concerned. In Philadelphia there were over twenty-five thousand veterans who secured homes by virtue of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act. In Pittsburgh and throughout the state of Pennsylvania a great number of veterans have secured their homes through this service.

However, while some ninety-seven per cent of the applications made for home loans under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act have been granted, under this act, so far as business loans and farm loans are concerned, for some reason or other the veteran have not been able to receive the necessary assistance. In Philadelphia, talking to the Philadelphia agency this morning, it turns out that there are 14,536 veterans who have made inquiries for business loans and out of that number only 784 were granted loans for business.

In Pittsburgh, which, by the way, has the greatest majority of business loans granted by percentage, and where the Servicemen's Readjustment Act has been found to be most successful so far as business loans are concerned, out of 1,960 applications for business loans that were made only 469 were granted. In my opinion, the difficulty is the fact that the Servicemen's Readjustment Act only provides for a fifty per cent guarantee of the loan.

Senate Bill 620, which would implement and make successful the business loan feature and the farm loan feature, is before the Senate and it is that bill which I wish to call to the attention of the members of the Senate and ask that they read it very thoroughly and offer advice to the members of the Banking Committee, as they see the bill.

The bill has been found most successful operating in New Jersey. In New Jersey, where 12,430 business loans were made, this feature having been operating for a period of thirty-four months, only seventy needed any attention of refinancing at all.

This bill is outlined on the basis of the New Jersey act and, as I have stated, the state of New Jersey has operated this feature, for some thirty-four months and has made a profit on the operations to the amount of $400,000. In other words, they have used this instrumentality to operate the business loan feature in the state of New Jersey and it has not cost the state a cent and at the same time some 12,000 veterans have been served and the authority has operated at a profit.

Under the G. I. Bill there is no provision so far as purchasing furniture for the home of a veteran is concerned. That is not covered under the G. I. Bill nor are loans for working capital, nor are certain features of business loans covered at all. So far as farm loans are concerned, for the purchase of farm equipment, so far as aiding a young veteran who wishes to go into farming is concerned, there is very little help or assistance that can be obtained from the Servicemen's Act. This is not due to the fact that the Servicemen's Act is weak but because of the fact that the bill needs implementation.

Senate Bill 620 can and will implement that phase of the thing. I am certain that this Legislature does not want to go on record as not having a bill involving some veteran's program for this year, and I call to the attention of the members of the Senate this bill, Senate Bill 620, so that this session of the Legislature may have a veteran's program that will be beneficial to the farm and business phases that are so sorely needed under the veterans bill.

The PRESIDENT. The remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny will be noted in the Legislative Journal.

BILL REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WILSON. From the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations, a committee of fifteen members I report House Resolution No. 27, which was passed by the House without amendment. In doing this I feel just two or three words of explanation would be in order to call to your attention that this is a resolution and not a bill and it is in the form of a memorial introduced by Mr. Leisey and Mr. Erb on March 17, 1947, reported from the Committee on Rules as committed by Mr. Fiss on March 24, 1947 and unanimously adopted by the House on March 25, 1947.

The Senate members, at least fourteen out of the fifteen, in a little meeting that we had, directed me to report this bill as committed.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WILSON from the Committee on Constitution Changes and Federal Relations, to which was referred on March 26, 1947, the following resolution from the House of Representatives reported the same without amendments as follows, viz:

ST. LAWRENCE SEAWAY AND POWER PROJECT

In the House of Representatives, March 18, 1947.

Whereas, The St. Lawrence Seaway and Power Project will produce no practical benefits for the people of the two countries it is designed to serve; and

Whereas, The General Assembly and the citizens of this State are greatly concerned about the effect the completion of this project would have upon them; and

Whereas, The construction of the project would burden the taxpayers of this Commonwealth, and the United States, with an initial sum estimated at from $543,000,000 to $1,350,000,000, and experience in similar public works would indicate that this project would cost much more; and

Whereas, Existing facilities, the Welland Canal, which by-passes Niagara Falls, and the Great Lakes Channels, amply provide for the present lake traffic. The railroads on both sides in the United States and Canada have demonstrated that they are prepared to handle all through traffic offered; and

Whereas, With its channels closed to navigation for about five months of the year, due to ice and weather conditions, it would be unreasonable to expect the railroads to perform the required service during the period that navigation is closed and to be in a position to handle the peak load. The railroads would be required to maintain equipment that would be idle or little used for sixty per cent of the time, and have the added problem of maintaining the personnel organization. Great numbers would have to seek employment elsewhere while tonnage was moved by government subsidized competitors. This situation would great affect the ports of Erie and Philadelphia; and

Whereas, Sea-going boats cannot travel this great distance for nothing, and the saving in transportation costs would be exceedingly small, if any; and

Whereas, It would be disastrous to Great Lake shipping, injurious to American rail, highway and inland waterways services, and seriously harmful to the American coal and iron ore industries; and

Whereas, Electrical energy that would be generated could only be used at nearby points, and it has been demonstrated that the cost of transmission over long distances greatly exceeds that generated locally; and

Whereas, Such an agreement, if ratified, would reduce the exportation of manufacturing, mining and agricultural products of this Commonwealth, and result in loss of employment and contribute to increased taxation; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States not to approve the agreement for the construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway and Power Project; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House to the President of the United States, the presiding officers of each House of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

JAMES H. DUFF

UNANIMOUS CONSENT UNDER RULE 38

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. KEPHART and Mr. CARR, To grant unanimous consent to immediate consideration of the nominations just reported from the Committee on Executive Nominations, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon all the nominations reported at to-day's session.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. KEPHART and Mr. WALKER,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to take a moment of the time of the Senate to commend the Governor for having appointed a new member to the Public Utilities Commission, whose name is now before us. It is my pleasure to have known Honorable John Conly throughout my lifetime, although we have always been on opposite sides politically, but he has always been a gentleman whose character has been beyond reproach and I say to the members of the Senate that I think he will augment the Public Utilities Commission and I ask my colleagues to joint in confirming his nomination.

Mr. RAHAUSER. Mr. President, for many years I was a resident of Franklin county, the home of B. Frank Morgal. Since my early childhood I recall Mr. Morgal as one of the hard-working young men of that community, and it is with sincere pleasure that I say to this Senate that he is one of the most honorable, hard-working gentlemen I have known in my lifetime, and it is a great pleasure and honor for me to vote for his confirmation this afternoon.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I join with my colleagues in voting for the confirmation of these two gentlemen.

However, I hope they do not forget the interests of the consumer. Too many men have been appointed in the past.

particularly during the past eight years, who eventually have forgotten the consumer and have been tied up more or less with the utilities.

I will say, nevertheless, that I have confidence in Senator Walker, Senator Barr and Senator Rahauser, and I ask for the confirmation of these two appointees, hoping they will not forget the consumer, the man that pays.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Section 6 This act shall be effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the chairman of the Committee on Highways, Mr. Snowden.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Lycoming permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SNOWDEN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, understand I am not opposing this bill. Can the gentleman from Lycoming tell me, under this bill, if there is a bridge to be built at the south end of Harrisburg?

Mr. SNOWDEN. I think the bill does extend the privilege to the Highway Department of relocating certain routes and if a bridge is necessary I would say they have a right to build such a bridge.

Mr. BARR. Could the gentleman from Lycoming tell me approximately how far from the central part of the city of Harrisburg this bridge would be located?

Mr. SNOWDEN. I could not, Mr. President; I could not answer that.

Mr. BARR. I do not know if it is possible to interrogate the Chair, but maybe he could give me that information.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. If the gentleman from Allegheny desires, the Chair would yield to someone else in order to be interrogated.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, could we be at ease for a moment?

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. BARR. From the information I can gather, there is an opportunity to build a bridge some place south of Harrisburg, and I also do know that Senator Wade and Senator Taylor have introduced a bill providing for a bridge to be built at the end of the by-pass, commonly known as Route 711.

It may be many years before this new road is accomplished, and I would like to vote for this bill, but I do not want to vote for it if it is going to knock out the north bridge, because we, two years ago, you will remember, passed quite a large appropriation which was thrown out by the Commonwealth Court.

We who come from the West are just a little bit tired of paying these tolls to reach the Capitol City of Harrisburg.

As I understand the bill presented by Senator Wade and Senator Taylor, it would be a free bridge at the end of Route 711. I further understand, Mr. President, that there are certain interests in the city of Harrisburg who are opposing the north bridge at the end of Route 711. I am fearful that when we pass Senate Bill 470, that we are going to be told "we gave you a new bridge in Harrisburg and therefore the Wade-Taylor Bill for a bridge at the north end of town will not be built."

Mr. President, if the Chairman of the Committee on Highways could tell me, I would like to know are we going to be able to discuss in committee a new bridge to be built at the end of the by-pass.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the chairman of the Committee on Highways permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, I do not believe anyone can answer that question intelligently right now. This bill here, as it is drafted, permits the Highway Department to survey and lay out a new route to eliminate this bottleneck on the other side of the river. Whether they go north or go south, there is no restriction, but I presume that will have to depend on the honesty and integrity of the Highway Department to lay out a convenient and the cheapest route and a route that would be most convenient to people coming off the pike, as well as people on the West Shore.

Therefore, to answer the question of the gentleman from Allegheny intelligently, I do not think anyone can today say where this bridge would be built.

Does that answer the question of the gentleman from Allegheny?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the bridge is definitely located in Senate Bill 470. I am speaking about the bridge which you and Senator Taylor have in a bill, to be built at the end of the by-pass.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Does the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, wish to interrogate someone?

Mr. BARR. I am very serious about this, Mr. President. I do not like to interrogate Senator Taylor on this matter. I wish Senator Taylor would take the Chair for a moment and the Presiding Officer, Senator Wade, come down on the floor and permit me to ask him a couple of questions.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. At the request of the President pro tempore, the Chair yields to the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Heyburn.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Weldon B. Heyburn) in the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. (Mr. Heyburn) The Chair recognized the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, whether in his opinion under Senate Bill 470, the location of this bridge is definitely set in this bill; am I correct.

Mr. WADE. That is correct.

Mr. BARR. Senator Wade, do you think if we pass this bill, that in turn will end all bridges for Harrisburg at this session?

Mr. WADE. It does not necessarily follow, Mr. President, that this precludes the possibility of considering other legislation which is now before the Senate, or, at least before a Senate committee.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President and members of the Senate, at my leisure I sometimes read the Harrisburg papers, and I have read editorial after editorial in favor of a bridge to be located at the bottom of the by-pass, commonly known at Route 711. I am fearful, from what information I can gather from inside the Senate and outside the rail, that this bill is being passed in lieu of building this bridge which will be a nontoll bridge. I asked the Chairman of the Committee on Highways if he was going to consider the Wade-Taylor bill and I am fearful, or maybe happy, to say I did not get any answer—he told me he did not know where this bridge was going to be built.

I read in the bill, Page 2, starting at Line 4, which says "beginning at a point on Route 507 north of Shiremanstown, then in a general easterly direction in Cumberland county to the Dauphin county line in or near Lemoyne, then easterly in Dauphin county to an intersection with Route 139 spur."

Mr. President, that is very much south of the city and it will not alleviate the situation as we have it now with the Market street and Walnut street bridges.

Mr. President, two years ago we appropriated the sum of five or seven million dollars for the taking over of these toll bridges and that appropriation was disallowed by the Commonwealth Court. I think that money could be spent to build a free bridge into the capital town of Harrisburg, and I again say I am very fearful, if we pass this bill, that the Taylor-Wade bill providing for a bridge at the bottom of the by-pass is finished because I do know of certain interests in this town who have money invested and take profits, particularly from the Market Street Bridge, who are opposed to the Taylor-Wade bill, which provides for a new bridge at the end of the by-pass.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, if the gentleman from Allegheny did not get the answer to his question it was not because I personally wished to be evasive regarding the provisions in Senate Bill 470.

The bill provides for an overall relocation of highways in Pennsylvania and then, under Section 2, it provides for relocation of the road that starts in Cumberland county—Page 2, Line 4—crosses the river on what is known as the lower bridge and arrives at point in Dauphin county near the road that goes to Hershey. At the same time it provides for another road to start north of Harrisburg and circumvent Harrisburg, meeting the road formerly mentioned and going south towards Lancaster.

This bill is the result of a highway count lasting three days, in which they stopped and questioned the drivers of some 93,000 cars, and it developed in that destination and origin survey that a bridge south of Harrisburg would relieve the traffic very much in and around the congested part of the city, and the reason for that was on account of the building of the Mechanicsburg Naval Depot in the last half dozen years, which now employs about eighteen thousand people.

Prior to that time, and perhaps the thing that affected the traffic situation most, was the building of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, which stops at a point in Cumberland county known as Middlesex. Since that road was built, the road from here to the end of the turnpike has been made a three-way road and very much improved over what it was formerly but that has increased the traffic situation very much. Mr. President, this traffic count, origin and destination count, has revealed that this lower bridge would relieve traffic more than an upper bridge.

Mr. President, I might say for myself, and I think this goes for Senator Taylor also, that if we personally would express our choice as to location of the bridge, we would prefer, or at least I would prefer the upper bridge—Senator Taylor joins me—we would prefer the upper bridge, but this bridge is more practical and will relieve the traffic situation more, and therefore, because we represent our districts, and try to represent them well, we must be for the lower bridge, regardless of our personal feelings.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it has been my pleasure to have been a member of the Committee on Highways ever since I have been in this chamber, and the chairman of that committee I have found to be a man of honesty and sincerity. Throughout my tenure of office, I have gone to him and told him of my interests in certain pieces of road in the county of Cambria, and Mr. Snowden, the gentleman from Lycoming, informed me that he had taken the position that if any counties were given any roads he cared not for party affiliation, he would do his utmost and make certain that each and every Senator would be duly recognized. These roads are not political roads; they are highways serving the people of our Commonwealth.

I attended the last meeting when the bill we are speaking on now came out of committee. I do not know whether the chairman of that committee is in favor of the bill or not—I would say not. However, as a good chairman of any committee, the bills were placed before the committee and the members of that committee acted and brought these bills out.

The gentleman from Warren, Dr. Chapman, has tried for a number of years to influence the members of the committee on Highways in the interests of the county of Warren where he is very much interested, as I recall, in a certain bridge being taken over, in the same manner as I am interested in the county of Cambria, and both of us agreed to sponsor, together, by next Monday, an important piece of legislation concerning a road in the county of Cambria and the highway the gentleman from Warren has in mind in the county of Warren.

If we are going to show partiality, I think let us show it to all. I think it is very unfair, Mr. President, that since 1937, we have stood fast and the Governor has taken the position, since Governor James and up to the present time, that no highways shall be taken over until they see fit.

I can not quite understand why at this time we find these bills on the calendar, why the gentleman from Cumberland has been given any special privileges, and he has been given special privileges by placing this bill upon the calendar. His highway is no more important than any other highway in this Commonwealth. Each and every man sitting in this chamber, I know, has certain pieces of highway that he would like to have taken over by this Commonwealth.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am going to vote for this bill with one thought, that when my bill, sponsored by Dr. Chapman and myself, and his bill, goes into the Committee on Highways, that we also be shown the same consideration as was shown to the gentleman from Cumberland county.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Cumberland permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to know how much money is involved in the laying out and the taking over of this particular road?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I do not think that anybody can give an honest answer to that question, or an intelligent answer to that question, perhaps I should say.

Mr. JASPAN. Can the gentleman from Cumberland give us an approximate idea as to the amount?

Mr. WADE. Yes, Mr. President. An approximate idea, which is only a guess on the part of the Highway Department, is that the bridge itself might cost from four to five million dollars.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, how much money is on hand at the present moment for that purpose?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, perhaps the answer to that question would be all of it, but I understand, to be a little more explicit, that there is an approximate balance of some fifty million dollars in the highway fund.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, has that been earmarked or is it just in a general fund?

Mr. WADE. Yes, Mr. President. All highway funds are earmarked by constitutional amendment, passed by this Senate twice and voted upon by the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. JASPAN. Have any funds been earmarked for this particular purpose?

Mr. WADE. None to my knowledge, Mr. President.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I have opposed this bill for some time, as giving some of the Senators more mileage than others. This is a bill for the relocation of state highways. I have opposed this bill because I have in the borough of Warren two miles which to by-pass will cost about $200,000 or $150,000. At the end of that is a bridge that will cost half a million dollars.

I am having both of these bills prepared to introduce and I withdraw my opposition to this bill and I will expect a vote for my bills.

The congestion in Warren county is much more severe than in Dauphin county. This is a link that connects New York city with Chicago and the West and connects the Atlantic with the Pacific; this is a very important by-pass that we have.

Mr. Krause, who has made the same survey in Dauphin, Cumberland and Schuylkill counties, and so forth, spent six weeks in Warren, making this survey. He has all the plans.

Mr. President, I will introduce by bill with the hope that these same Senators will vote for my bill as soon as it is prepared.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, from the information I can gather now and from what is going on here, we can kiss the bridge at the end of the by-pass good-bye. It will not be considered at this session of the Senate, I found out definitely, and I think Mr. Riley will be very happy.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, in view of the statements of the gentleman from Warren, Senator Chapman, and the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, and the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska, I might say that I should be very glad to vote for any bill they bring before the body of the Senate, whenever it provides that in the opinion of the Secretary of Highways he shall have the privilege of building that highway. I know they have bottlenecks, there are bottlenecks all over the state of Pennsylvania, unavoidable bottlenecks now, because we have not had the privilege of building highways for the last six or seven years and it is just natural that we find ourselves in this situation at this time and I have full sympathy, and I know Senator Taylor has full sympathy with all of them.

We would like, if possible, and I feel certain the Secretary of Highways feels that he would like to relieve every bottleneck in the highway system of the state of Pennsylvania tomorrow, if that were possible, but it just naturally follows that some project must be number one, and for some reason or other this was selected, and I think that was because it was the one on which the count was made, and there were only five or six counts made in the state of Pennsylvania. This one, according to the counts made, was the most vital in the state of Pennsylvania and therefore it was selected by the Highway Department. I might say further we were requested to introduce this bill; this is not of our own origin.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING, AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 534, entitled:

An Act directing the Department of Public Instruction to revise the curricula of elementary secondary and vocational schools to effectuate a more thorough understanding and appreciation of American form of government and the principles for which it stands

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, page one, line 3 of the title by inserting after the word "of" the words "the American Democracy"; amend page 2, next to last preamble, line 2 of paragraph by inserting after the word "the" where it appears for the second time in said line, the words, "American Democracy our"; amend Section 1, page 3, line 2, by inserting after the word "the" where it appears for the second time in said line, the words "American Democracy our"; amend Section 1, page 3, line 4, by inserting after the word "the" the following words, "American Democracy our"; amend Section 1, page 3, line 5, by inserting after the word "the" the words, "American Democracy our"; amend Section 1, page 3, line 6, by inserting after the word "thereof" the following; "in comparison with economic systems in force under other forms of government"; amend Section 1, page 3, line 9, by inserting after the word "the" where it appears for the second time in said line, the words, "American Democracy our".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to inquire as to the amendment which was inserted on Page 3, Line 5. As I understand it, it was after the word "the" as it appears in the said line. The word "the" appears twice in the said line, and I want to know to which "the" this amendment applies.

Mr. DENT. The second one, Mr. President. There is an error in the amendment.

Mr. WALKER. Does it apply the second one, Mr. President? As I heard the amendment read, there was no designation as to which "the" it applies to.

Mr. DENT. There is an error there, Mr. President, and the amendment needs to be corrected.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, it does not say which "the"?

Mr. DENT. That is right.

Mr. WALKER. But it means the second one, is that right?

Mr. DENT. That is right. I will have it corrected.

Mr. President, in order to expedite matters, and so that there may be no confusion over the situation, all I am attempting to do is to include in the bill the concept of our government that some of us adhere to, that is, some of us believe this to be an American democracy, whereas others would rather have it known as the American form of government. In order that we meet both schools of thought, I am now amending the bill so that, in every place where the bill originally contained the words "American Democracy", I have reinserted that clause. Where the bill was amended to read "the American government" or "American form of government," I allow that to remain in the bill. It would then read, as in the title, Page 1, that is, it would read, Line 3, "—more thorough understanding and appreciation of the American Democracy or American form of government"; in every instance in the bill where "American democracy" originally appeared, it will again appear, and in every instance in the bill where the words "American form of government" were inserted by the committee, they will be contained in the bill. I believe this is only fair to the school children who are to be taught.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. May the Chair suggest that the amendments are not clear and therefore the bill should go over in its order until the amendments can be properly prepared.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, if the amendments will be returned to me, I am sure within two minutes I can put them in proper form and I will agree that the bill go over in its order until we get them in proper form.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I want to say to the gentleman from Westmoreland that if he intends to correct the amendments and reoffer them, there will be objection on behalf of the sponsor of the bill to his doing it: I would object to these amendments if they were offered. I am going to make objection at this time and request that the bill go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There has been objection to the amendments being offered today on third reading and it has been requested that the bill go over in its order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the amendments have been offered and I am only withdrawing them at the request of the Chair. As the gentleman from Lehigh says, it certainly comes in bad grace to object after permission is given. However, if that is the attitude to be taken, there is nothing I can do except to be steam-rolled by the juggernaut of the Republican Party.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Permission was given to have the amendments read.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I wish to assure the gentleman from Westmoreland that there is no effort here to deprive him of any right he may assume to have in the situation and I trust he will please accept, for what it is worth, that in requesting that the bill go over in its order, what I wanted to do was that he might have the opportunity to discuss with the sponsor of the bill between today and tomorrow the matter of his amendments. If that is objectionable, Mr. President, then I suggest that the gentleman from Westmoreland pursue his own course.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think the last few remarks could very well have been left unsaid. For his information, I have already discussed with the sponsor of the bill the amendments. So far as pursuing my own course is concerned, I suggest to the gentleman the only course

I can pursue is the course dictated by the rules of the Senate.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, in order that the record may be straight, I want to say this, that the gentleman from Westmoreland has my apology, if he discussed these amendments with the sponsor. The sponsor just so informed me on the floor of the Senate just a few minutes ago, and I extend my apology to the gentleman from Westmoreland and withdraw all objection.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, the gentleman from Westmoreland, who had these amendments, talked with me here, but I did not sit down and see how they fitted into the bill, and for that reason I thought it would be well to let this bill go over in order until we can see how they apply to the different portions of the bill.

The main objective of this bill is to educate our people so that they might know the meaning of our form of government. Whether we call it an American democracy, or by what other name we call it, we all must realize that America is the last bulwark of free people and we are trying to educate our boys and girls so that they will know just what the meaning of our government is and so that they will not simply rely upon mere slogans or catch-words when it comes to discussion of the blessings and the privileges that we secure under our form of government.

I think the best thing to do is to permit this bill to go over in order until tomorrow, so that the Senator from Westmoreland and I may sit down and discuss this matter more at length.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Request has been made by the gentleman from Lehigh Senator Tallman, and also by the gentleman from Clinton, Senator Stevenson, that Senate Bill 534 go over in order, with the understanding that the amendments offered by the gentleman from Westmoreland have been withdrawn.

AMENDMENTS WITHDRAWN

Mr. DENT. That is correct, Mr. President, for correction.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 534, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am instructed by the Democratic caucus to inform the Senate that the Democratic caucus is unanimously in favor of this bill, which is the type of legislation that we have been advocating in order to meet necessary expenditures at the present time for buildings and properties to be used by the state in the years to come. This is the only method that we know of by which the state of Pennsylvania can perform the obligations that are assessed against the state by increased need for public buildings.

Therefore we compliment the sponsor for presenting this type of legislation at this time. We only wish they would extend to the mental hospitals the same type of legislation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE BILLS NOS. 195, 826, 952, 1076 AND SENATE BILL NO. 78 MADE SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 195, Printer's No. 584, on page 1 of today's calendar; House Bill No. 826, Printer's No. 587, House Bill No. 952, Printer's No. 620 on page 3 of today's calendar; House Bill No. 1076, Printer's No. 588, on page 5 of today's calendar and Senate Bill No. 78, Printer's No. 338 on page 6 of today's calendar, bills on second reading, be made a special order of business in their order immediately.

The motion was agreed to.

SPECIAL ORDER

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 195, entitled:

An Act prohibiting discrimination in rate of pay because of sex conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry and prescribing penalties.

The first, second and third sections were separately read and agreed to.

The fourth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. LOVETT offered the following amendments.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I want to state that these amendments just put the bill back into its original form as it was prior to this previous Printer's Number.

Mrs. DYE. Mr. Speaker, I think the present wording of the bill is ample protection to the employee and that these amendments are unnecessary and I ask the House to vote against these amendments.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the amendments which the gentleman from Westmoreland has proposed are merely technical. We believe that it strengthens the bill. The measure is one that irrespective of whether or not the amendments go in, we intend to support.

The lady from Mercer has taken a purely arbitrary position, that it is her bill and it must not be amended for any reason. I think the Members of the House who look at the section will see if they study the proposition, that the amendments suggested strengthen the bill.

I just want to state that we have offered these amendments simply because we are interested in the technical efficiency of this act and not because we in any way want to embarrass it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Lovett and Mr. Andrews and were as follows:

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROBERTSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether or not he has any legal authority for the bill as we are now discussing it, insofar as taking away from every public employe the right to strike, or to lose his job.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I see no objection to this bill from a legal standpoint. This bill was discussed thoroughly in the State of Pennsylvania and I am sure it was passed on by the Attorney General. The man who drew up the bill, Mr. Hannestad, who is an authority on constitutional law, has given it his very careful consideration and he approves of this measure from a legal standpoint.

A similar act was passed in the State of New York. It was passed upon by the highest legal authority in that state. The Governor signed the bill, the Governor himself being a lawyer, and I think that bill was acted upon by all the leading lawyers in the State of Pennsylvania from a constitutional standpoint and I think this question also in Pennsylvania has been passed upon. Personally I do not see anything in this bill that is objectionable from a legal standpoint.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I asked the gentleman if he had any legal authority from any Court or Courts as to the constitutionality of this act. I presume the answer is "no."

Mr. ROBERTSON. No, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman familiar with the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board Act?

Mr. ROBERTSON. I have read the act, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. As I understand it, Mr. Speaker, House Bill 826, Printer's No. 587, provides in the case of a public employe who is not entitled by law to a hearing upon dismissal or removal, his request for a hearing shall be filed with the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board. I believe that is clear language.

Mr. ROBERTSON. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman familiar with the case of Western Pennsylvania Hospital vs. Lichtenwalter, reported in the Pennsylvania Supreme Courts, Volume 340, page 382?

Mr. ROBERTSON. I have never read that case, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, first, I desire to thank the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Robertson.

Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Elk familiar with what is commonly known as the Western Pennsylvania Hospital case, construing the constitutionality of the Pennsylvania State Labor Relations Act.

Mr. SORG. I am not familiar with the case by name and number.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire then from the last and third authority, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner?

I thank the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I regret that it becomes necessary to inquire of this counsel. Is the gentleman from Delaware familiar with the famous case of Western Pennsylvania Hospital vs. Lichleiter?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, before answering the question of the gentleman, I do not like the doubtful compliment that is being paid to me as being the third in line in his questioning.

I would say to the gentleman from Allegheny that I am fairly familiar with the case, although I do not know that I can answer all the questions that he might desire to have answered.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, the question that I want answered is by what stretch of the imagination can this Legislature by amending a bill which is not an amendment to the Pennsylvania Labor Relation Board Act, bring a matter within the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania State Labor Relations Board without amending the Pennsylvania State Labor Relations Board Act?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would take it that the Legislature has the right to designate the agency, being a State agency, before whom anyone might appear, or before whom anyone might have a hearing. I don't know that it is necessary particularly to amend the Labor Relations Act because it is not exactly an extension of the jurisdiction of the Labor Relations Board. It merely sets up an agency.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman, if it is an extension of the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania State Labor Relations Board authority would there not have to be an amendment to the Pennsylvania State Labor Relations Board Act?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I have not so conceived it, and I am advised by my colleagues at the bar that the Statutory Construction Act would take care of it.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I have then the colleagues of the gentleman explain to me how you can amend an act by extending its authority and jurisdiction without amending the act which has to do with that authority and jurisdiction.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, number three will yield to number two.

The SPEAKER. The Chair now recognizes number two. This is a process of elimination.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that under the Statutory Construction Act we can completely nullify the law by simply passing another law.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, with that I perfectly agree, but I would like to ask the gentleman whether or not he feels in the light of what was said in the Western Pennsylvania Hospital case, that this act is constitutional as it now stands without an amendment to the Pennsylvania State Labor Relations Board Act, and to quote to the gentleman the language which is pertinent from the Western Pennsylvania Hospital case, from page 389 of that opinion as follows:

"In addition it will be noted that the term 'employer,' as defined by the act excludes the Commonwealth or any political subdivisions thereof."

Therefore at present under our law, under the decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, the State Labor Relations Board has no authority whatsoever over any employees of the Commonwealth or any political subdivision.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I ask the question, how by giving jurisdiction in this act in the event of a strike, which does not amend the Pennsylvania State Labor Relations Board Act, this present bill 826 is constitutional?

Mr. SORG. That is precisely why we make this provision, Mr. Speaker, that it shall come within the jurisdiction of the Labor Relation Board, because up to the present time the Commonwealth has not been recognized as an employer, and that very case itself gives rise to this particular provision.

Mr. BROWN. The gentleman feels, Mr. Speaker, that the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board could exercise a jurisdiction which was not conferred upon it by the Legislature, by broadening its powers in an act wholly unrelated insofar as its passage is concerned, with the Pennsylvania State Labor Relations Board Act? Is that what the gentleman believes to be the correct interpretation of the Statutory Construction Act?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has asked two questions in one. As to the first one, I say the very reason we want this provision in this act is to give legislative authority to the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board, and, second, under the Statutory Construction Act it is not necessary to specifically refer to any of the other laws relating to the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, then may I ask the gentleman this question, if that is correct, then the constitutional provisions that an act shall have only one subject matter expressed in its title, could be entirely nullified by this Statutory Construction Act under the gentleman's interpretation, because since this is not in the Act now, as the Supreme Court has said it is not, how can we write into the act, without amending the title to the act, and bring in other subject matter within the purview of the act?

Mr. SORG. I repeat that we can completely nullify a law, without even referring to it, by writing an inconsistent provision, Mr. Speaker, and if we can nullify it, certainly we can either modify or extend it in a much milder form.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, certainly the gentleman does not contend, and personally I agree with what the gentleman has said that that means where an act contains a specific subject matter at the present time, and that subject matter does not include the question under discussion, and the constitution requires that all matters must be expressed within the title of the act, that simply by amending an unrelated act, we amend the title of the act to which jurisdiction has been attached? Is that what the gentleman intends to convey to this House?

Mr. SORG. No, Mr. Speaker, it is not my intention to convey that. It is my contention that it is not necessary to amend the title or to amend the Labor Relations Act to give them jurisdiction over public employees of the Commonwealth.

Mr. BROWN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, all of these acts which we have placed as a special order of business in my humble opinion contain serious questions.

This act contains a serious question as to its constitutionality, in its present form, and the right of the State Labor Relations Board to exercise jurisdiction not conferred upon it by the title of the act, which gives life to the Pennsylvania State Labor Board. I cannot understand the reasoning of the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, and I would ask him whether or not it would be acceptable to him to pass this matter on to the Committee on Judiciary for interpretation.

This is a serious matter. It has nothing to do with the merits of the act. I am not discussing that. I am discussing whether you have any act at all, and I believe the gentleman does not intend to side-swipe the question, but I do believe he is somewhat unfamiliar, because of the pressure of things that he must carry as Majority Floor Leader, and I would ask the gentleman whether or not he would be willing to submit this question to the Judiciary Committee for interpretation and construction.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, to carry the gentleman's request to its logical conclusion would be to take away the prerogative of every other committee in this House. Every law that we pass lends itself to the question of constitutionality, and the logical step forward from the gentleman's present request would be to insist that every bill that comes out of every committee of this House be passed on to the Judiciary Committee on constitutional grounds, and I, therefore, will not consent to its re-referral to the Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. BROWN. I thank the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg for his rather naive answer. I have not asked that all bills be referred to the Judiciary Committee. Obviously the answer is that nothing is to be done to this bill but to move it on, and the gentleman gives me a rather unique answer. I shall not press the question further but I shall leave it to the courts to decide.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I have been interested in this legal discussion. However this is such a bad bill that the worst luck that we could wish for the majority is that they proceed as speedily as possible to enact it. It is a bad bill for the party that sponsors it, and a bad bill for the public.

I have no intention to discuss the measure at any considerable length on second reading. It has two purposes. One purpose is to build a fence around the teachers. It is an anchor cast to windward. In the event that this General Assembly passes a wholly objectionable bill from the standpoint of the teaching fraternity, here is a fence to fence them in, drive them into line, club them, rule them by a species of legislative terrorism. It has that point of view.

The other objective of this bill is to transfer the burden of relief during a period of unemployment from the Unemployment Compensation Fund to Public Assistance. Those are two very objectionable objectives, so I see no reason why we should discuss this bill at length today until it comes up for final passage in its proper order.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second to fifth sections inclusive and title were separately read and agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, before proceeding with the agreement on second reading, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I merely wanted to ask the gentleman if I understood him correctly that the bill will be debated on third reading.

Mr. ANDREWS. It will, Mr. Speaker.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 952, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (P. L. 1937 page 2897), entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" by further defining employees ineligible to compensation by providing for increases in the duration of benefits by changing the manner in which compromises are to be made and by providing a prison sentence for individuals fraudulently claiming benefits.

The first section was read and agreed to

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. CAPANO offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 402) page 7, lines 12 to 16 inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 404) page 11, line 17, by placing a bracket before the word "multiplied".

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 404) page 12, line 5, by placing a bracket after the word "year" and inserting immediately thereafter "for a period not to exceed twenty-six (26) weeks".

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 404) page 18, lines 1 to 21 inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 404) page 19, lines 1 to 21 inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 404) page 20, lines 1 to 21 inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 404) page 21, lines 1 to 21 inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

TABLE SPECIFIED FOR THE DETERMINATION OF
RATE OF BENEFITS

(Section 404 Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law)

Part A Wages Paid in Highest Quarter of Base Year	Part B Weekly Benefit Rate	Part C (Section 401 (a)) Qualifying Wages in Base Year
$288-312	$12	$360
313-337	13	390
338-362	14	420
363-387	15	450
388-412	16	480
413-437	17	510
438-462	18	540
463-487	19	570
488-512	20	600
513-537	21	630
538-562	22	660
563-587	23	690
588-612	24	720
613 or more	25	750

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, the bill as reported from Committee proposes to raise the benefits from twenty weeks to twenty-four weeks, also to increase the benefits from twenty dollars to twenty-one dollars.

The amendment which I have offered proposes to increase the benefits from twenty weeks to twenty-six weeks, and the amount or the rate from twenty dollars to twenty-five dollars. The bill as it now stands on the one hand proposes to benefit labor, and on the other hand it holds out a club to strike down labor in the event of strikes, regardless who may be the cause of the strike. That is unfair and unjust. In all labor disputes consideration need be given as to who is the cause of the strike, and we believe that the bill should remain as it now stands regarding the strike clause.

Mr. SORG. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Capano.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAPANO. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I have not had an opportunity to examine thoroughly the amendments offered by the gentleman. They were just placed in my hands, and I should like to inquire whether the amendments have for their purpose anything other than their increase in benefits?

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, also to restore the strike clause that was formerly in the act.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the net effect of the amendment is to write an entirely different bill than that presented for consideration by this House. The twofold purposes of the bill are, number one, to take away the benefits of striking employees and those involved in industrial disputes. The second is to limit or to extend the benefits past the length of time so that Pennsylvania will be made comparable with other similar industrial states. These amendments have the effect of completely nullifying both of the provisions that are incorporated in House Bill 952, as it appears on the calendar. I ask the Members to vote down the amendments.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I wish to rise in defense of the amendments to this bill, particularly the one calling for the elimination of benefits to men on strike. The right to strike is one of the basic American rights and I don't think that this Assembly has the right to take that away from the working class of people.

The workers of this country have just as much right to sell their labor for as much as they can get as the farmer has to hold his grain, his cattle, his hogs or any other product he might have for higher prices.

The worker has just as much right to sell his labor to the highest bidder as the business man has to sell his products to the highest bidder.

Labor has the right to determine how and under what conditions it will work. Chief Justice Hughes of the United States Supreme Court has said:

"The legality of collective action on the part of employees in order to safeguard their proper interests is not to be disputed. It has long been recognized that employees are entitled to organize for the purpose of securing the redress of grievances and to promote agreements with employers relating to rates of pay and conditions of work."

So far I have not seen any suggestions from any one to compel the farmers or manufacturers to sell what they grow or produce at a given time or price. Under our competitive system you cannot force a buyer to buy or a seller to sell. Certainly under our system a man can sell his goods or withhold them. The workers of this country have nothing to sell except the labor of their hands and the labor of their brains, certainly they have an equal right under our constitution, under our concept of government, to sell that service or withhold it. If this legislature should pass a law to deprive them of that right then this legislature is changing our form of government. You cannot enact a law and preserve freedom for private investment and for other citizens and force labor to abandon their right to stop working collectively. We did not hear any howl being raised when the farmers held back their products to force higher prices when they had every right to do so. Where was the howl when business in general held everything back in order to force higher prices? Where was the howl when the big firms of the nation refused to make any material for the war effort before they were guaranteed 12% over and above cost. This cost the taxpayers of this nation billions of dollars but that was o.k., that was business. But if workers want to sell the only commodity they have for a higher price then every one is yelling unfair, shackle labor bust up labor unions, deny them their god given right to sell their product to the highest bidder. All the repressive labor bills this house can pass will not do one single thing toward eliminating the basic causes of strikes, which are a product of insecurity and injustice. Such laws would go far toward making more acute than ever the distress that sometimes boils over in strikes and industrial turmoil. This legislature under the provisions of our Constitution cannot in all fairness and justice pass this kind of legislation. All labor is asking for is the right to sell their product to the best advantage possible, the same right that the farmer, the business man, or any other group has under our form of government.

From time immemorial we have always had to protect the weak from the strong and if you take away the rights of workers to draw unemployment compensation when they are fighting for their rights then you are placing in the hands of big business the weapon to starve the workers in order to bend them to their will. Do the members of this House want to give to the employers of this state this weapon which would give them the power of forcing starvation on their employees in order to bend them to their will? I personally have seen this kind of plan in action on various occasions and have seen this kind of plan cause misery and starvation not only on my own family but on many others.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to go back a couple of years and recite a few things that happened during the depression. I have seen men fired for even mentioning the word "Union." I have seen men fired for selling tickets for a benefit dance to help men who were on strike. I have seen men fired for many different things. I have seen men blacklisted and denied the right of a job and their names were sent on to employers in other counties and all over the same county. They couldn't get a job unless they went under an assumed name and as soon as their name was found out they were fired from the payroll, because they held the courts, they held the borough councils and even the school boards in the palm of their hands. I have seen men go into the mines—and I am speaking from an industrial standpoint because I am a coal miner—I have seen men go into the mine under a system of no pay, and work for one week without getting a cent of pay. I have seen men go into the mine with nothing but water in their buckets because there wasn't enough food in their home for their families. I have seen men work 18 hours a day, who got paid on the basis of 8 hours and no pay for overtime. I have seen the foreman say, "Boys, today you are going to work at the top, and if you don't like it take out your tools." And you couldn't take out your tools because there was no place to go. We had to accept his decision although we didn't like it. Can you blame us that we organized ourselves and went into something that would protect us and give us a decent wage standard? What was the result? I know of a coal company which spent thirty-three million dollars to bust up the United Mine Workers. For ten years that coal company did not pay a dividend to its stockholders. Their employees starved and the only time they came back was after the United Mine Workers had a collective contract which they signed with the Company, and from that time on the men have had a decent living, and the company paid dividends. We have records to prove where under the old system people starved to death. I have seen children faint for want of something to eat. If you didn't have any balance in the office you couldn't get anything. I have seen my own family of six children, my wife and myself where we had flour in the house and I could not buy a three-cent cake of yeast because I did not have a balance in the Company store. Under those conditions, if you allow the employers of this State to get that kind of weapon in their hands again, it will create considerable difficulty so, therefore, I am asking that this House help to support these amendments and put them across.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, since we will desire a roll call on these amendments, it is well perhaps that the House clearly understands what the amendments are designed to do.

As I get it, the bill in its present form provides unemployment compensation at the rate of twenty dollars a week for twenty-four weeks. The amendments provide unemployment compensation at the rate of twenty-five dollars a week for twenty-six weeks, and the provision now prevailing under the law, that after a five week period strike benefits from unemployment relief under the amendment are retained in the law as it is at present. The effect of this bill as it stands is just the same as it would be in the case of destitute people. If the employee is destitute and he doesn't get unemployment compensation, under the laws of this Commonwealth he gets public assistance.

Under unemployment compensation, under this bill he would get twenty dollars a week. If he had a family of five children, as many workers do, it is necessary for him to go on public assistance—and you couldn't keep him off of public assistance under your present law if you tried, you would pay him one hundred fifty or one hundred thirty-five dollars a month instead of eighty. It is just another scheme to turn over certain social obligations from the industry to unemployment compensation and to the general public for general relief.

Mr. Speaker, on these amendments we would ask for a roll call.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I want to reply briefly to the previous gentleman. First I would like to direct the attention of the first speaker to the fact that there is nothing in this act, nor will there be anything submitted for the consideration of this House, with any administrative support whatever that would involve or make more difficult the collective bargaining process or the very existence of the union organization.

I too have seen injustices rendered through the collective bargaining process and through the activity of labor organizations. With those activities I hold no grievance whatever, but with the gentleman's example of a farmer who holds back his goods, we fail to see analogy, for the simple reason that when he holds back those goods he does not get paid.

This is not a union busting proposition; it is purely a question as to whether or not the public should subsidize the voluntary suspension of work under a law originally designed to create a fund for the protection of the unfortunate who was involuntarily out of work.

With reference to the remarks of the second gentleman, Mr. Speaker, I desire to direct the attention of the Members specifically to the difference in eligibility for public assistance and for unemployment compensation. All he needs to do to become eligible for public assistance is to become hungry, and if his children are hungry and the farmer is hungry, he is eligible, only if he is destitute. We propose to ask for an appropriation to take care of those situations, but there is a great difference for eligibility for unemployment compensation. It must be an involuntary situation for this act to become effective,, involuntarily unemployed.

I desire also to further state that under the present provisions of the law, even should he receive public assistance at a time when he is sorely in need of it, when he does return to work and accumulate funds, he must make reimbursement to the public who subsidized him during that period. This is not so under the unemployment compensation law. It will not necessarily have the effect in the event these amendments are passed of transferring a person irrevocably from unemployment compensation fund to the relief fund.

Mr. DEMECH. Mr. Speaker, I am a representative of Labor from Luzerne County. I have seen strikes, I have seen a lot of strikes. In fact I want to say to this General Assembly here that a lot of those strikes were caused not by the laboring man but by management.

I have bargained over the table with management, I have bargained for days and nights, we tried to get places with management, we tried to stop strikes. We never went there and asked for strikes, but management would never concur with us.

Mr. Speaker, I am talking in defense of these amendments. It is not labor that is to blame all the time. I have seen it for the past five years that I have been connected with labor and I know how management operates. I don't say that management is the sole blame for everything, and I don't want anyone in here to say that labor is the sole blame for everything. I am here speaking for the benefit of labor.

Mr. Speaker, I ask each and every one of you to vote in favor of the amendments.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I first want to disagree with the Majority Floor Leader when he says that our amendments destroy the act. That is not true, because our amendments improve the section of the act which increase the benefits and lengthen the benefits from twenty weeks to twenty-six weeks, and twenty dollars to twenty-five dollars, so to my mind that is not destroying the act.

Now, as far as the strike provisions are concerned, we strike them out and leave the law as it is today. To me it is getting to be a funny world that we live in. We are down in Washington appropriating money by the billions and sending it over into foreign countries to protect the democracies. Right here at home we are depriving our people of acting in a democracy. Our democracy gives every man the right to strike. Every manufacturer that I have heard talk agrees with that right. Nevertheless we deprive the men and women of this country, who through no fault of their own have to go on strike, and we in Pennsylvania will deprive our people of that right under this particular bill, where if you agree with these amendments that we offer today we improve this bill before us, and we save the rights of the working women and men of this country to act in a democracy for the good of all I certainly ask every member in this House to support these amendments to this bill.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOVETT. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SORG. Will the gentleman say, Mr. Speaker, that the workers of Detroit, Michigan have the right to strike?

Mr. LOVETT. I don't know whether they do or not, to be honest with the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SORG. Will the gentleman say, Mr. Speaker, whether or not the workers in Ohio have the right to strike?

Mr. LOVETT. I don't know whether they do or not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SORG. Will the gentleman say, Mr. Speaker, whether or not the workers in Illinois have the right to strike?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman if there is any other state in this union that the men have a right to strike?

The SPEAKER. Who is interrogating whom?

Mr. LOVETT. Let's be fair, Mr. Speaker. I might state to the gentleman that I am only interested in Pennsylvania.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I will answer the gentleman. Every employe in every one of the states of the United States has the right to strike. I would like also to direct the gentleman's attention to the fact that the workers in Michigan have the right to strike, also in Illinois and Ohio and in all of the forty-five states in which there are no unemployment benefits to strikers.

I desire further, Mr. Speaker, to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett.

In the event, an employee would be given twenty-five dollars per week under the Unemployment Compensation Law how much would an employee who worked make each hour on a forty hour a week basis.

Mr. LOVETT. That would depend on his wages, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SORG. I just want to direct the attention of the gentleman to the fact that a single man must work forty hours a week at eighty cents an hour to compare with the work of somebody who gets twenty-five dollars a week and does nothing.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, for the life of me I couldn't fathom why the interrogation. I agree that possibly every man has a right to strike in Pennsylvania and some of the other states that pay them unemployment compensation. I see no reason why after a period of five weeks we should deny paying those men unemployment compensation. You must also realize that this bill does not always just affect the individual who goes on strike. The man is deprived of the right to work due to the fact that the place is on strike, although he may be perfectly willing to go to work. The company sends them home, and under this bill he would not be entitled to unemployment compensation if the particular plant in which he was working was on strike.

For the life of me I cannot see why we in Pennsylvania would step backward instead of forward at this particular time when we are spending thousands and thousands of dollars to build up this Democracy and sell it to the rest of the world. I certainly still ask you to support these amendments.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it is in line with the times that the Majority Leader has established a going wage of eighty cents an hour, six dollars and forty cents a day on the basis of a five-day week, thirty-two dollars to make a comparison on that basis.

Now, Mr. Speaker, there has been a wave that has swept this country. It is distinctly a labor-bating, union busting wave, and like all waves it will pass. The American people will return to normalcy, to right thinking. It is inconceivable that having established the right to strike as a fundamental right it should be proposed to punish the man that exercised that right.

And who should stand the burden of unemployment if not industry? Since these rights are so vital and since this bill in its present form is a challenge upon the part of the constituency for which I speak, we accept that challenge now and in the days to come.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state it.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I have a question to ask the Majority floor leader as to section 3091 on page four. I believe we are discussing now the amendments offered by the gentleman from Fayette or Washington, I don't recall which Mr. Capano. I am not sure whether these amendments had any thing to do with section 3091, on page four.

The SPEAKER. The amendments are all to Section two. They are the amendments to four hundred two and four hundred four.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, in order to ask the question that I had in mind of the gentleman from Elk as to section 3091, shall I do that after the roll call or would I do that before the roll call on the first amendments?

The SPEAKER. The Chair might state to the gentleman from Allegheny that it might be done now with unanimous consent, or it can be done after the roll call.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I will wait until after the roll call.

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, the principal objection which we have to the bill in its present state is to section D, and it is that section that is so designed that in the event of a strike it punishes only one individual regardless of who precipitates in the strike.

I ask you, Members of the House, what is fair about a bill of that kind, where it does not take into consideration the persons who bring about the strike?

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Andrews and Mr. Lovett.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Lovett, Petrosky and Weiss.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

Mr. BROWN asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, with reference to Section 1.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. This section (Section 1,) Mr. Speaker, has not been able to get the kind of attention that the section which was the subject matter of amendment received. However, it is a very vital section.

I should like to ask the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, why brackets were inserted around the words "with the approval of the Attorney General and under rules and regulations adopted therefor." The bracket goes down to line 10, leaving it entirely to the discretion of the Secretary of the Department to grant the compromise and to abate the penalty without making rules and regulations, unless the amount is in excess of one thousand dollars, when the matter is to be submitted to the Attorney General. I would like to know why this deletion?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the only reason I can see for the deletion is this: in order to have definite procedure, that it should go through several hands rather than through a particular department which has jurisdiction, and perhaps making decisions in every other branch of the Unemployment Compensation Law.

Mr. BROWN. Does not the gentleman feel that the Secretary of the Department should be directed by this Legislature to at least adopt rules and regulations for these compromises?

Mr. SORG. I do not see the necessity for rules and regulations, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. We were unable, Mr. Speaker, to hear the answer because of the noise.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, repeat his answer?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, Section 309.1 permits compromises in those cases where it would be inequitable to insist upon the full penalty and interest. I see no need why there should be particular rules and regulations adopted from time to time, especially when all you need to decide a case is another rule and regulation.

Mr. BROWN. Does not the gentleman feel, Mr. Speaker, that some safeguard should be placed in this section so that those who might be favored would not receive that favor above those who are not so favored?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the only conceivable way I could think that that could be accomplished would be to specifically write rules and regulations ourselves for every specific case that might arise. If he is given the authority to write rules and regulations, certainly he should have the authority to make decisions and in that case there isn't any need for formulating a procedure.

Mr. BROWN. There must have been a reason Mr. Speaker, for putting in line 8 originally "with the approval of the Attorney General under the rules and regulations adopted therefor." Does not the gentleman feel that that would be some protection to those who ultimately might not be favored by the Department?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I agree that we might be putting in six more pages of safeguards here. I feel nevertheless that there are sufficient safeguards for this measure as there are for any other measure under the jurisdiction of the particular Department.

Mr. BROWN. I wish to thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

The third and fourth sections were separately read and agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

The SPEAKER. The Chair might ask the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Capano, since his amendments to section 2 were not agreed to, whether he desires to withdraw his amendments to the title?

Mr. CAPANO. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the title?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1076, entitled:

An Act to amend subsection two of section six of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1168) entitled "An act to protect the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively creating the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board officers of the State government and courts providing for the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively declaring certain labor practices by employers to be unfair further providing that representatives of a majority of the employees be the exclusive representatives of all the employees authorizing the board to conduct hearings and elections and certify as to representatives of employees for purposes of collective bargaining empowering the board to prevent any person from engaging in any unfair labor practice and providing a procedure for such cases including the issuance of a complaint the conducting of a hearing and the making of an order empowering the board to petition a court of common pleas for the enforcement of its order and providing a procedure for such cases providing for the review of an order of the board by a court of common pleas on petition of any person aggrieved by such order and establishing a procedure for such cases providing for an appeal from the common pleas court to the Supreme Court providing the board with investigatory powers including the power to issue subpoenas and the compelling of obedience to them through application to the proper court providing for service of papers and process of the board prescribing certain penalties" declaring picketing by persons not employed by the place of employment picketed to be an unfair labor practice.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, we just passed over House Bill 1076, Printer's No. 588; is that correct?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. BROWN. I regret that the Speaker's attention was not attracted. I had several questions I wanted to ask on this bill, but the Speaker was in such a hurry that I was not seen.

The SPEAKER. The Chair might inform the gentleman that he was not in a hurry. If the gentleman had been at the microphone he would have been properly recognized.

If there is no objection the Chair will return to page 5 of today's calendar, House Bill 1076, Printer's No. 588, and withdraws its decision that the bill was agreed to on second reading. The Chair hears none.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. BROWN. I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, explain the purpose of the amendment to this bill?

Mr. SORG. To what amendments does the gentleman refer, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair might inform the gentleman that he must be confused as to the bill. There have been no amendments offered.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman explain House Bill 1076, Printer's No. 588.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I will, Mr. Speaker. The purpose of House Bill 1076, Printer's No. 588, is to make it an unfair labor practice by a person or persons who is not an employee to picket while a strike is in progress affecting the place of employment. It is designed primarily to discourage the practice of retaining professional pickets by any employees' organization.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman whether the right to picket is a constitutional right, protected under the rights of free speech and free assembly?

Mr. SORG. In reply to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, I would say that it is.

Mr. BROWN. May I ask the gentleman a further question? Does he feel that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania can prohibit and make punishable by fine and imprisonment the doing of an act which under the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution secures to every person as an attribute of the fundamental law of the land?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I am not aware of any fine or imprisonment provision in this particular law.

Mr. BROWN. Is it not true, Mr. Speaker, that under the State Labor Relations Act that failure to comply with an order can be enforced by a fine or imprisonment?

Mr. SORG. That would be the failure to comply with an order, Mr. Speaker. This law does not contemplate the failure to comply with an order, but provides for a specific prohibition, making it an unfair labor practice which would involve the loss of certain rights given under the law.

Mr. BROWN. If the State Labor Relations Board finds that this is an unfair labor practice and issues an order to desist to the person or persons, and the person or persons refuses to desist, could not those persons be subjected to the fine and penalty provided for by the act?

Mr. SORG. For failure to comply with the order, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Therefore, it would simply mean, Mr. Speaker, that if one who is not an employee of a plant that is on strike would continue to picket, that the State Labor Relations Board could issue a desist order and the person who ignored the order could be fined or imprisoned.

Mr. SORG. That is not my interpretation, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. What is the penalty, Mr. Speaker, under this act for refusing to obey what the State Labor Relations Board says is an unfair labor practice?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the penalty is on the part of those who seek to establish the practice, or enter into a contract agency for the purpose of establishing picket lines, in which event he would suffer the loss of certain rights under the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Act, after it is established that he is on strike.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean to convey to this House that the failure then to comply with an order of the State Labor Relations Board, which has decreed the matter to be an unfair labor practice, does not carry with it any penalty?

Mr. SORG. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, how can the gentleman distinguish between the penalty that would be imposed for refusing to obey an order of the Pennsylvania State Labor Relations Board as against an order issued in any other matter.

Mr. SORG. I did not so state, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. That is all.

I am sorry, Mr. Speaker, if in any manner I seem to have hurt the Speaker. We are proceeding with some dispatch in these matters, and I think that time should be given at least for us to so collect the matter which we have that we can intelligently talk about it.

Now, Mr. Speaker, these are serious matters involving curtailment of certain fundamental rights of individuals, and the House should not attempt to refuse to give all the time that is necessary. Certainly I cannot agree with the statements of the Majority Leader that to refuse to obey the order of the State Labor Relations Board in one instance imposes a penalty, and to do the same thing in another instance would not impose a penalty. Certainly there is nothing in the act that would convey such a construction.

The facts are simply these, if the person violates what we are now maintaining is an unfair labor practice, the same punishment would apply as would apply in any other part of the law, and I ask the House a simple question, how can the State of Pennsylvania write a matter which is a constitutional protection in this bill as an unfair labor practice and make them amenable to fine and imprisonment? I would like to have someone answer that question for me.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman must distinguish between the specific prohibition and the failure to comply with a specific order. There is no fine or penalty imposed under this particular section for the specific act. The fine and the imprisonment or whatever the penalty may be, may be applied to the refusal to obey a governmental agency.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, for refusing to obey the governmental agency is the order that the governmental agency will issue to cease the picketing. I cannot understand and I am sorry that I am so dense in my mind, that there is a distinction between obeying one order and not another order, and if there is no penalty in this act, as the gentleman says, why do we need it? Who is going to enforce it? If it is going to be enforced it will be enforced under the general provisions of the State Labor Relations Act, which under the general clause,—I do not have the act here, but I think it says, "Any person or persons violating any order of the Commission shall be subject to a fine imposed upon him". I leave the question as I have said before, can the General Assembly of this Commonwealth write into this law punishment and imprisonment for the commission of an act which otherwise under the Constitution of these United States is a fundamental guarantee of each and every person within the confines of the territorial jurisdiction of the United States.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I think as a layman I will have to untangle this legal situation. As I read this bill it is not designed to punish anybody who pickets. It is designed to restrain a labor union which hires anyone who happens to be a member of a picketer's union, who is not employed by the concern that is on strike. Under this bill I can picket, you can picket and nobody can stop you from picketing if you are not hired, but under this bill it is designed if the labor union hires you and you are not working for the place, then they will punish the union, and the only question is whether you can punish a union because I do something I have the legal right to do if I am not paid the picketer's union rate, and that is the whole question. If I picket free, I can picket. If I charge the legal rate, the union rate for the union picketers, then you punish the labor union. That is all this bill does with all deference to the lawyers.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, as I understand from the explanation of this bill by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, if I was in sympathy with the union which was striking, I would have the right to picket as long as I was not a professional, is that correct?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I would even go further than that. I would say you would have the right to picket even if you were a professional.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Suppose, Mr. Speaker, on the day that I was picketing I got tired and I got John Smith to finish the day for me, or for three hours, would I be allowed to hire John Smith to finish the day for me?

Mr. SORG. If John Smith was not an employe of the establishment it would be an unfair labor practice, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Whether a member of the union or a member of the labor organization, is that correct, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. SORG. No, that is not correct, Mr. Speaker. Assuming that the gentleman is a member or an employe.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Supposing I am an employe and I hire somebody, would that be an unfair labor practice, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. SORG. It would be an unfair labor practice, Mr. Speaker, for which I see no penalty.

Mr. CHUDOFF. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. COLE. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, under the provisions of this bill,—I am taking the coal industry, for instance, we have what we call a union shop contract covering the whole industry. Supposing that the whole industry comes out on a strike, they do not need pickets at the plant where I am working but over at the plant across the river they need some pickets, would I be allowed under this bill to go over there and picket?

Mr. SORG. In my opinion, Mr. Speaker, this bill would declare that an unfair labor practice.

Mr. COLE. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOFF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker. I can take it if the rest of the Members can.

Mr. GOFF. Mr. Speaker, under this act there seems to be an issue here that has not been brought up as yet. We talk about plants, if I might cite a supposed case, if there are two dishwashers at the Harrisburger hotel and they are the sole union and they are continued there and they belong to a dishwasher's union of 100 members, this bill prohibits the other 98 union members from coming down and assuming a place on the picket lines, is that correct?

Mr. SORG. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Labor Relations for further study and possible amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 78, entitled:

An Act to further amend clauses (k), (s) and (y) of section four and to re-enact and further amend section three hundred one of the act, approved the fifth day of December, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis; requiring employers to keep records and make reports, and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons; providing procedure and administrative details for the determination, payment and collection of such contribution and the payment of such compensation; providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies; creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer; and prescribing penalties," providing for modification of the manner in which employer contribution rates are determined, and for a lag between the period on which contribution rates are based and the rate period; and placing experience rating on a permanent basis.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

HOUSE BILL No. 1001 MADE SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. RAGOT. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1001, Printer's No. 394, on page 5 of today's calendar, bills on second reading, be made a special order immediately. The motion was agreed to.

SPECIAL ORDER

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1001, entitled:

An Act to provide that Labor Unions shall file certain statements and reports annually with the Department of Labor and Industry imposing powers and duties on the department relative thereto and providing penalties

The first and second sections were read and agreed to. The third section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman be kind enough to inform me why on page two, line 14, is it necessary that these reports shall at all times be open to public inspection?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I should like to yield to the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Ragot, the sponsor of the measure.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northampton permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RAGOT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. BROWN. The question, Mr. Speaker, is why on page two, line 14, in this bill it places a duty upon the Department of Labor and Industry at all times to keep all these records open to public inspection. I would like to know the reason for that provision.

Mr. RAGOT. Mr. Speaker, I do not see any special reason why they should not be open to inspection all the time.

Mr. BROWN. Does the gentleman know of any other instance in the law where private confidential matters as to the payment of salaries must be filed and be open at all times to public inspection?

Mr. RAGOT. Mr. Speaker, most anybody who handles something for somebody else has to have that kind of a statement.

Mr. BROWN. Can the gentleman specifically point to any other instance in our law where reports on matters such as are contained in this bill have to be filed and open at all times to public inspection?

Mr. RAGOT. I would not be able to answer that question, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I feel that this is a good bill with possibly one exception, and I think that exception is the thing that defeats the bill. If my memory is correct, and there are lawyers here who can challenge the statement, I do not state it as the result of an exhaustive study, but so far as I have been able to find, the reports that have to be filed as to a persons' income are confidential matters, and can only be secured by those who have an interest or by subpoena from the proper court of proper jurisdiction.

I feel and I can understand how we may feel as to labor. I am not speaking on the question of labor but I do feel that we should not make an exception. I am in high accord with the bill and I see no reason why if organized labor pays me a certain sum of money that that sum should be here in Harrisburg open to public inspection, to everybody, when, as far as I have been able to find out, no other such inspections are required under the law, and I would like to know from the Majority Floor Leader whether or not he would be willing to make these reports confidential reports such as we find in our income law and the S. E. C. law and all other laws that I know anything about. Would the Majority Floor Leader be willing to accede to that one exception?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk?

Mr. BROWN. I have one question, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. BROWN. The question is would the Majority Floor Leader be willing to strike out of this bill that these records should be open to public inspection and insert a clause therein such as is found in our income tax law and in the S. E. C. law and other laws where confidential communications are required to be filed, that the information filed therein is confidential and can only be secured by parties in interest or upon application to the court of proper jurisdiction for a proper purpose.

Mr. SORG. I am consciously endeavoring to avoid taking any particular stand on this measure. I see many merits in the position sponsored by the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Ragot, wherein any department or agency is given the authority to inspect. Certainly it is a matter of public interest, when our government steps in, when we provide for such an inspection, and certainly Mr. Speaker, it is a matter that could be of public interest.

It occurs to me, Mr. Speaker, that the records of life insurance companies are open and available at all times through the Insurance Commissioner, where they must be filed. So also with any of the other places of business that are involved here in the Securities and Exchange Commission, and in all cases with the one exception that is in my mind, where it is for the purpose of establishing revenue; it is not a matter of confidence between the individual or organization involved and the government.

Mr. BROWN. The answer is therefore, Mr. Speaker, that you are not willing to insert that provision in this bill?

Mr. SORG. Not without the consent of the sponsor, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RAGOT. Mr. Speaker, when the question was propounded to me before I did not quite understand the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown. I have no objection to that amendment providing that it will not close the door to the rank and file members of each union to inspect the records.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I am heartily in accord with any amendment that will be written, and I am for the bill. I do think though that some limitation should be made in order that all the records will not just be public records like a newspaper, and if the gentleman will agree that these amendments will be inserted on third reading, with his approval and in the light of his answer I shall be very glad to sit down with him.

Mr. RAGOT. That is agreeable to me, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Ragot.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northampton permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RAGOT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I should like to know, and since we are having the president and secretary of labor unions file reports, would he object to an amendment on third reading providing for unions of industry like the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association and the Chamber of Commerce filing reports?

Mr. RAGOT. Mr. Speaker, those associations which the gentleman from Philadelphia speaks of are not unions. They are not labor unions. This bill applies to labor unions only.

Mr. CHUDOFF. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I cannot agree with the contention of the gentleman from Northampton. I see no difference between labor union and a union of manufacturers or union of industrial magnates, who have unionized themselves for the purpose of getting benefits that they want from the government and from the public.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Ragot.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northampton permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RAGOT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I understand the gentleman to say just a little bit ago that he wanted to make the thing safe so that the local union back home can get these reports, is that right?

Mr. RAGOT. I said the members of the union should have these reports if they want to look at them.

Mr. COLE. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I would just like to inform the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Ragot, and the Members of this House, that the unions of this country do send reports to the local unions back home. We have auditors that are elected and they audit the books every six months, and those reports are sent back home to the various local unions and any member of that local union can find out at any time where his money went to, even down to a postage stamp.

I personally am against this bill regardless of how they spent it, because I do not think it is a fair bill to have a labor union file all their affairs with some department when they do not require any other organization of any kind to do the same thing. This kind of a bill could very well mean that an employer could come in and find out how strong financially a union is and could determine from those reports how long the men could hold out, and therefore, this would seriously effect the cause of collective bargaining.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The fourth section and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 643, entitled:

An Act to amend Sections four hundred two four hundred nine four hundred fifteen and four hundred nineteen of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by increasing the fee for nonresident fur buyers' permits revising the requirements with reference to tags attached to shipments of propagated game and propagated furbearers and changing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1327, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for the expenses involved in licensing and regulating private school and classes

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. DAVID P. REESE with the consent of the sponsor offered the following amendment:

Amend sec. 1, page 1, line 2, by striking out the words "Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof "twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000)."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

Senate Bill No. 241, Printer's No. 76

Senate Bill No. 246, Printer's No. 83

Senate Bill No. 314, Printer's No. 93 and

Senate Bill No. 316, Printer's No. 94

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 334, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. BILL POSTPONED

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the second reading postponed calendar for a period of not longer than five days.

The SPEAKER. The Chair might inform the gentleman that under the Rules that is the limit, five legislative days.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I believe under the circumstances that have developed that the motion as made by the gentleman from Blair is in line with sound procedure. This House by majority sentiment, I believe, is committed to the major portions and the theory of House Bill 417.

There has appeared in this General Assembly another bill in the other chamber. Neither house in the negotiations that must inevitably be staged should be placed at a disadvantage. I am willing to concede that this House should not be forced willy-nilly to accept a Senate bill, and I am willing to concede that the other Chamber has certain prerogatives and should not be forced willy-nilly to accept a House bill, if it is possible for the two Houses by sensible negotiations to arrive at an understanding. The arrangement that the gentleman from Blair has proposed will give this House a sounder position in conference than it would have if we had to go into conference solely upon the basis of a Senate bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.

Mihm, Trout,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 795, as follows:

An Act to repeal the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 870) entitled "An act relating to appointments reclassifications and promotions made under any civil service system of this Commonwealth after the effective date of this act until a period after the cessation of hostilities making such appointments of war duration providing for examination at the end of such period and providing for experience credit for men and women honorably discharged from the armed forces or the uniformed services of the United States suspending inconsistent laws saving the right to return to former position and status suspending powers and duties of the Personnel Director of the State Civil Service Commission for a limited period and conferring powers on the State Civil Service Commission"

Section 1 The act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 870) entitled "An act relating to appointments reclassifications and promotions made under any civil service system of this Commonwealth after the effective date of this act until a period after the cessation of hostilities making such appointments of war duration providing for examinations at the end of such period and providing for experience credit for men and women honorably discharged from the armed forces or the uniformed services of the United States suspending inconsistent laws saving the right to former position and status suspending powers and duties of the Personnel Director of the State Civil Commission for a limited period and conferring powers on the State Civil Service Commission" is hereby repealed

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask what this bill does, what law it repeals and what is the significance of it?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Kemp, explain the bill?

Mr. KEMP. Mr. Speaker, all this bill does is to amend Pamphlet Law 870, which was a temporary law which made civil service temporary appointments and put it back to the position where it was before the war.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what is the clause in the present act that it repeals? I did not get that.

Mr. KEMP. Mr. Speaker, it repeals Pamphlet Laws 870, which was made a law in 1943, covering temporary appointments of civil service employees.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this is indeed a peculiar measure to appear under Republican sponsorship in this day of free enterprise. This measure is designed to protect by means of various regulations a Pennsylvania business. So far as I have been able to read in the papers it is not consistent with sound Republican policy that business should go to government for protection or that regulations should be placed at State lines governing the flow of trade and commerce. But apparently the cigarette industry, so far as the distribution is concerned, is in trouble in Pennsylvania, and so these eminent Republicans just as though this was a New Deal era, come flocking to the Legislature of Pennsylvania, to government for protection.

Mr. Speaker, insofar as they recognize the principles that Government is formed to protect the citizen as well as business, I agree with their logic, and because we have burdened Pennsylvania dealers with certain restrictions in the matter of distributing cigarettes that do not apply to dealers outside of the Commonwealth, it is necessary for us by reason of our original mistake to pass a law which will prevent the cruel people from outside Pennsylvania from putting Pennsylvania cigarette distributors out of business.

So Mr. Speaker, I welcome the sponsors of this bill into the New Deal camp and cite the fact that when their particular interest is in danger they are not so very hot for free enterprise.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I should like to know from the gentleman from Elk whether or not this bill was introduced because of the recent four cent tax on cigarettes.

Mr. SORG. To my knowledge that is not the reason, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHUDOFF. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, this bill has something to do with cigarettes and maybe I will have another good day.

I want to say just one word. I was informed by Mr. Sorg when we talked about the cigarette tax that he was not afraid of the people of Pennsylvania going over in the other states and buying cigarettes just in order to save the tax. Somebody is being afraid in this bill. We are afraid to let the other people come in and offer cigarettes for sale for less than cost. I think so far as the people of Pennsylvania are concerned we could let them come in and buy cigarettes from people that are under the Fair Employment Practices Act. So therefore I do not see any need for this bill and that is the reason why I am going to vote against it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

Messrs. WEISS and MILLS offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 20, 1947.

E. Arthur Sweeney, publisher of the Greensburg "Morning Review" and "Daily Tribune," passed away on May 17, 1947, in Westmoreland Hospital, Greensburg, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Sweeney was born in North Huntingdon Township, Westmoreland County, the son of Rebecca Muse Sweeney and Edward B. Sweeney in the year 1883.

He began his newspaper career at the age of 17, when he became a reporter on the old "Morning Review". In 1909, he acquired an interest in the newspaper and in 1924 when the paper was consolidated with the Greensburg "Daily Tribune" he became head of the new publishing firm, the Tribune-Review Publishing Company.

Regarded as one of the outstanding publishers of Pennsylvania, Mr. Sweeney served as president of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association, was a journalism teacher at Seton Hill College and acted in an advisory capacity for the school of journalism at Pennsylvania State College.

He represented Westmoreland County at Republican National Conventions in 1924, 1928, and 1932 and in 1936 was the Republican nominee for State Auditor General, but was defeated in the general election. He served as Secretary of Welfare in the cabinet of Governor Arthur H. James from 1939 to 1944.

Mr. Sweeney was also active in civic affairs, having been a leader in the move to change Greensburg from a borough to a third class city; was a charter member of the Greensburg Rotary Club; Director of the YMCA, Chamber of Commerce and of several banking institutions. He was also a member of the First Methodist Church, various Masonic orders and the Elks.

He was a true Pennsylvanian who knew and loved his community and State and served both with distinction and honor; therefore be it

Resolved, By this House of Representatives, that with the death of E. Arthur Sweeney, publisher, teacher, leader in civic and State affairs, and above all a true "Pennsylvanian" there has passed a man who served his fellow men, community and State, faithfully and with honor; and be it further

Resolved, That in evidence of the deep sympathy of this House, the Chief Clerk shall transmit copies of this resolution to his sister, Miss Alvira Sweeney, at 430 North Maple Avenue, Greensburg, and to the Borough Council of Greensburg, Pennsylvania.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. Sarraf for Mr. SCHUSTER for the remainder of the week because of illness.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to present a resolution and make a very brief statement concerning it.

Before I present my resolution I might have a word of advice for the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Weiss. I advise him to this effect, that I would be profoundly suspicious of any offers of assistance made to him by the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Cordier.

Mr. Speaker, that will sink in gradually.

Mr. Speaker, we are now within a very few days of the end of the biennium—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield? The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Cordier, who seems to wish to protect his rights at this time.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman from Cambria, I did not offer any assistance to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Weiss. I merely wished to offer him advice.

Mr. ANDREWS. I accept the gentleman's apology, Mr. Speaker.

As I was saying, we are approaching the end of the biennium and therefore I think it would be perfectly in keeping with sound practice to re-canvass the Commonwealth's tax position as of June 1st next. It should be possible for the budget office to recheck its various figures published at various times, and I am therefore suggesting in this resolution that the budget office at its earliest convenience furnish this House the following information:

1—The amounts by which the Commonwealth's receipts from its various revenue producing sources have exceeded or fallen below budget estimates submitted to this House at the beginning of the 1945 session of the General Assembly.

2—The amounts by which the Commonwealth's receipts from its various revenue producing sources have, during the first five months of the current year, exceeded or fallen below the figures upon which the budget submitted on March 11, 1947 was based in part.

3—The amount of all unexpected balances in all appropriation items which are subject to reappropriation as of June 1, 1947.

4—The amount of unexpended balances and various appropriation items authorized by the General Assembly at its 1945 session which have not as yet been definitely committed for specific expenditure during the 1947-49 biennium.

RESOLUTION

Mr. ANDREWS offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, May 21, 1947

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, prayer was offered by the Reverend Cloyd W. Fields, Pastor, Fifth Street Methodist Church, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

We humbly thank Thee, Almighty God, for the manifold blessings which Thou hast given us as individual citizens and as well to our country, and our great Keystone State, add this, O Lord to Thy other mercies, that we may be enabled to use them better for Thy service. O take from among us all contempt of Thy word and commandments. Break down all the barriers of selfishness and ignorance which keep men from Thee. Convince the impenitent of the misery of sin, and comfort the broken-hearted with the assurance of Thy love.

Be gracious unto us, O Lord, and bless us. Stretch forth the right hand of Thy protection to guard our people, that we may be devoted to Thy service. May we ever be defended by Thy power. Increase in our own and every land the spirit of truth and justice, peace and godly love. As Thou hast made our nation mighty in this world, so make it a source of wisdom and truth, of order and sanctity, to all who come under its influence. Let Thy light pass from clime to clime and enlighten us all. Let Thy truth be our truth, Thy way our way, Thy life our life.

Grant and continue unto us legislators and those in authority who themselves have been taught the wisdom of the Kingdom of Christ. Endow all members of the Senate and Assembly with a right understanding, a pure purpose, and a sound speech. Enable them to rise above all self-seeking and party zeal into a larger usefulness of public good and human brotherhood. Cleanse our public life of every evil, overcome with good in our nation all that is sinful. Give us self-restraint and moral and spiritual powers of control; that we may do Thy will on earth as it is done in Heaven; even through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen!

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I want to talk briefly, but I do not want to be limited too briefly about a matter that is of extreme importance. It has to do with a bill which is on the second reading calendar and to which I will make further reference later. It has to do with the welfare of Pennsylvania and with labor unions, laborers and industries in Pennsylvania. It has to do with a very large branch of our economy, namely the insurance industry, and I therefore invite your especial attention to what I have to say.

Now that the anti-labor bills have found their way upon the Senate and House calendars, in violation of campaign platform promises, this is an appropriate time to consider an allied phase of the anti-labor question, namely, punitive measures and controls through unlawful and unwarranted administrative and bureaucratic rulings. That is a big mouthful but I mean exactly what I say—punitive measures and controls by unlawful and unwarranted administrative and bureaucratic rulings.

I especially have in mind a recent ruling made by the Insurance Commissioner, James F. Malone, Jr., a man who perhaps should not have been appointed Insurance Commissioner because we knew, at the time the question of his confirmation in this Senate was up, he was not learned in the insurance business nor in the insurance law. However that may be, Mr. Malone has, during the days of this 1947 session, seen fit to rule concerning the payments of premiums on the funds from which premiums were paid for group life insurance. His rulings, and they are now in effect, have deprived countless thousands of people from being insured, and that carries with it all the other weakening ramifications to our economic system. I do not know why Mr. Malone made the ruling he did, but it is very apparent to me, and the only reasonable inference that I can draw from the whole scheme of things, is that Mr. Malone saw fit to take upon himself bureaucratic powers and dictatorial powers and tried to control the labor situation in Pennsylvania.

Everything in the so-called labor movement is not bad. The work performed by Pennsylvania's laboring men and women is good. It is productive. It produces the wealth and the property which have lifted our Commonwealth to a high position among our sister states. Labor provides for the maintenance and preservation of countless thousands of families in our state. Without labor we can not exist and our capitalistic system will fall. Collective bargaining in labor is good. Most fair-minded people and most industries today have come to recognize and agree that collective bargaining is not only desirable but that it is essential.

One of the terms commonly incorporated in industry and labor agreements is the welfare clause. That includes group insurance, life, accident, health, hospital plans and so forth. And that is good. It is a protection and security, not so much for the laborer as for the public. If a laborer is killed in employment he needs no protection nor security; but his wife and children and dependents become public charges and liabilities, unless there is an insurance fund to provide for the members of the decedent's family.

If a laborer is injured or taken ill, he becomes a public liability, unless such emergencies are covered by appropriate forms of insurance. The public, then, is the real beneficiary of labor insurance. That is good and desirable. It is the application of a sound business principle which is the basis of all insurance, namely, protection and security.

Recognizing the importance of this subject, the Legislature of Pennsylvania has, at least as early as 1921, twenty-six years ago, enacted laws which officially recognize and permit group life insurance in groups of fifty or more employees and group accident health, hospitalization, surgical and laboratory charges in groups of twenty-five or more employees.

The Insurance Department and the Insurance Commissioners of Pennsylvania have uniformly recognized such policies and approved them. That is as it should be. New York state has similar laws. Michigan and many other states permit these group protective policies.

In March of this year the Commissioner of Insurance, Mr. Malone, took it upon himself to declare such insurance illegal, refused to approve the form of the policies, and advised third persons, not parties to the insurance contract, that the proposed insurance was invalid.

I charge that action by Jim Malone was an unwarranted, undemocratic, illegal and anti-labor act. It shows the need to have an insurance man in the high office of Insurance Commissioner.

The immediate ruling of Mr. Malone arose as follows: on January 30 of this year the Hotel and Restaurant Employees Alliance, Local 237, American Federation of Labor, as a result of collective bargaining, entered into a written agreement with the Pittsburgh Hotel Association. That is a big association, including Fort Pitt, the Henry Hotel, the Keystone, the Pittsburgher, the Schenley, Webster Hall and the William Penn.

This agreement involved some nineteen hundred hotel employees. The agreement provided that the employer, in lieu of additional wages, should pay to the union four per cent of the payroll, which fund should be used for health and welfare purposes and, in part, for the payment of insurance premiums.

Accordingly, the union applied for the following forms of insurance: life, accidental death, dismemberment, health and accident, hospitalization and laboratory fees.

On March 13, two and a half months later, the Insurance Commissioner wrote a letter to the employer, not a party to the contract, that the insurance "does not meet with the requirements of the law."

Similarly, on February 14, a collective bargaining labor contract was entered into between the Pittsburgh Restaurant Labor Relations group and the union. This involved fourteen hundred employes. The health and welfare clause of that contract called for payment by the employer to the union, in lieu of additional wages, for health and welfare purposes, including insurance protection.

Why should Mr. Malone have disapproved those policies? Why should he disapprove them, in view of the fact that the Pennsylvania Department of Insurance and the previous Insurance Commissioners had uniformly approved them? Why should he disapprove them in view of the fact that many of our sister states have similar laws and have approved similar policies? I will tell you why after a while, but first let us look at the law on the subject.

Our law of 1921, Section 415, defines group life insurance to be that form of life insurance covering not less than fifty employes, written under a policy issued to the employer—and I wish you would note that this policy is written to the employer—the premium of which is to be paid by the employer, or by the employer and the employee jointly.

Sub-section "b-3" of that same law provides as follows: "Life insurance covering members of any labor union or organization of police employed by any municipality, county or state authority, or any organization or association of state employes or public school teachers, unless written under a policy issued to such union, if the policy is written to the union or organization, which shall be deemed to be the employer"—if the policy is issued to the union, then the union is considered for the purposes of the act the employer, and then the premiums in that case, the cost of which are to be paid by the union or organization and its members jointly—you will note that the premium of insurance to labor unions is to be paid by the union, which shall be deemed to be the employer for the purposes of the act.

The premiums under the Pittsburgh contract were paid by the union, in accordance with the terms of the act and that was paid out of a fund of four per cent of the total pay rolls, which fund was established under the health and welfare clause of the collective bargaining agreement, and only a part of which was for the laborer—only a part of which was to be used for insurance premiums. Monthly, as the employer paid this four per cent to the union, the money became the property of the union. If it was lost it would have been the loss of the union, not the employer; if it had been stolen, it would have been a larceny against the union and not the employer. Once payment was made, the employer parted with and was divested of both the title and right of possession to that money.

But Mr. Malone says "no, I view this as employer money," and he arbitrarily rules that under the law it provides that the union, or the union and its members shall pay the premiums, but rules that actually the employer has paid. It seems to me that his position can not be supported.

My opponents to this thinking can say "well, let us have it aired out in court" but I say it is too important to rely on court action—and there has been one instituted and there has been a preliminary ruling handed down—but even if the Commissioner's attitude, his thinking and his ruling was correct as regards group life insurance, which provides that the cost shall be paid by the union when the policy is issued to the union, or by the union and its members, if Mr. Malone was right on that type of group insurance, he certainly is wrong as regards the other form of group insurance, because our Pennsylvania law concerning payment of premiums on forms of group insurance other than life is silent as to the source of the payment of the premiums.

What does Mr. Malone have in mind? What are his objectives? Is it to prevent unions from mis-using funds? If it is, then I call upon the Legislature to pass appropriate legislation so that we can prevent that kind of misuse. Or is it to prevent the unions from placing contracts of insurance? If it is that I think Mr. Malone ought to be told what his official duties are, because the insurance law of 1921, as amended, very clearly defines his duties and powers, and it is only that he has the right to approve the form of contract; he has no right to look into the collective bargaining agreement and read that in conjunction with the form of policy and say, by reason of something contained in the collective bargaining agreement—with which I personally do not agree—that the form of the insurance policy is wrong.

It is obvious to me that the Commissioner's actions is his rulings and proposed legislation, and in his submission of Senate Bill 677, which was handed in by his law partner in the Senate, and with whom I find no fault, are designed to weaken labor unions and to limit their proper activities.

The particular activity in this case, namely, insurance of labor and protection of society generally, is a desirable one and one that is for the public welfare, and if we stood idly by, if we permitted the Insurance Commissioner of Pennsylvania, out of step with all of the insurance departments all over the United States, if we permit his ruling to go into effect, if we give approval to his ruling by the adoption of Senate Bill 677, then we are depriving the labor unions, we are depriving the laborer and we are depriving our Pennsylvania society of the protection to which they are entitled.

And, Mr. President, we are going to do something else. We are going to drive these labor unions into seeking some other form of protection for their members. We are going to make them become self-insurers; we are going to take them out of the care and custody—and I hope Mr. Wade is present and listening—of responsible and recognized and well-managed insurance companies, which operate lawfully in our state and in other states, and we are going to drive them out of that custody to become self-insurers, the general history of which, and the general character of which, has been bad and it is going to amount to a wastage of a lot of wealth and there is going to be the loss of a lot of protection.

Mr. President, we might do one other thing by the consideration and adoption of Senate Bill 677; we might do that which the Pennsylvania Senate has time and time again said they did not want done—we might be driving the control of our insurance industry, and later on other industries, down to our national government. We already have had a scare in that regard and we already have, in this 1947 session of the Legislature, bills to prevent that very type of regimentation that we do not like. If we are going to prevent nationalization of Insurance laws, if we are going to prevent our labor unions, our lawful union, our well-manager labor unions, and our laborers from being driven into self-insurance, then we ought to very seriously consider the results of Mr. Malone's ruling, and I call upon the majority side—I am sorry the majority leader is not listening to me—I call upon the majority side to very seriously consider what I have said today, consider the ultimate effect of Senate Bill 677 and to, in their own deliberations—not here publicly, but in the confidence of their own caucus—consider the question of whether or not this bill should not be re-committed and removed from our calendar.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I have listened very attentively to the dissertation by the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Woodring, with regard to Senate Bills 676 and 677, which are currently on our second reading calendar.

The gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Woodring, opened his discussion by questioning the qualifications of the distinguished gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Malone, currently our Insurance Commissioners, and I answer him by saying he was one of those who voted for the confirmation of Mr. Malone. Personally I feel he is one of the finest insurance commissioners we have had within the last quarter century, and I say that without prejudice to any of the other distinguished gentlemen who have served in that position. His qualifications are those of a lawyer, and also having been raised in a home where insurance played a very important part for many years. His father was an outstanding insurance man in the city of Pittsburgh and the county of Allegheny and I suppose that he had insurance for breakfast, for dinner and for supper, he grew up in that business, and seldom if ever in the history of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has anyone ever grasped the duties and the administration of a department as has Mr. Malone as head of the Department of Insurance in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Our colleague from Northampton says Mr. Malone has taken an arbitrary position in one thing that is affected by Senate Bill 677. With that I might debate at length as he has, but let me tell all of you who are not conversant with the facts of the case, that Mr. Malone's position has been substantiated in toto before the court of Dauphin county. The court of Dauphin county is where we hear these cases against the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Mr. President, and that court recently ruled that Mr. Malone is right, Well, right in what? It is not this long discussion that Senator Woodring so ably placed before us, and in which he tried so hard to confuse the issue. It is simply this, my colleagues, for your information—Mr. Malone ruled that a labor union had no business or right to assess against the employer the sum of four per cent, or any other per cent, with which this labor union could in turn use a portion or all of that money to go around and buy insurance for the members of the union.

Since group insurance was first adopted in America, not only in Pennsylvania but in America, the understanding has been that it is only a method by which the employer, dealing direct with the insurance company, can furnish the service to his employee, so that that employee may be better satisfied and know that he may have a better assurance that his future will be secure and that his family will be taken care of, should death stop his earning power. Why in the world, gentlemen, should a labor union enter into that picture at all? I formerly was a member of two labor unions, and I am friendly with the thing that they first started out to accomplish, and that was a union that could approach the employer and try their best to make working conditions better and other conditions better, but now for them to venture in to this field—and I might take this opportunity to say to you that labor unions, in my considered judgment, have gone far afield from their purposes at the beginning, in the past ten or twelve years; I think they have been nurtured by the federal government, and I think improperly so, but again I repeat they serve a very definite purpose. But they have gone beyond that.

Why should an employer be forced, whether it is the hotel union of Pittsburgh, or a coal union of some other county, or a manufacturer's union of any kind whatever, why should they force that employer to pay an additional contribution to the union, where the only obvious purpose would be that the union would keep part of the money for some other reasons, to force the employer to make this additional contribution under the guise of having insurance.

The gentleman said that because of this position taken by Mr. Malone, that our Insurance Department is out of step with the insurance departments of other states. Mr. President and my colleagues, the Insurance Department of Pennsylvania is not out of step; it is far ahead of the departments of many other states. With this position that Mr. Malone has taken we must, after consideration, agree, because that is far afield from the original intention of unions or the original intentions of group insurance.

The gentleman from Northampton speaks of its as regimentation. I leave it for you to decide, is it regimentation for a union to compel this insurance by a employer, or is it regimentation to leave the matter free and open so that each employer may make his own decision, that each employer may furnish to his employees other things that he wishes, or to force the employer to make additional contributions so that the union may use them as they chose.

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, I do not often get the real pleasure of debating with by good friend and colleague, the gentleman from Cumberland, but I can not resist the opportunity to answer just a few statements he has made.

The gentleman from Cumberland suggested that I voted for the confirmation of Mr. Malone. Certainly I did. The Governor, according to my way of thinking, is entitled to his cabinet, and if it is the Governor's selection, I vote for it, but I know that I and other members of the Senate who voted for that confirmation were not happy about it, and I know by positive knowledge that when the Governor made that appointment he was not too happy about it either, although Mr. Malone happens to be a colleague and close associate of my good friend, the gentleman from Allegheny.

The gentleman from Cumberland suggests that the Commonwealth Court, a very fair, unprejudiced and impartial court, substantiated in toto the position of Mr. Malone. Mr. President and members of the Senate, that is not so. The application before that court was for a preliminary injunction and the court did refuse in the first instance to grant such an injunction, but the balance of the proceeding is still pending and whether or not Mr. Malone will eventually be substantiated or not is your guess against somebody else's guess.

The collective bargaining agreement providing that four per cent of the pay roll should be paid by the employer to the union was an agreement solemnly entered into, freely bargained at arm's length between three parties, the employer, the union and the members of the union—the employees. That agreement, once it was signed, sealed and delivered, became a binding agreement between those three parties. I stated and I repeat now, in answer to the remarks of the gentleman from Cumberland, that it is not for our Insurance Commissioner to go into the back door and try to upset anything that was entered into between those parties. If we, the members of the Legislature, if we, the members of this Senate, do not like what is being written in present labor agreements, collective bargaining agreement, then it is up to us as legislators to pass other laws—and I am not recommending that—but that would be the way to do it, that would be the American, democratic, reasonable, peaceful way to do it, to change our laws prescribing what may or may not be in those collective bargaining agreements, but it is not for some bureaucrat, it is not for some appointee out of political life, to come into the back door and rip out the body of a solemn contract that has been entered into between three major parties.

Why should the unions be interested in this—I think was the question of the gentleman from Cumberland—why should they be allowed to consider insurance? I will tell you why. Because the Legislature of Pennsylvania in sub-section "b-3" of Section 415 of the law of 1921, as amended, has specifically said so and we have specifically labeled the union in such cases as the employer—the union steps into the role of employer for the purpose of group life insurance—because the Pennsylvania Legislature said so, and probably the amendment amending that bill was offered by my friend and colleague from Cumberland, Mr. Wade; he probably drafted that legislation—he shakes his head "no".

I say this in conclusion: If we do not like group life insurance and the group insurance laws as they exist in Pennsylvania today, let us not try to change them by bureaucratic rulings, let us change them under constitutional means and procedure, let us go to the uniform group insurance code as approved by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, at which were represented the forty-eight states, and which code is already in use in many of the states in this nation. Let us have a good group insurance plan, but let us not try to change the group insurance law, or one phase of the group insurance law, by a dictatorial ruling by the Insurance Commissioner. Let us not try to upset what progress labor has made, and I mean decent, respectable labor in Pennsylvania, by trying to dig into the collective bargaining agreement that was entered into and take out the meat and the reason and the rhyme of that agreement by some bureaucratic ruling.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I think we are sinking to a new low level in this Senate when we speak in disparaging terms of any court of the Commonwealth, let alone the very excellent court in Dauphin County, and when we have occasion to criticize their decisions I again repeat, Mr. President, I think we are reaching a new low level.

The gentleman from Northampton has at length gone into the question of the soundness of what the unions are doing and what they do with the money, stating that in his belief, no bureaucrat or no branch of government has a right to question the union.

Mr. President, when we reach that place in Pennsylvania and in America—and should the trend continue as it has for the last dozen years, I say to you, Mr. President and my colleagues, we are on very dangerous ground. Obviously the unions have a very definite place in our picture, as I said before, but certainly the unions should not dominate the picture. One of the things, to my mind, that must come about is a limitation and an accounting by the unions of every nickel that is paid in by their members, and an accounting of the expenditure of every nickel that they make.

The gentleman from Northampton took the time of this Senate to distort entirely the law as it relates to group insurance, as I understood his discussion. Several years ago we did amend the insurance law of Pennsylvania, by saying that for the purposes of purchase of group insurance the members of unions would be considered as a group. In other words, our original group law was that we should have, for life purposes, fifty employees of a common employer; the law, as relating to health and accident insurance, provided that the employer must have at least twenty-five or more, in order to be considered as a group for the purpose of buying group insurance. That law was later amended to state that the members of a union might be considered as a group. Never did we so much as consider, let alone write into our law, a provision that a union would have the privilege of buying group insurance as a unit, after forcing the money from the employer to buy insurance for their members. It is simply a qualification in our law that states that when there are twenty-five members, for the purposes of health or accident insurance, or when there are fifty members for the purpose of life insurance, their employer may buy insurance for them.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, there seems to be a continuing practice on the other side to always speak disparagingly of any remarks made from this side when we of the minority try to call attention to something we believe very important.

The gentleman from Cumberland has just tried again to put words into the mouth of one of the members on this side. At no time during his remarks—and if there is any question as to the remarks as they were made, I would suggest that the reporter read back to the Senate the remarks made by Senator Woodring concerning the action of the court of Dauphin County. If I remember correctly he spoke very highly of that court and in no way impugned the character of the court itself or its members. I resent, of course, the position taken by the gentleman from Cumberland.

The question of whether or not the insurance commissioner is a proper man for this office is not one that I am going to have any part of in this discussion.

However, I want to say to the gentleman from Cumberland that if this type of legislation goes upon the books of this Commonwealth, you are going to find in Pennsylvania the greatest amount of unrest in the labor movement that has ever been witnessed in any Commonwealth in the United States of America. At no time in the history of this Commonwealth has there been a bill that reaches so far into the negotiations between employers and employes as this particular type of legislation does. Bills that are introduced and are earmarked as restrictive and anti-labor are known as such and the public is aware of the intent, but this type of legislation destroys some fundamental privileges of labor organizations in bargaining negotiations, without so saying—for instance, Mr. President, I might remind the gentleman from Cumberland that in many existing contracts within this Commonwealth, the same features are contained as to the payment from the employer to the employes of a certain amount to be used for health and welfare funds. The greatest example of that is the five cents a ton royalty paid in the coal fields at the present time to the United Mine Workers of America, all over the United States of America, in a negotiated contract. If this bill becomes law in Pennsylvania are we going to find a coal strike upon our hands because we are interfering with a nationwide bargaining contract duly entered into between two parties—the employer and the union. In the field of music we find the musician's union with this type of clause in their contract for the past thirty-five years, and yet we find here in Pennsylvania at this time a bill that would do something that will disrupt the even keel of labor relationship. Oh, I know and every person knows we have had rough days lately but we would have had the same rough days whether there was one union in existence in this Commonwealth or whether there were no union in existence; I might say there would have been a certain amount of unrest, a certain period of readjustment necessary because of the conditions that surround the employe and the employer relationship, of the conditions that surround the cost of living and income, of the conditions that surround the general picture of living in a post war world readjustment from heightened days of activity during the war to a now more even keel of life.

These things would have come even if there were not one group of men and women in Pennsylvania organized into a labor body. Some of us blindly take the position that by law we are going to bring about a better type of life in Pennsylvania, that we are going to smooth out all the troubles that exist between management and labor.

This type of legislation destroys part of the bargaining rights of men who work for a living. I say to you this is not the type of legislation for the Senate of Pennsylvania to be considering in a serious way, because it will disrupt already existing contracts. The position taken in this particular situation by the gentleman from Cumberland, if it reflects the majority thinking, does not in any way compare with the thinking that has been going on for years and years and years in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Every person knows that when the question of a raise for school teachers comes up you always hear the remark made, "well, the school teachers can receive a little less money and state employes a little less money because we provide for them a form of security in a retirement pension, a system of retirement, that is considered part of their income," but if you start to take into consideration that this is a form of bargaining that has gone on between employe and employers, whether they were organized or unorganized, for the past two generations, you certainly can not be considering this legislation in the light of past history and of future consequences.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. JASPAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President and members of the Senate, for twenty-five years each successive legislature has failed to heed the mandate of the people of the Commonwealth, when in 1922 by referendum approved the idea of home rule, and in so doing gave the Legislature and Commonwealth a mandate to pass enabling legislation to make home rule for cities a reality.

His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, James H. Duff has expressed on numerous occasions since assuming office, the fact that the solution of the multitudinous problems facing the communities of the Commonwealth, must be solved in those communities. These repeated references by our governor to the need for local action by his Excellency, have indicated time and again that home rule is a must for the cities of the state.

The problems of a particular community are so diverse, and so peculiar to the area, that the work of setting its house in order will be interminably delayed if we must wait for particular bills to wend their precarious course through the halls of the Legislature in Harrisburg.

From time to time we have passed pieces of legislation under the guise of home rule, when in fact they were politically motivated.

Such problems as maintenance of city properties and equipment, possible new sources of revenue, sewage and garbage disposal equipment, maintenance of streets and highways, functional procedure of the police, fire and health departments are all of extreme importance, and they are matters for the people in any particular community to act upon.

House Bill 743 was introduced in the House calling for home rule for first class cities. This enabling bill, as sponsored in the house, is not compulsory, but is permissive. Be that as it may, it is incumbent upon us to give the cities of the first class the right to determine their own government within the limitations prescribed by the Constitution. This bill under orders of the Republican administration in Philadelphia, is left to die in committee. So I therefore introduced Senate Bill 656, identical in form and language, in the hope that we might pass this non-partisan legislation. Again, the political leaders of Philadelphia want no part of it. Passage of it might result in the end of their dynasty.

Sinister forces are at work throughout the world. The threat of communism is hanging over the world. People are restless. At the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, the Governor commented on the restlessness of the people of the Commonwealth, wondering what is behind it. Misrule is one of the main reasons. Control of the government by the political bigwigs rather than the people is another reason. The chosen representatives of the people have succumbed to the entreaties of the powerful interests and the political bosses. Very often, we lose sight of the fact that this is the people's government.

It is high time that we view matters in the proper perspective and legislated on matters of vital concern to our people. The citizenry of Philadelphia are seeking the opportunity to vote on home rule. Why are we denying them the right?

The Local Government Committee has failed to advance one valid reason for postponing action on my home rule bill. I am at a loss to explain it. Thirty-two groups in Philadelphia, comprised mainly of independent republicans interested in home rule legislation are sorely disappointed and are placing the blame where it rightfully belongs. They are blaming the Republican leaders for blocking this valuable piece of legislation.

Let me give you an idea of the inaction by our City Fathers.

Very high electric rates—nothing done about them.

Since the Public Utility Commission has been relieved of jurisdiction over the city-owned gas works, two gas increases have gone into effect and to add insult to injury, the utility-controlled gas works has been authorized $4,000,000. These things happened at a time when the consumption of both gas and electricity was at its peak and profits reached the high-water mark.

The city of Philadelphia for years leased a city subway costing millions to the Philadelphia Traction Company, and the rentals do not pay carrying charges.

Pure water, although promised for years, never was obtained, and we are still drinking chlorine high-balls.

PTC service is very poor and inadequate, notwithstanding millions spent every year to increase and expand facilities. Many sections of the city are without sewage systems. Many are without recreational facilities. Recently a water main that had not been looked over for sixty years burst, causing untold damage. Aviation companies are forced to leave the Northeast airport because of petty politics.

Little protection is afforded by the police department, which is too steeped in politics, and there are hold-ups and killings by the score. No additions are made to the police department although money is found to help the utilities.

Hundreds of homes are unfit for habitation, they are fire-traps, many are in broken-down condition and very dangerous to live in, yet the law winks its eyes at these violations. They are a source of political strength.

Fifty to seventy-five thousand votes are stolen every year by the corrupt machine. People are either clubbed into voting a certain way or else the ward-heeler votes for them. It is too dangerous to complain. His home may be condemned, his business interfered with by different inspectors representing weights and measurers, building inspection and the like.

Need I go further. Does not the time call for a change?

Realizing time is short, I am forced therefore to perform the unpleasant duty of moving to discharge the Local Government Committee from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 656.

Mr. President, before this resolution is read may I say it is a privileged resolution and there can not be objection by anybody as it must be voted on today or else do what ever you want to do with it.

RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LOCAL GOVERNMENT FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 656

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I as unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. JASPAN, offered the following resolution which was twice read, as follows:

In the Senate, May 21, 1947.

Whereas, Senate Bill No. 656, entitled "An Act to carry into effect section one of article fifteen of the Constitution giving cities of the first class the right and power to frame, adopt and amend their own charters and to exercise the powers and authority of local self-government, and providing the procedure therefor; imposing certain restrictions, limitations and regulations; imposing duties upon city councils, city officers, county boards of elections, courts of common pleas and the Secretary of the Commonwealth and providing for the payment of certain expenses by such cities," was referred to the Local Government Committee in the Senate on April 28, 1947, and has not been acted upon by said Committee; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Local Government is hereby discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 656, entitled "An Act to carry into effect section one of article fifteen of the Constitution giving cities of the first class the right and power to frame, adopt and amend their own charters and to exercise the powers and authority of local self-government and providing the procedure therefor; imposing certain restrictions, limitations and regulations; imposing duties upon city councils, city officers, county boards of elections, courts of common pleas and the Secretary of the Commonwealth and providing for the payment of certain expenses by such cities."

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection. The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I object to immediate consideration of the resolution.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. JASPAN. My point of order, Mr. President, is that this is a privileged resolution, calling for discharge of a committee, and it has been the practice and custom of the Senate to immediately act on these matters.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The point of order of the gentleman from Philadelphia is well taken.

The question before the Senate is shall the resolution be adopted?

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. JASPAN and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

An Act directing the Department of Public Instruction to revise the curricula of elementary secondary and vocational schools to effectuate a more thorough understanding and appreciation of American form of government and the principles for which it stands

Whereas Our forefathers in establishing this country found it desirable that ample provision should be made for education in order to perpetuate the ideals of free government and

Whereas Education can be used either to perpetuate our American way of life or used adversely as in certain European countries to promote the wrong ideologies and

Whereas A thorough education of our people in the excellence of our form of government in the full meaning of the American form of government in the greater understanding of our guaranteed rights of personal liberty personal security and private property in the benefits to be derived from our economic system and in those sound principles which underlie our established social order are essential to a continuation of our way of life and

Whereas In recent years the promotion of the war effort and the curtailment of staff and funds have prevented the Department of Public Instruction from developing and improving the courses of study for the public schools of Pennsylvania to meet present day needs therefore

Section 1 The Department of Public Instruction is hereby authorized and directed to undertake and promote a revision of the curricula of all elementary secondary and vocational public schools of the Commonwealth for the purpose of offering courses of study to the pupils of such schools which will give to such pupils a thorough and complete education in (1) the history of the American government its principles ideals and advantages (2) the function and place of the Federal State and local government systems under the American form of government (3) the economic system functioning under the American form of government and the advantages thereof (4) the duties and obligations of the individual in relation to our form of government and (5) the affinity between the American form of government and the moral and spiritual concepts of the Nation

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, page one, line 3 of the title by inserting after the word "of" the words "the American Democracy"; Amend page 2, next to last preamble, line 2 of paragraph by inserting after the word "the" where it appears for the second time in said line, the words, "American Democracy our"; Amend Section 1, page 3, line 2, by inserting after the word "the" where it appears for the second time in said line, the words, "American Democracy our"; Amend Section 1, page 3, line 4, by inserting after the word "the" the following words, "American Democracy our"; Amend Section 1, page 3, line 5, by inserting after the word "the" where it appears for the second time in said line the words, "American Democracy our"; Amend Section 1, page 3, line 6, by inserting after the word "thereof" the following; "in comparison with economic systems in force under other forms of government"; Amend Section 1, page 3, line 9, by inserting after the word "the" where it appears for the second time in said line, the words, "American Democracy our".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President I object to adoption of the amendments.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, as a matter of information, the gentleman objected to consideration? Did I hear the gentleman say he objects to consideration?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Lehigh objected to adoption of the amendment.

Mr. DENT. Oh, adoption. Then, Mr. President, a vote in the affirmative is a vote for the amendment and a vote in the negative is a vote against the amendments?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair advises the gentleman from Westmoreland that a motion will have to be made for adoption of the amendments.

Mr. DENT. I move the adoption of the amendment.

Mr. BARR. I second the motion.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, before the vote is taken I would like to interrogate the majority floor leader.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. TALLMAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Lehigh tell me why there is objection to these amendments—I mean the contents of the amendments, what is the objection to them?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, this matter was fully debated on the floor yesterday and the position of the members on this side of the Senate has been fully explained and the gentleman on this side of the Senate expect to continue to maintain the position which was represented yesterday in the debate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, then am I to assume that by opposing inclusion of the words "American democracy" they do not want to teach American democracy in our schools of Pennsylvania? Is that right or wrong?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair advises the gentleman from Westmoreland that objection was made to the amendments offered.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I further desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. TALLMAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Is the majority then objecting to the teaching of American democracy in the schools of Pennsylvania.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, there can be no misunderstanding, and ought not be any misunderstanding about the position of this side on the matter of these amendments.

Certainly we believe—whether you call it American democracy or whether you call it American Republic, or whether you call it this form of government, the members on this side of the Chamber are interested that the school children of Pennsylvania shall be taught about this form of government, by whatever name you choose to call it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want the Senate to know we are only putting into the bill the original wording of the bill as presented by the sponsor. We are now trying to say that the children of Pennsylvania must be taught in the classrooms the true meaning, the true value of our American democracy as it exists, as it functions under our American form of government. Nothing could be more explicit, nothing could be plainer, nothing could be more American.

I suggest to the Chair and to the members of the Senate that when we specifically restrict the teaching and forbid, if you please, the usage of the words "American Democracy" by an act of Legislature, I say that we are doing an injustice to the children of the Commonwealth.

The second item in this group of amendments deals with the question contained on page 3, where, according to the words of the sponsor of the amendment and of the member of the Senate who is acting as the President pro tempore at this time, you took out on page 3, line 6, the specific right to teach the American form of government "in comparison with economic systems in force under other forms of government."

Relative to that situation I believe one newspaper that has been called to my attention took cognizance of the fact that the Pennsylvania State Senate was considering legislation that would do exactly the thing that I said upon the floor would happen if we passed this bill in its present amended form. I read from an editorial appearing in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette as of today, and I quote:

"CLASSROOM CURTAINS

"State Senator Geltz' proposal to bar public school teachers in Pennsylvania from comparing the American system of government with that of other countries, including Russia, reflects a lamentable lack of faith in the ability of our form of government to stand on its merits.

"The best way to subject the American system to doubt and suspicion, it seems to us, is to put intellectual freedom behind an iron curtain.

"The public schools should acquaint students with all forms of government. The American system will not suffer by comparison. Any reasonably bright pupil will soon realize that the intellectual freedom afforded him in school is one of the most precious heritages of the American system.

"Let us not in a postwar wave of hysteria resort to totalitarian suppression of those things most American. We don't want any iron curtains in our classrooms."

Too often, Mr. President, misrepresentation of motives seems to be the general rule when votes are taken upon the floor of the Senate. I do not believe Senator Geltz wants to deprive children of this Commonwealth of the benefit of learning by comparison. I do not believe Senator Walker wants to deprive children of this Commonwealth of the right to learn by comparison. Fundamentally that is the basic principle of teaching and, although I have not had the opportunity to have as much formal education as some of the other members of the Senate, I have learned, what little I know, by reading comparative histories and biographies of great men and of countries and I believe that you are destroying the very thing that you want to do by this act of Legislature, because you want to inculcate into the minds of the children of America a strong patriotic feeling of adherence to the constitutional privileges of this nation and a deep and abiding love for the privileges we here enjoy, and yet, by our action here, we say to these children here, ours is the best government and when they say, what other type government is there, the teacher must remain mute, she can not answer and say "this is the type of government some people must live under and these are its disadvantages as they are compared with our government."

I do not think that makes too much difference. I believe the teachers will use their own judgment, regardless of what kind of legislation we pass, and I think every teacher in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would resent the passage of an act that would restrict them in their duties as they see them. I might say to the members of the Senate—and I stand to be corrected if I am in error—that I believe the present laws of the Commonwealth governing education give to the Superintendent of Public Instruction in Pennsylvania the right to add to the curricula of our schools the very subject matter contained within this bill. However, there is nothing in our law today that restricts that superintendent and ties his hands. This bill would do just that and I believe, Mr. President, that it is a blind, stubborn attitude that is compelling the majority in this case to back up their misjudgment of yesterday and of the day before, to defeat these amendments, rather than to admit they are in error—they would rather continue the error.

Mr. President, I hope I may never become so blindly partison or so blindly compelled to follow caucus rule that, when I am in error, I have not the courage to stand up and say so. I have talked with individual members of the Senate on the other side and they tell me this bill does not do what Senator Geltz says it does, or what Senator Walker says it does; they say I am all wrong, it does not deprive the teacher of the right to compare various forms of government. If that is true then the statement made by the opposition as to the reasons for opposition to the amendment by Senator Geltz are not sound. If they are not sound we ought to know. If the majority feels they want to deprive teachers in our public schools of the right to compare our form of government with any form of government, then stand upon that premise, but do not say our amendment does not do any damage, that even although we are trying to take that right away, the bill still contains that right.

I say to you, Mr. President, I believe this to be a democratic form of government, operating under a representative republic. There are other republics on the face of the earth, notably the Republic of Soviet States. I do not personally consider Russia a democracy. I do consider Russia a Republic. There is a distinct difference between the Republic of Soviet States, operating under the totalitarian system of communistic government, and the Republic of the United States operating under a representative democracy, and I say every child in Pennsylvania ought to know that our form of government is a representative democracy.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I would not blame any newspaper in this Commonwealth or in this country for getting mixed up in a situation which comes about by reason of distortion of facts, as has taken place so consistently by members on the other side. This last speech was an indication of that, just as was the one made earlier today by the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Woodring, insofar as concerns the action of the Insurance Commissioner, James F. Malone. If we are going to constantly stand up in this Chamber and distort situations and tell things which are only half truths, sometimes if any parts of the truth, then it is little wonder that reports go out from Harrisburg and get into the newspapers which present an entirely improper state of facts.

In that connection, Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. GELTZ. Can the gentleman from Westmoreland show me in Senate Bill 534 any words which create or bring about a prohibition such as he just talked about.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would answer that question by asking the reporter of the Senate of Pennsylvania to read the statements made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, in support of his amendments the first day this bill was before us, Monday afternoon; I therefore request that the answer be given by the reporter of the Senate, who will answer the gentleman with his own statement.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I submit that is begging the question. The gentleman from Westmoreland made the statement in debate today that that was the situation and I am now asking him if he will tell us, in Senate Bill 534, where there are any words which indicate such a prohibition.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I can only answer by saying I took the gentleman's reasoning for putting in the amendments to be the basis of thinking behind the amendments. I specifically show him Page 3, where the words contained in this bill, line 5, originally stated "the economic system functioning under the American form of government and the advantages thereof in comparison with economic systems in force under other forms of government." The amendments submitted by the gentleman from Allegheny specifically removed the words "in comparison with economic systems in force under other forms of government."

I do not say, Mr. President, that this bill denies that specifically, if a teacher so wants to contrue the act, but I do say that the intention of the amendment, according to the gentleman's own words, was to deprive the teacher of that right.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, since the gentleman from Westmoreland is so willing to take my advice apparently, I hope he will now take this advice of mine and rest assured that no amendment that has been placed in this bill prohibits the teaching of any other economic systems.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman for his sound advice. I would now like to interrogate him.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Allegheny still has the floor.

Mr. GELTZ. I will be glad to yield the floor to the gentleman from Westmoreland and be interrogated by him.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Westmoreland, who desires to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Geltz. The gentleman from Westmoreland will proceed.

Mr. DENT. When I first objected to your amendment, Mr. Geltz, did you or did you not state to the Senate of Pennsylvania that the reason for the amendment was to deprive the teachers of this Commonwealth of the right to compare this government with any other government, specifically the communistic government of Russia.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, my recollection of the statement is that we did not want wording in this bill that would compel teachers, some of whom were too willing already to teach other forms of government such as communism and the Soviet system, and the amendment which was put in yesterday simply takes out of the bill the compulsion upon the teacher to teach other forms of government or other economic systems, but in no way prohibits the teacher or the school system from teaching those things.

Mr. DENT. I thank the gentleman very kindly. He, of course, has now restated his position and I believe he is sincere in so doing. I do not believe the newspaper article had anything to do with him changing his position from his original stand.

However, I am grateful and I know the members of the Senate are grateful to know, that Jim Geltz has not added himself to that group of persons in the United States who, because of war hysteria, are trying to place upon the American people restrictions that he himself knows are not compatible with our form of government.

I believe Mr. Geltz is sincere. I want to say to him now, as the bill now reads, any person can vote either yes or no because the rights contained in this bill, as he so ably points out, are contained in our present law and any teacher can teach specific subjects if the Superintendent of Public Instruction adds them to the curricula.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, the last statement of my colleague from Westmoreland county is again a distortion of the situation. If he is sincerely sorry for what has taken place, he should then take back all the things which he said, not against his good friend, Senator Geltz, but against the bill in its present condition, because he made certain representations here on the floor as to this bill bringing about a situation in this Commonwealth which would be similar to a totalitarian situation. Now he understands, if he did not understand before—and I think he did, that is not the situation and I think if he is really sincere he should take back his misrepresentation of what this bill actually does.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to say to the gentleman from Allegheny that I do not have to change my position because I have said from the very beginning that I am sure we should not put an iron curtain around the children of the State of Pennsylvania in our public schools. I stand upon that premise. I want to assure the gentleman I do not think he was being persuaded to change his original stand by any newspaper item. However, that is a matter for him to determine.

So far as my taking back anything, Mr. President, I am willing to let the reporter read what I said from the beginning of this debate. I am willing to stand upon the record we have made relative to this type of legislation and I am willing to have read into the record again the original remarks of the gentleman when he said the amendments were put in there to specifically deprive any teacher of the right to teach any system of government in our schools, other than the American system. The record stands. The records are here. We can find out. We need not stand here and smooth each other up by trying to be nice to each other, if there is not a certain amount of sincerity in what we say to each other.

I started out on the premise that I will not remain a member of the Senate of Pennsylvania and allow any type legislation to pass if its intent is to do what I called attention to in my original statement.

However, if the gentleman who put the amendment in says that is the intention of the bill, what other position can I take than to say, if it does not put an iron curtain around the children and around the teachers in Pennsylvania, I naturally would be for it, because it is only a flag-waving proposition anyway. The teachers in Pennsylvania can and are now teaching in the schools of Pennsylvania the value of our democracy.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I said yesterday and I repeat today that the bill, as it previously read and as it reads now, will permit the teaching and the comparisons of our form of government with others.

I take issue, however, with what I determine to be the apparent intention of the amendments which were submitted originally, removing from the bill the words "in comparison with economic systems in force under other forms of government." To me that had but one meaning, and that indicated there was apparently an effort to take away from the Superintendent of Public Instruction in preparing his curricula the right to make comparisons with other forms of government.

The bill, however, still contains the word "advantages" in two places, and, according to the dictionary, the word "advantage" means a condition of being in advance of or superior to, and I can not imagine how we can be in advance of or superior to anything unless we state what that thing is, unless we make comparisons.

Again I say I take issue with what I consider the intent of the original amendment, and I say it specifically in view of the preamble to this bill, the second "whereas" clause, "Whereas, education can be used either to perpetuate our American way of life or used adversely as in certain European countries to promote the wrong ideologies."

I say to you, Mr. President, if the sponsor of this bill, if the gentleman who prepared it, thought that we, members of the Legislature who are supposed to be intelligent, have to have called to our attention the fact that our way of life is different than that in certain European countries, then certainly there seems to be no reason for the introduction of an amendment which removed the same thing in Section I of the bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

(A voice vote having been taken the question was determined in the negative.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TARR. As I stated Monday in my few remarks pertaining to Senate Bill No. 534, I again want to reaffirm not only my position as a Senator but as a teacher, and at the same time express the views of all teachers of Pennsylvania, that we regard such legislation as an insult to the teaching profession.

As you well know, the teachers are not being paid any too well and we are uncertain as to what our prospects are going to be. We also know there are thousands of schools in Pennsylvania where, for the past eight years, children have never once had the experience of attending school under a qualified teacher. There are thousands of vacancies filled by substitutes. Under these circumstances why does this body add insult to injury by telling the teaching profession that they are so poor and weak that they may not know what to teach and therefore, we, in the Senate, must tell them what and how they must teach?

I am confident it was not the intent of the writers of the Constitution that the General Assembly should prescribe in great detail what should be taught, nor when. It was the duty of the General Assembly to provide funds and to provide for proper organized bodies to outline what should be taught in the schools. We, of the General Assembly, have created the Department of Public Instruction. We have created the State Council of Education. We have created local boards of education and, in turn, they have employed professional people to answer these questions. It is not the job of the General Assembly to tell the teachers of Pennsylvania in great detail what and when to teach the various subjects.

I am equally confident that the teaching profession is just as loyal to our American form of government and to American democracy as any other body. They are just as loyal as the members of the General Assembly.

I see great harm in the passage of such legislation which, after all, is perfectly meaningless unless funds are made available to the Department of Public Instruction to carry out a thorough revision of the curriculum.

I wonder whether the members of this body are aware of the fact that in Pennsylvania we have but one person in the Department of Public Instruction supervising all of the elementary schools. I wonder whether we are aware of the fact that all of the county superintendents of schools are secondary schoolmen, as well as practically all of the assistant county superintendents. I believe the time has come when we should seriously undertake this task of providing the schools with the wherewithal to really do a good job. We should start in the Department of Public Instruction.

I would have been happy to have been the co-author of Senate Bill No. 440 introduced by the Senator from Somerset. The legislation in this bill is the kind of legislation that talks—that does something—that really makes it possible for the Department of Public Instruction to do a good job.

You Senators are probably all aware of the very splendid work which is being done in the Department of Public Instruction at the present time in the elementary curriculum review which is taking place. This is but a beginning—and this program can not go on without funds.

Such bills as Senate Bill No. 534 merely aggravate the situation. That is also true of House Bill No. 285, which we recently considered here, and which would require the teaching of certain kinds of "fire fighting."

It would be interesting to note, in a review of present school legislation, how much history must be taught and when, how much alcohol education must be taught, as well as humane and conservation education, to note that no cruel experiment may be performed on animals, and lots of similar legislation. This type of legislation only reflects the expressions of special interest groups and does not work to the best interests of all the boys and girls within the Commonwealth.

Let us tackle this job of education seriously. Let us vote against Senate Bill No. 534 and let this body bring out Senate Bill No. 440 and really tackle this job of curriculum rebuilding. Let us provide the funds and hold the Department of Public Instruction responsible for doing a good job. It is worthy of a trial.

So that I might not be accused, after the session is over, after we leave the floor, of waving the flag or being a red-baiter, I am saying that I am voting "no" on this bill and I am voting no on this bill because I believe this type of legislation only muddles the waters and prevents the very efficient Department of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania from doing the job which is needed, the job which must be done, lest Pennsylvania schools fall to a scale which is much lower than that of any of our surrounding states. Defeat this bill. Let us put on the statute books of Pennsylvania Senate Bill 440 introduced by the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Hare, and make a real constructive study of the curricula in the schools of the Commonwealth. Give the Department of Public Instruction funds and you will not have to worry about whether anything is taught in our public schools other than good common Americanism.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, when Hitler came into power in Germany, his first act was to destroy the free labor movement of Germany. This, he said, was being done to protect the workers from Communism and labor leaders.

Hitler's next step was to deny the right to teach in the schools any other ideology but that espoused by the Nazi Party.

In every speech Hitler made he emphasized the necessity of indoctrinating German youth with the love of the Fuehrer, and the Nazi Party that the Fuehrer represented. Hitler forbade the comparison of the Nazi System to the Capitalistic System as taught in other countries.

Gentlemen, I often wonder if we are not following the same footsteps of Hitler in America. Bills have been introduced in Washington, and in Harrisburg—First: to destroy the free American labor movement; and secondly: to destroy our public school system by using indoctrination instead of the American system of education.

We forget that our American school system has survived hysteria many times in the past. Innocent people were put in jail, and yes, many killed, fighting for the same kind of freedom that we fought two wars to preserve. These people were killed in America by Americans, who had the power and the money—yes, I mean political power, to impose upon the people, the wrong interpretation of what America really is.

We were able in 1932 to survive the collapse of an economic system that was forced on the American people by certain industrialists through the control of legislation bodies. These greedy and grasping industrialists, and there were only a few, were reaping all the profit. Labor, the ultimate consumer and the barometer of prosperity, was unable with the wages it received for its work, to buy back the very products it manufactured.

In 1932, the farmers in the Middle West were attending sheriff sales with pitchforks and guns. The sheriff would start each sale by stating that he was forced to do it by law and then would sell back to the friends of the farmer his live stock, machinery, household equipment, for a ten dollar bill.

Unemployed in the cities were sleeping on benches, under bridges, standing in the soup lines. Entire families were evicted to the sidewalk.

Veterans of World War I were selling apples on the corner. Veterans marched to Washington for a much needed bonus. Can you picture a member of this General Assembly standing before the hungry mob of 1932, telling them our economic system, at that time, was the greatest in the world?

A country is great when their people are working at decent wages; when the fear of unemployment is not in the minds of the people; when the people know they will be able to supply medical attention to their sick babies; when a husband knows that he can give maternity care to his wife at childbirth; when the families of low income brackets shall not be living in filth and squalor in slums.

I think we should consider the rise of economic ideologies foreign to the capitalistic system, and the causes for their existence.

When Hitler came into being, the economic system of Germany had reached a status-quo; it could not go any lower. Hitler promised them food, and the people followed him. Mussolini came into being the same way. In Russia, they would never had been a Lenin or a Stalin if the Russian people had not revolted for food. Caloused rulers had forgotten that people too, were human, and must be treated as human beings, and not as mere slaves, deprived of inalienable rights.

Destroying labor unions, adopting the Nazi System of education, or the Fascist or the Communists' System of replacing education with propaganda, is not the solution to making America strong. The solution is making the profit system under which we live work.

This Senate should have been deliberating since the first day it was called to order on ways and means to control profiteering. Manufacturer's of children's foods have increased their profits 245 percent in 1946 over 1945, and in the first quarter of 1945, have doubled their profits that they made in 1946.

If America is to survive as a capitalistic nation, we must see that profit is not a one-way street, but that everyone working in our system must have their share of profits.

Propaganda is being spread that labor's high wages are responsible for high prices, and at the same time, every financial sheet and newspaper in America is pointing to profits after taxes as the highest in the history of America.

Gentlemen, can't you see that this is what causes the seed of Communism, Fascism, Nazism, to be planted and to grow?

You can not stand before a group of returned veterans, who do not have a home to live in—a family divided—wife lives with her people, and he with his; with their children divided between two homes, and enthrone him with a system. Yes, a system he fought and bled for. Try living on the average pay of a worker with five children, at $48.25 per week, with the price of living as it is.

We are going after the problem in the wrong way. The only thing wrong with our schools is that we expect the teachers to teach a profit system that they personally do not enjoy.

Instead of showing a profit on the money they receive for their services, they have shown a loss ever since they came into the teacher's profession. They have been loyal to America.

I do not know of any teacher in the Pittsburgh public schools today who has taught, either directly or by innuendo, that American Democracy and the American way of life is not superior to any other system existing in any other country in the world. Education is the responsibility of our teachers. I have confidence in them, I trust them, let us quit minding their business of teaching, and mind our business that they be given a decent salary.

Let us mind our business of supplying houses for the returned veteran. Let us mind our business and stop profiteering on the food that the people must buy to exist. Let us mind our business and believe the good American who owns a home from the excessive real estate tax he pays, while we exempt the utility.

Let us mind our business and clean up our political system of the padded payrolls, and of the many who are on the payrolls, merely because they control a few votes, and never do a day's work. Let us mind our business by exposing to the public gaze the invisible government by lobbyists. Let us mind our business by taking care of the mentally ill.

Let us mind our business by first putting our own house in order by driving out of our system grafter, the corrupt politician who uses public office to amass a fortune. Corrupt political parties are responsible for the destroying of any country. If we put our own house in order we need have no fear of comparing American Democracy with any government existing in the world.

Communism will never destroy America, nor Fascism, nor Nazism, but greedy politicians will. If evils exist, we must cure the source of those evils.

You are not going to do it by passing laws to destroy the free American labor system. You are not going to do it by destroying the free public school of America. Certain partisan politicians are trying to do just that in America today.

It is too bad we can not have a law to make every public officer study history, and learn by the mistakes of history, instead of repeating the mistakes as we are doing in this session of the legislature.

The majority party in Pennsylvania is responsible for the longest "do-nothing" session of the legislature in many years. The citizen can honestly say "where, and when do we go from here."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise on a parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like a ruling from the Chair, as I understand this bill is not properly before us. My reason for that is that in the previous printer's number, namely, printer's No. 315, there appears certain strikeouts; I also say, Mr. President, that when this bill goes over to the House they will not be fully informed of what action has been taken on the floor of the Senate from the time this bill was introduced up until now.

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair advises the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, that under the rules of the Senate his point is not well taken.

And the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire simply to call the attention of the sponsors of this bill to section 21, and suggest to them that under this section it would be practically impossible to float an issue of bonds, and that if this bill is offered in good faith some changes should be made in that section. If the bill is simply a gesture, not destined to get anywhere and not offered with the idea that it will go across, no correction would need be made, but I again suggest for their consideration that an enterprise that must be compulsorily liquidated at the end of a certain period, and perhaps liquidated in a down market, would not be a project upon which you could sell bonds.

Under Section 21, when the Governor decides that there is no longer housing emergency, you liquidate the project started under this act, as I read it. It is a temporary housing bill. If permanent houses were built you would issue bonds, but I do not see how under the terms of this act you could float a dollars worth of bonds.

Mr. FISH. Mr. Speaker, it is the thought and the intention of this bill to provide temporary housing for veterans. I agree with the gentleman from Cambria with reference to bonds to be sold, in such a period of time, with the expiration date depending on when the Governor would declare the emergency over. What we are particularly interested in is to find more temporary housing, such as, we might say barracks, and things like, that could be converted, and it might not be necessary to go into the sale of bonds.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 750, entitled:

An Act appropriating certain accumulations in the Fire Insurance Tax Fund to cities townships and boroughs for payment to firemen's relief pension and retirement funds

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SORG offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 8, by inserting after the word "law" the following: Provided, That before any such payments are made, the Secretary of Revenue, with the approval of the Auditor General, shall determine and adjust all inequalities in payments heretofore made, resulting from charging to and withholding from any payment made to any city, township or borough, of any deficits for any preceding year or years, where the amount so withheld had not actually been received by the city, township or borough during such preceding year. All amounts so determined shall first be paid to the cities, townships and borough found to be entitled thereto, and the balance of said undistributed surplus only shall be paid as hereinbefore provided.

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 889, entitled:

An Act to add section one thousand three hundred one point two to the act, approved the fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 519), entitled "An act concerning boroughs, and revising, amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs," providing for amusement tax for general revenue purposes and providing penalties.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I regret that my microphone does not work and I cannot get the speaker's attention. I should like to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, a very good lawyer on House Bill No. 889, Printer's No. 428.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I am unable to understand this bill. On line 12, page 2, the line reads as follows: "The tax may be imposed on the place or on the person or persons operating, furnishing, aiding or allowing any of the facilities, services or conveniences therefor....."

My understanding, Mr. Speaker, would be that if I am a repairman and I have in my possession one of the machines repairing it, I could be taxed. I want to know if I am correct in that determination, whether I could be construed to be subject to the tax under this bill as it is now drawn?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman is correct. I would like to add also that I think that is bad.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman another question. On page 2, line 19, the lines read as follows: "The ordinance relating to the taxes herein authorized may provide or be changed so as to include any combination of the foregoing methods of taxing in order effect the purpose of this act."

Mr. Speaker, as I understand that language, this bill could tax the owner, could tax the person claiming the machine, could tax the person entering the place, could tax the mechanic who was repairing the machine. Am I right in that interpretation?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is right in that interpretation.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker I yield to the gentleman from Elk, Mr. SORG.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, apparently neither one of us likes this bill.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Boroughs.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 980, entitled:

An Act to further amend section six hundred three and amend section six hundred twenty-two of the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 789), entitled as amended "An act relating to insurance; establishing an insurance department; and amending, revising, and consolidating the law relating to the licensing, qualification, regulation, examination, suspension, and dissolution of insurance companies, Lloyds associations, reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges, and certain societies and orders, the examination and regulation of fire insurance rating bureaus, and the licensing and regulation of insurance agents and brokers; the service of legal process upon foreign insurance companies, associations or exchanges; providing penalties, and repealing existing laws," further regulating the licensing of insurance agents and brokers.

The first section was read,

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, may I have the privilege of interrogating the sponsor of House Bill 980 in order to clarify in my own mind when I take up this subject?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STIMMEL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Under the terms of this act, Mr. Speaker, would religious groups such as Diocesan groups which now write their own insurance, be prohibited from doing so?

Mr. STIMMEL. They would not, Mr. Speaker, as this bill applies only to vendors of personal property and does not affect real property.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that the sponsor of this particular bill has been sensitive lest its features be marred by bewildering voices or blundering hands from this side of the House, there has risen some misapprehension among the Members of the minority group regarding the merits of this bill.

I think it is fitting that some consideration be given to the historic background of this measure. The question of equal rights for women and equal pay for women has been kicking around for quite a good many years. Bills embodying those principles were formulated by various labor groups, the CIO and AF of L. At the 1945 Session of the General Assembly equal pay for equal work was embodied in House Bill 356, sponsored by Messrs. Leonard and Baker. The same principle was embodied in House Bill 836, sponsored by Messrs. Moran and Brice, and the same principles, almost the identical bill as the bill now before us, was embodied in Senate Bill 512 sponsored by Senator Holland. A House bill which embodied the features, not all of the features, but almost all of the features, contained in the bill sponsored by the lady from Mercer, was pending in a House Committee in the 1945 Session, and on a vote to discharge the committee from consideration of that bill, the vote was 90 to discharge and 104 not to discharge.

Mr. Speaker, I greatly regret that at that time the lady from Mercer did not come to our rescue with flying banners because I am quite certain had she done so the measure to which she is now so devoted, would have appeared upon the House calendar and it would now have been effective. I congratulate her and the Members of the House upon the fact that the cornerstone which they rejected in the 1945 Session has now become one of the main pillars of the building, and I assure the lady that even though she was unable to assist us in the 1945 session, if she needs a few votes, which she does not, we will gladly supply them. I do want to say, Mr. Speaker, that I probably know as much about this measure as she does, because in a very essential sense we helped to "born" it.

Mrs. DYE. Mr. Speaker, I wish to thank the gentleman from Cambria for his kind remarks and his cooperation.

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BANE. Mr. Speaker, I should like to briefly discuss with you this particular measure and express a few of my views, concerning the ultimate effect of this particular measure.

This is an act designed to prevent strikes among public employes. There is nothing in it that says anything about teachers except on page 4, where it says that if they have committed the crime of perpetrating a strike they shall thereafter serve without tenure.

This bill so far as I can see, presents a problem designed to prevent strikes among public employes. The way I analyze its effect is that we find—and I say this with a certain measure of restraint—that to my knowledge there have been very few, if any strikes, among the employes of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I know very few strikes, if any, which have been perpetrated by the employes of any municipality. The fireman and the policemen to my knowledge have perpetrated no such strikes. Therefore we must reach very definitely the conclusion that the purpose and the intent of House Bill No. 826, is that it is designed to build a fence around the teachers.

There are several things about this particular bill that I do not like. In the first place it says "any strike" and that means a group striking but it goes on further and brings in the question of strike by an individual. That proposition to me is rather absurd and ridiculous at the out-set, but that is the effect of this particular act. If any individual, particularly a teacher, raises any issue concerning the question of salaries, under the provisions of this act he or she might be deemed to be on strike and will be dismissed and then we find that certain measures in that particular act become effective, I have read in the paper or I have heard it discussed in the House that none of these labor bills which will pass this particular session shall be punitive in their effect. I say that House Bill 826 is not only punitive in its effect but it is vindictive. The reasons for that are the penalties imposed upon any particular individuals, who have been found guilty by the board of the municipality or the Commonwealth or pleading guilty of being on strike. The question of what punishment shall be imposed upon those individuals if they have been on strike or have performed this particular act, it says that he shall first be dismissed and immediately after his dismissal, and he has been properly punished by no pay, immediately after if he comes and crawls back and wants to be re-employed—here is where you perpetrate an injustice, he finds that he gets no increase in salary even though the current salary is greater than that which he received before his dismissal from employment because of having been found guilty of being on strike for which he was dismissed.

It goes further than that. It says that for two years after his re-employment he shall not receive any increase in salary.

Then we come to the third provision, that he shall thereafter be on probation for a period of five years. If a teacher has been found guilty of the crime of having perpetrated a strike, that teacher for five years is on probation without the benefit of tenure and possibly without the benefit of any increase in salary or any of the other privileges now guaranteed by our existing laws. The things that a particular individual can perform if found guilty under the provisions of this act are so numerous that it is almost impossible for me to enumerate them.

Mr. Speaker, let us take the situation where you have the principal of a school who is arrogant in his attitude towards the teachers and imposes unjust penalties upon the teachers. Under the provisions of this bill those teachers are without recourse in any manner whatever. If they talk back to him in the heat of anger and they say, "I quit," if in the heat of anger they object to the impositions which he has imposed on them, under this bill he can very properly refer the matter to the board and the teacher might find himself or herself out of a job.

Then we come to the situation where the teacher has no right of appeal. The act says that she may within ten days file and appeal or file a petition for a hearing before the same body that has decided the fact that she was guilty of a particular crime. Under our form of government, our ideas of justice certainly are not based upon the proposition of forcing an individual back before the same party that has found him guilty of a particular offense, to have them determine whether or not the teacher was guilty of that particular offense at the time of the hearing on the petition.

Mr. Speaker, we have the situation here of a strike by one employee. As I said before, that situation seems to me to be an absurdity and ridiculous in its nature. Employees who have devoted—we've heard many discussions on the floor of this House otherwise—that every individual has a duty to devote a certain portion of his time to public service, but let us assume that the individual has devoted a certain portion of his time to public service. He becomes an employee and he devotes his life to it, and if the provisions of this act go into effect, you are going to chain these employees to their desks or to their jobs, just as literally as any galley slave was bound to the ship on which he was working.

For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I submit to you that House Bill 826 is not only a punitive measure but vindictive in nature and that we ought not to pass it.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the question on my mind is whether House Bill 826 could even be called a labor measure. I should like to read just a few excerpts from the New York Times at the time a similar measure was before the Legislature of that state for consideration:

"Some people opposed this public strike law because by some process of reasoning they thought it was an opening wedge to injure the freedom of the members of unions generally to strike. Nothing could be more mistaken.

"There is no parallel whatsoever between the rights of employees in private industry and those who work for government. The very right of private employees to strike depends upon the protection of government. The right to work depends on the protection of government. Every freedom we cherish, every liberty we enjoy in this nation, exists solely because it is guaranteed by the Constitution and protected day and night by government which functions without interruption. The paralysis of any portion of government could quickly lead to the paralysis of all government and then of all society. That is anarchy and in anarchy liberty is futile and a useless thing."

Mr. Speaker, this bill is not punitive, it is not repressive. It is in the interest of the public because all that stands between order and disorder is the continuance of that basic freedom by those who have the responsibility to keep order.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, very briefly I desire to call the attention of the House to the fact that under this bill, under existing legislation and under existing court action there is no practical way by means of which municipal workers, and I mean street workers, men on the street, and other manual employees may form bargaining units. There is no machinery now in existence by means of which the proper grievances of public employees can be resolved.

Under the existing set-up, as I understand, all public employees must secure recognition as individuals. At least that is the ruling in various third class cities, that the council cannot recognize a union of the municipal employees. The Majority Leader does not say, and the bill fails in recognizing the differences between essential public employees and public employees who are just a convenience. It is a wholly fallacious notion that everybody on the pay roll is essential to the maintenance of government. Good gracious, twenty-five per cent of the people on the pay roll of Pennsylvania could be dispensed with over night and they would never be missed.

There are thousands of municipal employes, craftsmen, plumbers, electricians, road workers, all of that kind of people who have no means of redress and no machinery to which they can appeal under this act or under existing legislation. So the gentleman from Fayette is entirely right, in order to strike at the teachers, they strike at every other employee group employed by the county, by the municipality, and by the Commonwealth. It is a very bad measure.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the gentlemen approaches the matter upon an entirely different theory than I do. When an employee is put on the public pay-roll there should be a good reason why he is put there. He should perform some essential function for the public welfare or he has no right to be there.

Mr. Speaker, I think it is unfair to say that this bill is directed solely against the teachers. We think it is essential that firemen, policemen or hospital attendants, that many who perform functions, whether they be for institutions or districts, those who take away garbage in the municipalities, those who keep the streets clean, yes, they are performing essential functions in the interest of the public health and we think there should be no discrimination among public employees as to the degree of essentiality.

Mr. BANE. Mr. Speaker, I do not desire to prolong this debate. Mr. Sorg said this is not a labor measure. I do not agree with him. We have a situation here where we have public employees who at the present time have no means of mediation of their particular problems or dissatisfactions they may have in their employment resulting in a demand for increased pay, or any of the other problems concerning them. This bill has absolutely no means or provisions contained in it whereby any dissenting teacher, or any group of dissenting teachers or any other dissenting groups might object or raise any question on the problems which they have before them, without subjecting themselves to the possibility of being found guilty as an individual of perpetrating a strike.

Mr. Speaker, I say this measure is vindictive not merely punitive. I submit to you Members that any act which imposes on an employee the punishment provided by this particular bill, if you do not call it vindictive, then I will withdraw my whole position on this bill. Any bill that says that a man who is re-employed, who perhaps in the heat of anger said "I quit," and goes back and finds himself in the position where he has no rights, that he cannot possibly get during three years any earnings in excess of what he had previously earned, and under the provisions of this act he shall be on probation for a period of five years, certainly without tenure and at the pleasure of the appointing power, if that is not vindictive, I submit to you that I have never read a bill in this House or any where else which is vindictive. I do not know of any measure which is as stringent in its penalties as this particular act.

Mr. SORG. I feel, Mr. Speaker, that the very complaint which the gentleman makes is in extenuation of the measure. When the man says "I quit," what need is there to provide a procedure for him to come back? There isn't any thing vindictive about it. I should like to state, as stated in the New York Times on this decision between employees in the one sense of the word and public employees on the other hand.

"Now, it has always been clear, and now it is clearer, that none of us who enters the public service—and we all do it voluntarily of our own free will—has any right to interrupt the public service. Our government is not an end in itself. It exists to serve all the people. It belongs to all of us. We cannot strike against ourselves."

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Wayne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman have any idea of the amount of people that this bill affects in the State of Pennsylvania, the number?

Mr. SORG. No, Mr. Speaker, I don't know what that figure would be.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman enlighten this House on how many of the States in these United States of ours have such a measure as this?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I haven't that figure.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman say that this particular bill is identical with the bill in New York that the gentleman quoted in the newspaper?

Mr. SORG. I would say it is similar, exactly the same thing in principal, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. That will be all.

Mr. Speaker, in the debate yesterday the gentleman from Elk Mr. Sorg asked me in regard to the right of people striking in the different states. I would say that after we passed this bill in Pennsylvania I will be able to say honestly that a very large percentage of the population of Pennsylvania will be prohibited from striking.

I am not only interested in the school teachers. Mr. Andrews told you there are numerous men who are working in the State of Pennsylvania, in government, who, as he stated, are not so essential that they should not have the right to strike, and I certainly oppose any measure that refuses the masses, the people of Pennsylvania, the right of their own protection, and I ask you to vote down this measure.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, the term "public employe" as defined under this act, among other things says "employes and persons holding positions under any authority." It is my understanding that particularly the largest authority that we have in the State of Pennsylvania would be the Federal Housing Authority created pursuant to an act of the General Assembly. I would like to ask the gentleman whether in his opinion employes of those housing authorities would come within the jurisdiction of this act.

Mr. Sorg. In my opinion, Mr. Speaker, they would.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know that in 1937 the Attorney General of this Commonwealth ruled that the directors of these authorities were quasi federal officials, and by the State rulings they would be quasi federal employes. Does the gentleman feel that this act will embrace quasi federal employes if they were so determined in accordance with the ruling of the Attorney General?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that this act would apply to any federal authority.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman feel that this act will apply to those employes and to quasi federal employes, those employes who are working on projects that were subsidized in whole or in part from federal funds?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, if they were subsidized in part by state funds, I feel that they would come under this provision.

Mr. BROWN. May I ask the gentleman another question? Under the provisions of this act a teacher who would be reinstated would serve without tenure which is the only penalty placed, with the exception that the teacher would not secure any increments for the period of five years, is that a correct interpretation?

Mr. SORG. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that it would be constitutionally accurate for this General Assembly to pass such a law that would allow a teacher to teach the same subject, the same number of pupils, under the same conditions and be payed a salary different from the salary paid to the regular teacher or in some cases the substitute teacher? Does he feel that such a law would be constitutional?

Mr. SORG. I do, Mr. Speaker, just as I feel that a law is constitutional for one school district to pay salaries different from another.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I am speaking about the teacher in the same school district. I am quite familiar with the fact that different districts, because of classification of the district, have different classifications, but can we classify teachers in the same schools in the same district teaching the same subject matter under the same conditions. That is the question.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I think we have many cases in the state of Pennsylvania in the same school district where a teacher who serves two years more will receive somewhat more, although he or she might be teaching the same subject to the same number of pupils, etc.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman familiar with the famous Melvin case which was before the Supreme Court for a period of three and one-half years?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will state the subject matter of the case I should be glad to answer his question.

Mr. BROWN. Briefly the subject matter concerned a teacher who was moved to a certain school district in the city of Pittsburgh, he taught certain subjects and was not given the pay which was given the other teachers in that same school teaching the same subject matter and the same number of pupils.

Mr. SORG. What was the result of the case, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. BROWN. The result of the case was that the Superior Court upheld the teacher, which was affirmed by the Supreme Court and on reargument the Supreme Court reversed its decision, not on the question of equality of pay but on another question which was involved.

Mr. SORG. I don't know the answer, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Probably the gentleman doesn't know, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. SORG. No, I do not, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Chudoff, Petrosky and Bucchin.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. READINGER filed the following reasons for his vote:

I am voting "No" on House Bill No. 826, Printer's No. 587 for the reason that the penalties imposed against a striking worker by the bill are excessive and improper.

I am opposed to a strike against the government by any public employee, and if the bill simply forbade such striking, I would vote for it, but in the light of the penalties provided in this bill, I cannot vote for it.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 952, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (P. L. 1937 page 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exception) selected on a civil

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, yesterday Mr. Cole related some of his bitter experiences when no labor laws existed in the state of Pennsylvania. I too could relate many such experiences when I lived in my native county of Armstrong, and also witnessed such experiences in other counties such as Indiana, Jefferson, Washington and Greene. I am not going to take the time to relate these experiences because I feel you are all acquainted with them. However, labor by bitter past experience is distrustful of management. And management cannot come into court with clean hands. The strike is labor's one weapon of defense. To deprive labor of its weapon, either directly or indirectly, for example, by denying unemployment compensation benefits, without providing adequate protection against unscrupulous, unjust and unfair tactics of management, which I have known in the past, would subject labor to slavery.

I am going to read to you part of an article which was written in the Reader's Digest in the May issue entitled "The Right To Strike," authored by Stewart Chase. This article by the way was written as proof of the fact that peace between labor and management can be achieved and that strikes can be prevented. On page 108 of that article:

"An excellent recipe for stopping strikes is steady employment. When the worker feels secure in his job he finds it hard to hate the company. If something could be done in order to help secure and maintain employment at a reasonable level, a great step forward in labor relations will have been taken.

"But even more fundamental is the attitude of managers toward the men. The master-servant relationship is out the window. Only a fraternal attitude, where nobody looks up and nobody looks down, where men and managers will look horizontally across the table at one another, can be depended on in this democracy."

You cannot establish industrial peace by legislation designed to punish, or restrain, and for that reason we are against this bill because of the strike clause contained therein.

Mr. MAZZA. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to House Bill 952 and to oppose and vote against this anti-labor legislation because I feel it is unfair and unjust to men who work in the mines and the mills to be without the protection of unemployment compensation. I honestly feel that all we are doing is putting the burden on the State, and I want to say at this time that the membership of the American Federation of Labor, the CIO and United Mine Workers oppose this bill.

The principal objective sought by the sponsors of this legislation is to deny to the individuals involved in industrial disputes unemployment compensation benefits for the period covering the dispute. The law in its present form denies compensation to workers involved in industrial disputes for a penalty period of four weeks, after which such worker may receive unemployment compensation benefits. The present provisions of the act have been in existence since the act was originally adopted in 1937.

A further objective is to strike out section 402 (b) of the present law which provides

"Providing that no employee shall be deemed to be ineligible under this section where as a condition of continuing in employment such employee would be required to join or remain a member of a company union or to resign from or refrain from joining any bona fide labor organization or to accept wages hours or conditions of employment not desired by a majority of the employees in the establishment or the occupation or would be denied the right of collective bargaining under generally prevailing conditions."

This means that the present law which affords protection to persons holding membership in unions would be eliminated, and if this amendment were adopted, all workers in the future would be required to accept any type of job to which they were referred by the employment service, even though it meant that they would be expelled from their union.

We should like to draw your attention to the strategy adopted by the sponsor of this bill wherein he proposes to add four weeks of additional benefits which means an increase from 20 to 24 weeks of benefits in a given year, which is designed for the express purpose of making it rather difficult for any one to oppose the bill. In other words, they offer an additional four weeks of benefits, which will affect probably less than one out of every thousand workers in Pennsylvania in the course of a year, but the price of which is the elimination of benefits in industrial disputes even after the four week penalty period—and more important than all, the elimination of the protective provisions of Section 402 (b) which is presently in every other Unemployment Compensation Act in the United States, to the best of our knowledge.

We should also like to call your attention to the fact that both major political parties inserted among their labor planks in the last campaign a provision for the liberalization of the Unemployment Compensation Act. Surely no one of sound mind will be deluded by this particular bill in believing that there is a phase of liberalization in this measure. To say we are disappointed is expressing it rather mildly.

In view of the viciousness of this measure, as well as the unethical strategy that was used, may we call upon you to join with us in our fight to defeat this most vicious anti-labor measure, House Bill 952.

Now, Members of the House, the least we can do is to sit down and analyze why we have strikes. I know because I come from a working district. When a working man takes home his pay, and he does not have enough money to pay his bills, you are going to have a dissatisfied worker. During the war, labor was only granted a fifteen per cent increase under the War Labor Board. Sure, the employers were all grateful, they wanted to grant an increase and they said, "We would like to give you an increase but the War Labor Board won't grant it."

I want to say at this time that during the war the take-home pay of men was greater than it is now. The reason for that was that the working man was working six days a week or seven days a week for which he received double time and worked double shift, and for which his take-home pay was greater during the war than it ever was. But what happened after the war and what caused the strikes? For this reason, you eliminated double time and time and a half and the overtime for the working man which automatically cut his pay in half.

If the members of the General Assembly can tell me how the working man can meet this high cost of living I want to know.

Mr. GOFF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to quote from a letter which I received this morning from William H. Clapie, Chairman of the the Telephone Employees' Emergency Council of Beaver County, regarding the adverse decision of the Unemployment Compensation Board in Harrisburg. The letter reads as follows:

"The telephone employees here in Beaver County, numbering 258 have filed claims for unemployment compensation from April 7 to April 21 inclusive due to the fact that their places of work was picketed by members of the National Federation of Telephone Workers. We in Pennsylvania, employees of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, do not belong to this National Federation. We were not on strike during that period and this fact was admitted by the Company in the press and their paid advertisements. The National Federation struck and placed a line of pickets at both the exchanges here in Beaver County. To prevent any possibility of disturbances or violence, we all refused to cross those picket lines.

"There are three departments here which are involved in this unjust decision. The plant Department with 63 members of which 47 have so far filed claims. The Traffic Department with 204 filing claims. The Commercial Department with 8 filing claims. None of these were involved in this dispute and were not striking. In fact, the Traffic Employees have a contract with the Company which does not expire until July 16th of this year. The Commercial contract has not as yet expired. Therefore they, both departments are above all entitled to this compensation.

"Many other places in the State, of Pennsylvania have also been thus affected by this decision and it is our belief that there must be some honest people in the State which will champion this cause to have justice rule. It is my personal opinion that this decision was rendered under pressure from less honest groups.

"I, as well as the other 258 employees here in Beaver County, will appreciate all that you can do in behalf of this claim and reestablishment of justice and honor in our own State of Pennsylvania.

"Thanking you in advance, I am".

Mr. Speaker, on the basis of this letter alone, I oppose this bill.

Mr. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker, in connection with House Bill 952, Printer's No. 620 and other related labor bills that are before us, I want to make it clear as far as my personal position is concerned that I am a friend of labor. I certainly would not allow myself to be committed to do anything of a punitive nature or out of a spirit of vindictiveness to take away the social gains and the economic advantages that labor has gained over the years. But I am conscious of the fact that there are other elements that must persuade our better judgment when we come to discuss the question of whether labor shall take precedence over government, whether it shall set itself up as a special or a collective unit that shall dominate the other social advantages and educational and economic advantages and conditions that are also the benefits of the whole people.

I believe very sincerely that labor has its rights within the sphere of not abusing the rights of other, and when we come to analyze the proposition of labor seeking to better its social advantages to promote its best economic interests all of us must be in common agreement, because that is their inherent right, that is their privilege, that is their prerogative in the social body in which we live. And they are responsible also for these privileges and these opportunities and these benefits. We cannot condone that one section or one segment of our society shall have preferred rights over society as a whole. We must live in common purpose and common spirit and in common cooperation, and that is not to deny labor what it rightfully deserves. Until we have come to the point where both labor and capital have come to a common agreement of common opportunity and common responsibility we will still be in conflict, and we will not be released from these things that disturb our social peace and disrupt our economic production and that interfere with the happiness and well being of the greatest number of people that make up our common society.

I am of the opinion that much of the conflict that is raging today is assumed by labor because it does not appreciate what has been its gain socially and what has been its opportunity and gain economically, and until they meet on the ground of common cooperation with capital and recognize that the responsibility must be mutual on both sides we are going to have this conflict instead of the peace that we ought to have in our social and economic life.

Therefore today, making myself as clear as I possibly can, I am in favor of these bills because I think they go a long way to help us understand that continuance of conflict of opinion and the right to supersede our selfishness over the rights and privileges of the majority is at a point where the majority must take its stand if we expect to have tranquility and the domestic peace in our economic life.

Therefore I am in favor of this bill and will vote for its approval. Thank you very much.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there are occasions when it is necessary to save even labor from its friends. It has been a continuing cause of regret to me over the years that it was so frequently impossible under either Democratic administration or Republican administration to discuss measures of broad social import upon the basis of merit alone.

Under Democratic administration there were points upon which I was unable to agree with the opinions of administration leaders, and for that automatically they read me out of the party.

Well, gentlemen, most of them have disappeared from the scene and I am still here. In those days I made up my mind that as far as I was concerned and the time ever came when I had a voice of influence in the Democratic caucus we would in that caucus attempt to convince, but we would never attempt to coerce, and in so far as our policy has been represented upon this floor it is not the result of coercion upon the part of king-caucus ruling in Democratic circles.

Now, gentlemen, if you will consider history, the social gains that you are talking about for labor as implied in existing legislation, were mainly passed by the Earle administration, and opposed by the Republican contingent in the House and the Senate. If you will consider the legislation in which the days to come you will take most pride, you will find the germs of that legislation clearly stated in bills which you disregarded at the 1943 and 1945 sessions of the General Assembly and which were submitted by members of the minority group.

At this session your faults, gentlemen, have been mainly your own, and when the record is completed your virtues in the main will be ours. Now, the pendulum swings wherein we return to power as we will. We will continue all of the good legislation which you have passed at this session—and there will be good legislation,—if I wanted to take your time I could take bill after bill sponsored with great pride by Members of this House on the majority side that were ignored and couldn't even get a hearing in committee in 1945. Now you have great pride in them, and now they are the very jewels in your diadem.

This particular measure is entirely obnoxious to all of the ideals that various of your Members have so eloquently expressed. It is deficient mechanically and it is outrageous in some of its provisions. It carries a brief benefit, increases the period of unemployment compensation to twenty-four weeks.

I submit to you that unemployment is a social burden. It is a social burden that someone must bear. Unemployment is a drain upon purchasing power, it is a drain upon money that goes into the tills of the country merchants and of the city merchants, and when you deprive any material economic constituency in this Commonwealth of the ability to purchase, you are not only punishing the individual who is not able to purchase but you are punishing the tradesmen of this Commonwealth. One of the purposes of the unemployment fund is to keep liquid the economy of this State during periods of unemployment, and the burden of unemployment is exactly the same, whatever the merits of any dispute may be. I say if you want to punish a worker you will have to include in his punishment the tradespeople of this Commonwealth.

This bill is wrong because it does not clearly define what is a strike. The gentlemen on the other side of the House have cited to you a specific instance. I say that a bill that is to punish people who strike should at least define what a strike is, and protect to some length at least those who are the victims of unemployment involuntarily—involuntary unemployment that necessarily comes as a result of a strike in some industry.

There is nothing in this bill that establishes responsibility for a strike. You calmly presume that in every labor dispute the workers are one hundred per cent wrong and the management is one hundred per cent right. If you were going after this situation in a workman-like fashion you would at least have some type of tribunal that would establish responsibility for a strike. In this Commonwealth you want to punish strikes, to intervene with the State to punish strikes without any competent machinery—and I say competent machinery, and I emphasize that, for preventing strikes.

Now, in the name of ordinary justice if you are going to punish strikes and make the punishment mandatory, establish some kind of machinery for preventing strikes. As I pointed out, there is nothing in the bill that recognizes the excesses of management.

The motive back of this bill is simply this, substantial employers look forward to an inevitable recession in employment levels and price levels. Personally I believe they are right; that there will be a recession, there must be a recession in price levels, and that will bring a recession in employment levels. You enter therefore inevitably into a period of controversy during which if one by one you take away the established weapons that labor enjoys it will be compelled to seek employment at constantly lower levels, with the result that the economy that you now have and that we now take pride in will be undermined and your employer tending more and more in our time toward monopoly of protection will be able to go into the labor market and hire labor at constantly decreasing levels, and by this kind of legislation and other kinds of legislation chain the worker to his job.

Now, members of the House, if you wanted to be statesman-like you would take this measure and write into it the safeguards that I have briefly indicated. As it stands it is a menace to the business economy of the Commonwealth and a bill that every corner grocer ought to regard with horror.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, it is natural that there should be differences in our philosophy. We are two parties. I am glad, however, that the gentleman did not attack motives. We approached this problem not from the standpoint of labor, not from the standpoint of industry but from the standpoint of government, fair and equitable dealing in our economic circumstances, with the thought of returning to the original concept of the unemployment compensation law.

This is not a bill that is designed to punish strikers. It is a bill to preserve with the fund established for the purpose, the means of subsistence for the man who is involuntarily unemployed and there is a consciousness in the failure to use the word "strike." As in the case cited by the gentleman who previously spoke, it was the result not of an industrial dispute, but it was a voluntary suspension of work, and if the gentleman wanted to make a real point he might as well say that unemployment compensation was designed to punish sick people because there is nothing in any unemployment compensation law that I know of that compensates a man who is unemployed because he is sick.

I see no reason then why there should be unemployment compensation to the man who voluntarily suspends his work for less good reasons.

The original concept of the unemployment compensation law was to provide against the very recession that the gentleman refers to. If there is inequity and injustice he should be compensated for his involuntary suspension, and it does work two ways, Members of the House, it does work two ways, because the employer has an investment of six thousand dollars for each job that he provides and for every day that that investment stands idle he stands to lose more than the workers hoped to gain by the unemployment compensation benefits that would be provided even if the amendment of the gentleman from Washington had been accepted.

This bill is not punitive. We have approached the question from the standpoint of equity and justice in the law for the benefit of the public that is interested in continued protection so that having the ability to purchase there will be the things to purchase.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say that I am opposed to this bill. This bill that we now have before us deals a little bit with another bill that we are going to have in a few minutes which is known as Senate Bill 78.

My good friend from Washington County, is as one crying in the wilderness to his friends over here on this particular bill in stating that you increase unemployment compensation for a period of four weeks. Now, we do a lot of talking about our surrounding states, how we have to compete. In our surrounding states, some I know already pay benefits for twenty-six weeks, and they have paid benefits for twenty-six weeks for a number of years.

As the gentleman from Washington said, both parties agreed that we should liberalize unemployment compensation. We do liberalize four weeks compensation under this particular bill, and you take away the rights of the man who goes on strike after a waiting period of four weeks. So to me, my friends, you are not doing anything for the working people of Pennsylvania; you are not liberalizing the unemployment compensation.

Senate Bill 78, which is the merit rating bill—and I think we have a right to talk on it under the guise of putting the bills in order here, and one bill does affect the other; the reason why we are going to have this merit rating is because we do not want this fund to get too big. If it does we will be compelled to really liberalize it and come up to the payments of our neighboring states. This great liberal State of Pennsylvania! That is the reason why even big business that has workers that they have to lay off may not be benefited under merit rating, they still swallow it on the grounds that they know that if that fund does get so great, then you are compelled to liberalize it, and that is the reason why I got up on this particular bill, because it does deal with the other bills that we will vote upon a little later.

My friends, you should listen to your friend from Washington County and defeat this particular bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, on yesterday I gave my consent to this bill and I intend to vote for it to-day. On yesterday as you recall, the gentleman from Northampton, the sponsor of this bill, or one of the sponsors, was kind enough to insert an amendment in the bill. After that amendment had been inserted and the House had recessed I found in the Supreme Court reports, of the United States, a case which parallels this bill, and I submit this matter to the House with the hope that the bill will be corrected in the Senate.

I presume that this bill is being passed or presented under the police powers of the State to regulate organizations. It does not state so in the bill, but I presume that is the purpose. Otherwise there would be no legal foundation upon which such a bill could be sustained. This bill as it now written provides that "no personal association of persons shall operate or maintain a labor union unless and until there has first been filed with the Department of Labor and Industry a sworn statement in writing"; and so forth.

It therefore prevents a labor union from organizing, and I submit to this House that this is a matter I understand which the sponsors of the bill will change in the Senate, that that is not the intent of the sponsor, although it is written in the bill. The reason for that correction, I submit, Mr. Speaker, may be found in the Supreme Court Reports of 1945 in a case of Thomas vs. Collins, in which the State of Texas required labor unions to register before soliciting members. Thomas, a labor organizer, refused to register, he was haled into court, and secured a writ of habeas corpus. The courts of Texas upheld the contempt proceedings but the State Court was reversed by the United States Supreme Court. The United States Supreme Court held and I am not going to take the time of the House to read the opinion in full, but it is very vital to this matter which we are now discussing and I will just read enough of it to show that we are now treading on dangerous ground and we should at least be sure of our Constitutional rights. The court said in that case, and I quote:

"The controlling principle is stated in the case of De Joyne vs. Oregon, 299 U. S. 353, and the court held there that peaceable assembly for lawful discussion cannot be made the subject of a crime."

In this bill as it is now written, before an organization can get started it must first file certain sworn statements. It is my opinion that this case that I have cited in the United States Supreme Court reports, parallels the situation that we find in House Bill 1001, where I believe the sponsor intends to make the necessary corrections in the Senate.

Mr. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the passage of this bill and I do so primarily because no one organization in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that is organized on a non-profit and voluntary basis is included in this bill, with the exception of labor unions.

Mr. Speaker, I want to say at the outset for the benefit of the Members of the House that I am a member of organized labor, and for the past fifteen years, with the exception of several years when I was away I was an officer of a labor organization, and I make reference to the United Mine Workers of America.

Now, with respect to some of the provisions of this bill it would require a labor union when filing to set forth the objects of the organization. For what purpose, I don't know, and for whose benefit I don't know, certainly not for the benefit of the union members. All labor organizations function under a constitution, a constitution that is written, agreed to and approved by the membership of the union in convention. The constitution of a labor organization sets forth the objects of the organization, and for the benefit of the Members of the House I would like to just read very briefly some of the objects of the United Mine Workers of America, as they appear in the constitution.

Peculiar as it may seem, the first object deals with a situation that has given a great deal of concern to the Members of this House at the present time, and I quote: "To unite in one organization regardless of creed, color, or nationality." It may seem to some that this provision has been written in the last four or five weeks since we had a march on the capitol in Harrisburg by a large delegation of citizens asking the General Assembly to pass the Fair Employment Practice Laws. But the truth of the matter is that that provision as I read it for you appears in this constitution—first appearing in the year 1891, 56 years ago.

I would like for the benefit of the Members to read another provision: "To secure adequate old age pension, workmen's compensation and unemployment insurance laws." Those objectives were written into this constitution many years before there was a workmen's compensation law in the State of Pennsylvania, and many years before we had the unemployment compensation law in the State of Pennsylvania.

One of the other provisions of this act deals with officers' salaries. There is a very noble gesture, and I am entirely in favor of it. If every other non-profit, voluntary association in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is required to do likewise I would be very happy to exchange that kind of information with the Members of the House either privately or on the floor of the House. I would especially like to exchange that kind of information with some of the gentlemen who are non-Members of the House but who are here on every legislative day lobbying for special interests in this Commonwealth.

Another provision in this constitution deals with initiation fees and dues charged by labor unions. Contrary to the opinions of many, initiation fees and dues are not set by officers of labor unions. They are set by constitutional process by the members themselves, and the members know what they are paying because they set those figures.

Labor organizations are non profit voluntary associations. They are treated under the law the same as other non profit and voluntary associations such as churches, fraternal organizations, citizens groups and the many and varied non-profit associations that we have in this Commonwealth. To single out labor organizations in this bill and not mentioning any of the other groups is discrimination and lack of equal protection of laws under our constitution.

This bill is simply a device proposed by anti-union employers on the one hand by innuendo to accuse unions in general of dishonesty. Unions have nothing to hide from its members or from the public. They do not see the need for a bureaucratic set up to receive data that will require increased expenditures on the part of the tax payers and will require increased labor and waste of time and funds of their members.

Labor unions under their constitution and by laws provide effectively for the method of accounting to their members for funds collected and for their expenditure and you will find also that labor unions are willing to give to any legitimately interested persons information concerning their financial affairs. These unions have auditors elected by the members who go over their financial affairs and make a report to the various unions and to their conventions.

In the Mine Workers Union, of which I am a member, an itemized statement of receipts and expenditures is given to every local union twice a year by the National Union. This report is completely thorough down to telephone expenses and postage stamps. [A report is also given to the Treasury Department on Form 990, which form requires information concerning receipts and disbursements sufficient for any legitimate purpose that may be required by the Federal Government.]

Are the State Chamber of Commerce and the State Manufacturers Association, who desire this kind of Legislation, required to file these kind of financial reports? Are the Kiwanis Clubs, the Lions Clubs, the Rotary Clubs, the Moose Clubs, the Eagles Clubs, the Elks Clubs, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, of which I am a member, and the American Legion, of which I am a member and many other like organizations, required to file this kind of reports? Why are labor unions singled out for this kind of legislation and all other groups excluded?

This kind of restrictive and un-American legislation will not solve any of our industrial problems and can only affect a very serious weakening of the entire industrial structure in this Commonwealth. A strong and healthy trade union movement is indispensable to the welfare of the American workers and also to the health of our economy. When industry and finances in this Commonwealth call upon the legislative body to restrain labor and neutralize its strength, they are responsible for the first step to creating a corporate or absolute state. In the end, the activities of all citizens would be regulated and a regimentation of all groups would be necessary to a maximum degree. It will only be a matter of time until every group, farmers, laborers, small business, big business, fraternal organizations, and so forth, would all be regimented, for what can happen to one group will eventually happen to all groups.

Therefore, I am asking the members of this house to defeat this piece of legislation. The only way to industrial peace is through true and genuine collective bargaining by the employers and employees entered into in good faith by both parties concerned.

Mr. DAVID P. REESE IN THE CHAIR

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I agree that we may not be in agreement on legislation, and I reserve the right to disagree and you reserve the right to disagree on principles and issues, but for the life of me I cannot understand why you nice fellows over on that side of the House, whom I have a lot of respect for, will allow somebody, some one or two or somebody on that side of the House to have legislation like this introduced. What are you trying to do? Do you want to have all the laboring people of Pennsylvania mad at you? And for what reason do you want to get them mad? Do you think you are going to stop unions in Pennsylvania if you get them to file these accounts? No, you are not going to stop unions, you are going to have unions just the same. So I say, "let's be fair" with the Members over there that are in favor of doing the right thing by labor, and don't allow them to introduce legislation like this to put you fellows on the spot when the legislation doesn't mean anything.

I sympathize with any man over there that has to vote for this kind of legislation. The people of Pennsylvania were good to you during the last election. Now, do you want to make them all mad? To me I don't know why I get up here and plead for you, because if you fellows get these fellows mad enough they are all going to vote for the Democrats the next election. But I want to be fair with you fellows over there. I know there have been some of you who have not gone for that kind of thing. We haven't always agreed, I haven't always agreed on my side and you haven't always agreed on your side, but I say honestly to you I don't know why you fellows don't sit down and agree to give these fellows a break, and run along and dump this piece of legislation back into the hopper. It doesn't make any difference, everything will be the same; the State will go along just the same, so I ask you to defeat this bill.

Mr. RAGOT. Mr. Speaker, the emphasis of House Bill 1001 is for the information and protection of the workers. It requires the filing of a financial report with the Secretary of Labor and Industry by a labor union.

The union is a quasi-public institution and ought to report its activities. I believe that unions are under an obligation to give financial statements to their members. Such reporting to their membership and in many cases to the public is standard reporting now in many unions, and I can see no valid grounds for objection to the requirement.

This bill does not take away any of labors gains, it is solely informative. I urge every Member of the House to support House Bill 1001.

THE SPEAKER (Franklin H. Lichtenwalter) IN THE CHAIR

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, I too rise in protest against the passage of this bill. It may not look as though this is a bad bill on the surface. Labor unions in general do not fear the exposure of their expense accounts. In our local union we have our own auditors and we audit our books every three or six months. That report is made to the membership. In our various district offices we also have our board of auditors elected by the membership. They audit the books, and those reports are sent to the local unions. Our international auditors, elected by the organization members audit the international books even down to a postage stamp. Those reports are sent back home to the members, but for the life of me I cannot see why just labor unions are picked out for this legislation. To me that is the reason why I say this bill should be defeated, because it is unfair, it is unjust, and it is un-American.

The purpose of this bill, the main purpose behind this bill is to give to the employer the right to look over the financial condition of the labor union so that when it comes to a question of a collective bargaining contract he can figure to the day how many days they can afford to stay out of work and I hope for that reason alone, and to keep that weapon out of the hands of the employer that this bill be defeated.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Cole, Capano and Mills.

L. 1168) entitled "An act to protect the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively creating the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board officers of the State government and courts providing for the right of em-

* * * * *

(d) To picket or cause to be picketed a place of employment by a person or persons who is or are not an employee or employees of the place being picketed while a strike is in progress affecting the place of employment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BROWN. The hour is getting late; we have had a long session and we are all restless. However we are dealing as I said yesterday with one of the most fundamental liberties guaranteed to the people by a free government, and that is the right of free speech and the right of free assembly.

Whether the hour is late or whether we are hungry or restless it is our constitutional duty to raise our voices against any impingement on that right as long as there is life in our bodies. If we do not do that, those who impinge upon the freedom of others will some day impinge upon the freedom of ourselves.

I tell you, Mr. Speaker, that this bill is unconstitutional; it should not be passed and I would like to say briefly that I base my opinion upon the Supreme Court of this Commonwealth, and there I rest my case.

I shall not indulge in a long speech. We know the purpose of this bill. It makes it an unfair labor practice to picket a place where you are not an employee, and therefore you are subject to the penalty provided by law. Now, there are many kinds of duties to our constitutional government written in the fundamental law of the land that we call the land of the free and the home of the brave.

The opinions of the Supreme Court of the United States, the opinions of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, the opinions of the Supreme and Appellate Courts of other states are abundant with statements as to what we should do with these liberties and how we should guard them. There is one decision in the State of New York written by the Appellate Court there that to me is the basis of all that is in this bill. I would like to quote briefly from one paragraph in a case reported in 206 New York, page 455, and the language which I shall quote from in paragraph is this:

"The very nature of our free government forbids that a man should be compelled to refrain from acts which the law permits."

May I repeat that quotation: "The very nature of our free government forbids that a man should be compelled to refrain from acts which the law permits."

Does the law permit the act of picketing? I go to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in a case decided in 1946, the Westinghouse Electric Corporation vs. the United Electric Workers, reported lately in 353 Pa., page 446, wherein the court laid down this fundamental principle, and I quote from that decision:

"The right of picketing when free from coercion, intimidation and violence is a right constitutionally guaranteed as one of free speech".

There is nothing in this bill about any coercion; there is no allegation of any intimidation; there is no allegation of violence.
